Order of Making Files

29. When bills are reported from committee they shall be placed upon the General File, to be kept by the Secretary as follows: All bills when reported to the Senate by the committee shall be placed at the foot of the Second Reading Senate or Assembly File, in the order in which the reports are made, and after the second reading they shall be placed at the foot of the Senate or Assembly Third Reading File, in the order of reading. Unless otherwise ordered by the Senate the File shall be taken up in the following order: Senate Second Reading File, Assembly Second Reading File and Senate Third Reading File, Assembly Third Reading File. The bills upon third reading shall be considered in the order in which they appear upon the File, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

An inactive file shall be kept to which bills may be transferred at the request of the author, or on motion, and they shall be so transferred when they have been passed on third reading file without action three successive times. Bills may be carried on the inactive file by author and bill number without setting forth the title.

Bills may be transferred from the inactive file to the second reading file on motion, and after being read the second time such bills will take their place regularly on third reading file and be available for consideration and passage.

Notices of committee hearings shall be published in the File whenever presented by chairman of committees to the Secretary for that purpose. For such purpose bills will be identified by subject or by number.

Special Order

30. Any measure or subject may, by vote of a majority of those voting, be made a special order, and when the time fixed for its consideration arrives, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

Messages From the Governor or Assembly

31. Messages from the Governor or from the Assembly may be introduced at any stage of business except while a question is being put, while the ayes and noes are being called, or while a Senator is addressing the Senate.

Messages from the Governor or from the Assembly may be considered when indicated in the order of business or at any other time by unanimous consent or upon motion.

Engrossing Bills

32. All Senate bills, constitutional amendments and joint or concurrent resolution shall be engrossed before final action is taken on them in the Senate. Engrossment shall consist of comparing the printed engrossed bill with the original bill introduced and any amendments adopted to ascertain that it is correct. When a bill is reported correctly engrossed it shall be substituted on the file for the original bill.

Enrolling Bills

33. All Senate bills shall be enrolled immediately following their final passage and receipt from the Assembly. An enrolled copy of every such bill, amendment or resolution shall be printed and examined to ascertain that it is a true and accurate copy of the measure as it was passed. It shall then be authenticated by the signatures of the President or President pro Tempore of the Senate and the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary of the Senate and by the corresponding officers of the Assembly and transmitted without delay to the Governor.

DEBATEStatement of Motion

34. No motion shall be debated until the same be distinctly announced by the President; and it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the President or any Senator, and read by the Secretary, before the same shall be debated.

Regulations as to Speaking

35. 1. When a Senator desires to address the Senate, he shall rise in his place, address the President, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak through the public address system.
2. No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill, without leave; and Senators who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) so long as any Senator who has not spoken desires to speak.
3. When two or more Senators arise at the same time to address the Senate, the presiding officer shall designate the Senator who is entitled to the floor.
4. No Senator shall be interrupted when speaking, and no question shall be asked him except through the presiding officer.
5. The author of a bill, motion, or resolution shall have the privilege of closing the debate.

Order in Debate

36. When a Senator shall be called to order he shall sit down until the President shall have determined whether he is in order or not; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any Senator. If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the objectionable language shall immediately be taken down in writing by the Secretary of the Senate.

Right to Address the Senate

37. No person other than a Member of the Senate or the President thereof, shall address the Senate while it is in session but the Senate may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole and while sitting as such committee may be addressed by persons other than members.

Questions and Motions

Amendments to Bills

38. When amendments to a bill are reported by a committee or offered from the floor, such amendments shall be submitted in quadruplicate.

Adoption of amendments to any bill in the Senate prior to third reading, other than by roll call, shall not preclude subsequent consideration in committee or on the third reading of the bill, of such amendments or any part thereof, by the Senate.

Motion to Lay on the Table

39. When an amendment proposed to any pending measure shall be laid on the table, it shall not carry with it or prejudice such measure.

Division of a Question

40. If a question in debate contains more than one distinct proposition, any Senator may have the same divided.

The Previous Question

41. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the question be now put?" It shall require a majority vote of the Senators present; and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate except that the author of the bill or the amendment shall have the right to close, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote.

Call of the Senate

42. Upon a motion being carried for a call of the Senate, the President shall immediately order the doors to be closed, and shall direct the Secretary to call the names of the absentees as disclosed by the last previous roll call. Thereupon, no members shall be permitted to leave the Senate Chamber except by written permission of the President pro Tempore or in his absence of the presiding officer. Those members who are found to be absent and for whom no excuse or insufficient excuses are made, may, by order of those present, be taken into custody, as they appear, or may be sent for and then taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms whenever found, or by special messenger to be appointed for that purpose. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the members present may order a roll call of the Senate and compel the attendance of absentees in the manner above provided.

A call of the Senate may be ordered after the roll has been called and prior to the announcement of the vote.

No recess can be taken during a call of the Senate. During a call, the Senate may consider and transact any matter or business that the Senators then present shall unanimously decide to consider, but no call of the Senate shall be had during a call of the Senate, except that during a call which was ordered for the purpose of procuring sufficient attendance for the conduct of business of the Senate in general and not for any other purpose, such call may be made to apply also to not more than one item of business by motion made and adopted by a majority vote of the members present after the roll has been called and prior to the announcement of the vote on such item of business. Under such circumstances, when the call of the Senate is dispensed with as to the item of business to which it is so applied it shall be deemed dispensed with as to the purpose for which it was originally made. When a call of the Senate is ordered, pending the announcement of the vote upon the completion of a roll call, the pending roll call shall become unfinished business, the consideration of which shall be continued until further proceedings under the call of the Senate are dispensed with, when it will forthwith become the order of business before the Senate.

Reconsideration

43. On the day on which a vote has been taken on any question a motion to reconsider the vote may be made by any member.

The motion may be considered on the day made or on the succeeding legislative day but may not be further postponed without the concurrence of 27 members.

No vote on a Senate bill may be reconsidered on or after the last day fixed for the consideration of Senate bills prior to adjournment and no vote may be reconsidered on the last day of the session.

When reconsideration of the vote by which any bill was passed has been demanded the Secretary shall not transmit it to the Assembly until the demand has been disposed of or the time for reconsideration has expired, but if the bill has already been transmitted to the Assembly the demand for reconsideration shall be preceded by a motion to request the Assembly to return the bill. This motion shall be put to a vote immediately without debate and if not adopted shall preclude a demand for reconsideration.

A demand to reconsider the vote on any debatable question opens the main question to debate and the vote on the reconsideration shall be on the merits of such main question.

Voting by Senate

Rescinding

43.5. No action whereby a bill has been passed or defeated may be rescinded without the concurrence of 27 members.

The names of members shall be called alphabetically.

No Senator shall be permitted to vote or change his vote after the announcement of the vote by the presiding officer.

Excused From Voting

45. When a Senator declines or fails to vote on call of his name he may, after completion of the roll call, and before the announcement of the vote be required to assign his reasons therefor, and having assigned them, the presiding officer shall submit the question to the Senate: "Shall the Senator, for the reasons assigned by him, be excused from voting?" which question shall be decided without debate. Unless the Senator is excused from voting he shall be required to vote.

Voting by Presiding Senator

BEFORE THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MADERA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA

NEEDY CHILDREN COSTS } RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, County, State, and Federal costs of Aid to Needy Children have grown alarmingly in the past four years to the great burden of property, sales and income taxes and to the extent that a new and fresh look is needed of the entire program; and

WHEREAS, County property taxes for this one program in many counties, including this County, now exceed the local costs of Old Age Assistance, and in this County will approach one hundred forty three thousand dollars in the coming year with approximately 1,200 children receiving care in this County.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Madera, that the California Legislature, the State Department of Social Welfare, and the Governor's Council, immediately initiate a State-wide study of the Aid to Needy Children program, such study to include: (1) description of families now receiving Childrens' Aid; (2) an evaluation of the California laws and benefits; (3) trends of cases and costs of the program to all agencies; (4) stepfather and common-law family situations; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that such study should be made available to the public with a full statement of the strengths and weaknesses of such program, all with a view of making such changes and safeguards as experience now dictates.

RESOLUTION

TALLAHASSEE BAR ASSOCIATION

WHEREAS, Strong State Governments are indispensable if this Nation is to endure, and

WHEREAS, The Supreme Court of the United States has usurped the Rights reserved to the States in certain fields, including the right to indict and try those charged with subversive activities, the right to control education within their borders and the right to control State elections, and

WHEREAS, The local, State and American Bar Associations have been remiss in the discharge of their duties to so protect and defend the Constitution:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Tallahassee Bar Association:

"That it condemns the unconstitutional usurpation of States' Rights by the Supreme Court of the United States,

That it condemns the failure of that court to exercise the power of Judicial self-restraint, as pointed out by thirty-six of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court of the several States,

That it condemns the failure of that Court to recognize and adhere to the time-honored doctrine of stare decisis,

That it deprecates the tendency of the Supreme Court of the United States to establish itself as a Third Legislative House, as decried by the eminent Jurist, Learned Hand,

That it deprecates the uncertainty which has been injected into constitutional law by virtue of that Court construing the Constitution in a manner inconsistent with and contrary to prior and long accepted decisions of the Court itself,

That the individual members of the Tallahassee, Florida, and American Bar Associations get off the fence and be counted on the side of Constitutional Government,

That the Congress of the United States impose the conditions and regulations necessary to the restriction of the Supreme Court to its proper sphere, and

That the governing authorities of the several States, including the Legislatures thereof, be enjoined to oppose without quarter and in every proper manner the further usurpation of those Sovereign Rights which were by the Constitution reserved to the States and to work relentlessly to restore those rights which have already been usurped."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this Resolution be transmitted to the several Bar Associations of the State of Florida, to the Florida Bar and the American Bar Association, the Secretaries of State of the several States, the Houses of the Legislatures of the several States, the Florida Congressional delegation, and to each of the newspapers and wire services represented in Tallahassee.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 148

A concurrent resolution memorializing congress to remove discriminatory regulations as they apply to transportation by railroads in order that this vital industry may maintain its place of usefulness to the nation in times of peace and war

WHEREAS, Employment by the railroads of this nation has dropped to half of that experienced during the 1926-1930 average to such an extent that it is estimated that as many as thirty-three (33) railroads might be plunged into bankruptcy in 1958 unless effective action is taken to remove restrictive governmental legislation and regulations which fail to recognize that railroads no longer enjoy a monopoly; and

WHEREAS, The railroads are uniquely adapted to the quick and relatively inexpensive shipment of heavy goods and materials and large numbers of personnel in times of emergency:

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the State Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, That we do hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation to remove discriminations against the railroad industry; to make it no longer necessary that they operate with heavy deficits threatening bankruptcy; and to save so important an industry whose jobs, whose earnings and whose usefulness to the Nation manifestly are of equal necessity both in times of peace and war.

Be it further resolved, That the Secretary of State be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States, the Vice-President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, and each member of the Mississippi delegation in the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate and to the respective houses of the legislatures of the several states of the United States.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 144

A Concurrent Resolution Memorializing the Congress of the United States to Enact Legislation Providing for the Repeal of the Federal Excise Tax Upon the Transportation of Passengers and Freight

WHEREAS, The Federal excise tax upon the transportation of passengers and freight was adopted in 1942 as a wartime tax to discourage the movement of civilian passengers and freight during World War II; and,

WHEREAS, Today, twelve years after the cessation of hostilities, there continues a ten per cent levy on the transportation of passengers and a three per cent levy on the transportation of property, which taxes while collected by the common carriers of transportation by rail, by highway, by water and in the air, are imposed upon and collected from the users of such transportation; and,

WHEREAS, Millions of dollars in revenues are paid to the State of Mississippi by those common carriers; and,

WHEREAS, The tax upon the transportation of freight by reason of the transportation of raw materials to the point of manufacture and from the point of manufacture to processing and ultimate distribution to the consumer, frequently has a cumulative effect resulting in a heavy and burdensome tax upon the finished product and the consumer thereof; and,

WHEREAS, Such excise taxes on transportation by reason of the distance from the State of Mississippi and the markets for Mississippi products, agriculture, horticultural and manufactured, impose a heavy and undue burden upon Mississippi shippers and also tend to burden tourist travel to and from the State of Mississippi; and,

WHEREAS, The continuance of Federal excise taxes upon common carrier transportation of persons and property is no longer necessary; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Mississippi, the Senate concurring therein, That we respectfully urge and request the Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will provide for the repeal of the Federal excise taxes upon the transportation of persons and property.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of State be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States, the Vice-President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, and each member of the Mississippi delegation in the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate and to the respective houses of the legislatures of the several states of the United States.

*Hon. Joseph A. Beek, Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. BEEK: I have the honor to transmit herewith Department of Water Resources Bulletin No. 66 "Quality of Ground Waters in California, 1955-1956". This is the second of a continuing series of reports concerning this important matter.

A statewide ground water monitoring program was initiated in 1953. Since that time the Department of Water Resources, as directed by Section 229 of the Water Code, has conducted this program in co-operation with numerous agencies and individuals. Securing and interpreting data on prevailing quality of ground waters in California is the main objective of the program. These data are utilized by the Department of Water Resources in conducting water resources development studies and implementing The California Water Plan; by the regional water pollution control boards in establishing waste discharge requirements for protection of ground waters in California; and by other water service agencies throughout the State.

This report covers the period January, 1955, through December, 1956, and presents mineral analyses of ground water in 31 important ground water areas throughout the State.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, September 23, 1958

State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. BEEK: Transmitted herewith for the information and use of the State Senate is Volume I of Department of Water Resources Bulletin 39-57 entitled "Water Supply Conditions in Southern California During 1956-1957." It marks a further evolution of the Bulletin 39 series, published regularly since first authorized in 1929.

In that year, the Legislature, by enacting Chapter 832, directed that a continuing investigation be conducted of basic hydrologic data to promote the conservation, development, and utilization of the water resources of Southern California. This report is one of a series begun in 1932 as a result of that authorization.

Consisting originally of ground water level listings in the major valleys and plains of Southern California, Bulletin 39 has added more information as the need manifested itself. It now contains a description of surface water supply, ground water supply, sea-water intrusion, outflow and sewage discharge to the ocean, weather modification operations, and construction activities affecting water supply conditions. Its geographic scope has also been expanded.

For the first time this year, Bulletin 39-57 has been published in four volumes. The text of the report is contained in Volume I, supplemented by data tabulations in Volumes II and III, and several cross indexes of water wells in Volume IV, useful primarily to agencies concerned with detailed engineering studies of water supply conditions.

The data assembled herein indicate a continuation of drought conditions through 1956-57, resulting in greater dependence on imported water from the Owens and Colorado Rivers. While last winter's precipitation has relieved somewhat the water deficiencies depicted in this bulletin, a rapidly expanding population imposes ever greater demands on existing water supplies and conveyance systems.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

CALIFORNIA STATE PERSONNEL BOARD
SACRAMENTO, December 5, 1958

The Governor of California and Members of the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: The State Personnel Board, in accordance with Government Code Section 18712, submits this report on matters relating to civil service personnel under the jurisdiction of the board.

The Legislature, in delegating to the Personnel Board the authority to set and adjust salary ranges for civil service and state college employees, has directed the board to: (a) consider the salaries for comparable service in private employment and in other governmental agencies; (b) consider proper internal salary relationships between state classes; and (c) keep expenditures for salary adjustments within the appropriation limits provided by the Legislature. (Government Code Section 18850)

The following summarizes the present salary situation:

1. The last general salary adjustment for state employees was effective July 1, 1957, based on March, 1957, salary data. No salaries were increased during the 1958-59 Fiscal Year because funds were not appropriated for the 3 percent general increase which was reported by the Personnel Board as being justified.
2. Even though there was a general reduction in business activity between 1957 and 1958, salaries and wages in industry continued to rise. Surveys will be conducted by the Personnel Board in March, 1959, to measure wage changes made by private industry between October, 1958, and March, 1959. If the current trend continues, a 7½ percent general adjustment of state salaries as of July 1, 1959, appears needed to catch up with the increases granted by other governmental jurisdictions and private industry over this two-year period.
3. In addition to a salary increase fund approximating 7½ percent, there will be need, as in previous years, for funds for specific salary adjustments. It appears, however, that special adjustments in excess of 7½ percent will be justified for only a small proportion of the employees.

Based on these considerations, the following estimates of salary increase funds for the 1959-60 Fiscal Year are submitted:

1. The estimated cost of each 1 percent increase in salaries in the 1959-60 Fiscal Year for civil service employees and for employees of the state colleges is $2,500,000 from the General Fund. The estimated cost of each 1 percent increase for employees paid from Special Funds is $1,665,000. The estimated cost of a 7½ percent increase is $18,750,000 from the General Fund and $12,500,000 from Special Funds.
2. A fund for special salary adjustments will be needed in order to recognize changes in internal relationships and extreme changes in prevailing rates. The Personnel Board estimates that an appropriation of $1,875,000 will be required from the General Fund and a commensurate amount from the Special Funds. About $1,000,000 of this fund will be required for a special 5 percent salary adjustment for state college faculty.

The estimated amounts for salary increases are sufficient only for adjustments of salaries for civil service employees and for employees of state colleges. They do not include funds for employees of the University of California and other exempt employees.

In addition to information on salaries, this report covers some of the more important current problems and aspects of personnel management in state service. These discussions may be summarized as follows:

1. Fundamental changes in the quality of individuals required and available for employment affect compensation, selection, employee development, and other personnel practices in state service. These changes have resulted from the expansion of California's population and corresponding increases in the size of state service and the continuing demand for additional state services. This growth in size and complexity and advances in technology require greater skills of state employees and have increased the ratio of skilled to unskilled workers.

2. The State has continued to experience difficulties in recruiting employees with special skills such as psychiatrists, clinical psychologists, registered nurses, public assistance specialists, parole officers, engineers, and college faculty members. To meet these needs, the State has continued an active recruitment program. The increase in unemployment in the past year occurred mostly in the unskilled and semiskilled occupations and in specialty fields in which the State does not offer employment.
3. The growth in California's population with the resulting growth in state service has indicated a need for additional Personnel Board branch offices in order that reasonable services be given to people in all parts of the State. The Personnel Board recommends the establishment of additional offices in Fresno, San Bernardino, and San Luis Obispo.
4. Increasing complexity of state service and the need for more highly trained technical personnel have required increased emphasis in employee training and development by the state agencies. The acceptance by the state agencies of the responsibility for employee development is reflected in the increase in both the number and quality of training programs. The Personnel Board will continue to direct its efforts to providing leadership and assistance to state agencies.
5. It has become prevailing practice in local California jurisdictions to pay a salary differential to police officers assigned full time to the operation of two-wheel motorcycles. The Personnel Board believes that this practice should be applicable to the California Highway Patrol. Funds are not available for the payment of a salary differential during the current fiscal year. The Personnel Board cannot take any action until funds are provided for this purpose.
6. The nationwide shortage of and the increasing need for faculty members for the California state colleges require continued study of all of the factors which affect recruitment and retention. Such factors include: the enhancement of the prestige and status of teaching, the improvement of immediate and long-term incentives to pursue an academic career, and the improvement of facilities to permit full utilization of faculty members, plus raising the general level of academic salaries. A special 5 percent salary increase is needed for state college faculty members in addition to any general salary adjustment which may be granted to state employees.
7. The responsibility for administering disciplinary actions rests with the operating departments. During the one-year period July 1, 1957, to June 30, 1958, state agencies took 361 formal actions to dismiss, suspend, demote employees, or reject probationary employees from their positions. The Personnel Board modified the action of the agency in six cases and reversed it in two cases.

Respectfully submitted,

CALIFORNIA STATE PERSONNEL BOARD

DEAR MR. BEEK: Senate Resolution No. 173 passed on June 10, 1957 relates to the reconstruction of State Sign Route 89 on the west side of Lake Tahoe.

For your information attached is copy of memorandum dated October 18, 1957, signed by G. T. McCoy, State Highway Engineer, reporting with respect to development of State Highway Route 38 for all-year travel on the west side of Lake Tahoe in the vicinity of Emerald Bay. Attached to this memorandum is a copy of the report dated October 3, 1957, by Dr. Arthur B. Cleaves, Consulting Geologist.

This report was presented to the California Highway Commission at its meeting held in Sacramento on October 22, 1957, and discussed at considerable length. The Commission took action in approving the recommendation of the State Highway Engineer that the Division of Highways' studies be continued to ascertain whether an all-year, high-level route can be improved and maintained along the north side of Emerald Bay.

This report, therefore, can be only considered as a progress report and not a final report.

Very truly yours,

FRANK B. DURKEE, Director of Public Works

PRESENTATION OF GOVERNOR GOODWIN J. KNIGHT

Hon. Ralph M. Brown, Speaker of the Assembly, presented His Excellency Governor Goodwin J. Knight to the Joint Convention.

Address by Governor Goodwin J. Knight

On this spot 12 years ago today I first took oath as a constitutional officer of this State.

I became Lieutenant Governor.

Five years and three months ago I relinquished that position to accept the greatest honor the State can bestow, the governorship.

The 12 years of state service have been challenging, rewarding, thrilling.

For those years I am deeply and humbly grateful.

My gratitude goes to the Members of the Legislature, past and present, for the friendship and good will they have so generously extended me; to the members of the press, for their indulgence and personal warmth, and for the diligence with which they have fulfilled their responsibilities; and to all Californians, for the trust they have placed in me and their faith in our State's capacity and its destiny.

And to God, I offer a prayer of thanks for His Divine guidance.

These are my thoughts as I leave the office with which you have honored me. To these thoughts, allow me to add my warm best wishes to the new administration.

All of us share a firm conviction in the soundness and variety of a democratic republic.

When a small group of people landed on New England shores more than three centuries ago, they brought with them a belief. That belief was a deep determination to exercise self-government, to guarantee certain personal freedoms.

Those that followed added strength to this political philosophy: the dignity of the individual; creation of a state for the benefit of the people; denial of the practice of man living for and in fear of a regent or master.

These fundamentals were the cornerstones of the first civil government in California. They are the foundation of the structure we call constitutional government. They have been attacked, misrepresented, denounced and condemned.

And they will be again!

But you and I, and countless dedicated Californians will protect them and keep them. With courage and vigor we shall defend what is our priceless treasure—a sovereign people.

In our daily lives that heritage shall inspire the highest aspirations of freedom under law and good will toward all men.

Hon. Phil S. Gibson, Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to the Honorable Edmund G. Brown, Governor-elect of the State of California.

ADDRESS BY THE GOVERNORMESSAGE TO THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

EDMUND G. BROWNGOVERNOR

Delivered to the Senate and Assembly in Joint Session, January 5, 1959

Inaugural Message to the California State Legislature

by Governor Edmund G. Brown

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Governor and Mrs. Knight, Members of the Legislature, and my fellow Californians:

Where democracy lives, free people speak in strong voices. Last November, a free people called for a new vision for California. We begin today the solemn duty and high privilege of translating that vision into public policy and into law.

The election reaffirms our conviction that the people of California are resolved to move forward with courage and confidence. Offered reaction by the radical right, the voters emphatically declined. Offered government by retreat, the people preferred progress. Clearly then, our duty is to bring to California the forward force of responsible liberalism.

The essence of liberalism is a genuine concern and deep respect for all the people. Not monuments or institutions or associations, but people. Not one race, or one creed, or one nationality, but all the people. When people come first and special privilege is scorned, government is truly liberal.

In a liberal atmosphere, the individual stands secure against invasion of his dignity or intrusion on his conscience. He has the right to require justice and fair play, the right to demand protection from economic abuse and selfish threats to his security. At the same time, government must not, in naive good intention, stifle his initiative or smother his growth. Men must indeed have freedom to breathe the air of self-respect.

A liberal program must also be a responsible program, a reasonable, rational, realistic program. We must know how much it will cost and where the money is coming from. Benefits must be measured against burdens. A program which pampers the people or threatens our solvency is as irresponsible as the one which ignores a vital need. But we will always remember that there is a difference between responsibility and timidity, and we are resolved to be governed more by our hopes than by our fears.

In the path of responsible liberalism, we walk in the giant footsteps of such memorable governors as Hughes and Roosevelt in New York, Wilson in New Jersey, LaFollette in Wisconsin, Altgeld and Stevenson in Illinois, and Johnson and Warren in California. Let us mark their example and set our sights to match their achievements.

Here in California, the explosive growth of our population and economy strains the fabric of government. Between election and inauguration, our population increased by 75,000 people. We must accept both the perils and the promise of this magnificent growth. No longer can we afford to stay on dead center, unresponsive and inert. I pledge a confident, pioneering leadership, ready to welcome growth, pursue its promise, and prepare for tomorrow.

A liberal's duty to be responsible has a special meaning in view of the grim crisis we face in the budget. From last year's budget, our bleak legacy is a 100 million dollar deficit. For several years, our State has spent more than it has taken in, and now almost all of our reserves and special funds are exhausted.

I am resolved that our new administration will face our financial responsibilities without flinching. Before the end of the month, I will recommend an economy-minded budget, and a courageous and fair program to obtain new revenues. I pledge, however, that we will not sacrifice essential services or narrow our vision for California.

Throughout the world, the cynical creed of Communism slanders democracy with the charge that men are too greedy, too ignorant, or too lazy to govern themselves. Let us, in our respect and concern for all the people, resolve to prove anew that representative government is the best government. Let us forge a program which will liberate our human resources and demonstrate the renewed vigor of American society. In this way, we will answer the slanders of Communism and expose its evil design.

This is a day of proper pride as well as earnest dedication for California Democrats. Not for twenty years, and only once before in this century, has a Democratic Governor made the inaugural address to the Legislature. And not since 1889 has there been a majority of Democrats in both houses of the Legislature.

The job of government, however, is not a narrowly partisan undertaking. I pledge my full co-operation to Democrats and Republicans alike. I know most of you personally, and I consider this to be one of the ablest legislative bodies in the United States. My door will always be open so that we can consider together our common problems of State Government. We must understand each other, trust each other, and work together in harmony. Where the good of the people is involved, I will expect the support of the distinguished members of both parties, and I hope by my actions to merit it.

In this connection, I express my deep appreciation to Governor Knight, to Mrs. Knight, and to the entire executive family for the genuine co-operation afforded me in the transfer of the functions and duties of this high office.

In obedience to the Constitution, I turn now to specific recommendations. I lay before you a program which in my considered judgment meets the test of being both liberal and responsible.

First. Guarantee Equal Job Opportunities. Discrimination in employment is a stain upon the image of California. We must recognize that conduct which degrades any member of society, degrades society as a whole. Every man must finally see the necessity of protecting the rights of others as the most effective security for his own.

I therefore urge you to enact legislation to bar discrimination by an employer or a labor union on grounds of race, creed, national origin, or age. We should provide the means for conciliation, public education, and enforcement to insure that there are no arbitrary barriers to useful and productive employment. In truth we are, and in practice we must be, one people, equal in privilege and opportunity. This is our moral duty.

Second. Protect the Consumer. We are all consumers. Yet, we have never been able to speak in a single voice because we are disorganized and our needs are so diverse. Without a forceful spokesman in government, we have little defense against highly - organized special interests. I therefore recommend legislation providing for the appointment of a Consumers' Advocate, who should be empowered to advance the consumers' interests by public education and by representation before government agencies.

I also urge you to enact legislation to protect people from installment racketeers. Every year, thousands of Californians are deceived into signing sales contracts which contain unfair provisions and result in outrageous carrying charges. We need new laws to wipe out these vicious practices. We need them fair, strong, and soon.

Third. Encourage Economic Development. To keep our economy strong, we need new industries, new payrolls, and new jobs for our expanding population. Accordingly, I recommend legislation for the establishment of an Agency for Economic Development to launch a vigorous program to bring business here. By augmenting private efforts to attract new industries, this agency will invigorate our economy and enrich our lives.

Fourth. Safeguard Workers' Rights. The voters have firmly rejected the so-called right-to-work law. In a new and objective atmosphere, let us move forward to strengthen the integrity of the collective bargaining process. I will soon send you a special message outlining my legislative proposals in detail. May I say now, however, that I intend to recommend:

- Legislation under which employees in intrastate commerce can choose a bargaining representation;

- Legislation specifically outlawing bribes to union officials;

- Legislation setting up safeguards concerning union meetings and elections, and providing for the recall of union officers for misconduct;

- Legislation preventing loans by unions to their officers, and requiring union officers and management consultants to file financial statements; and

- Legislation governing the relationship between a local union and its parent organization.

Such laws would be safeguards against the irresponsible minority whose conduct damages all of labor. But there must be no punitive measures against free and responsible unions, which have brought untold progress and improved living conditions to our State. Cripple the responsible union and all of the people will suffer. Strengthen the responsible union and labor can contribute its full energy to the new vision for California.

Fifth. Increase Social Insurance and Public Welfare. In the stern judgment of history, our greatness as a State will largely depend on our sense of responsibility to the elderly, the sick, the needy, the injured, and the unemployed. I reject the outdated notion that concern for these people is not the business of government.

I believe that the level of unemployment insurance benefits clearly should be raised. At 1959 prices, no family can meet its basic needs on the $40 per week maximum. In the last year, there has been forceful evidence that thousands of workers are left stranded if benefit payments are limited to 26 weeks when recessions last longer. We should lengthen the period of coverage, at least whenever unemployment has reached a given percentage of the work force.

Turning to the Workmen's Compensation Law, I recommend that we take prompt action to correct the striking inadequacy in the vocational rehabilitation provisions for injured workers. In addition, the amount and duration of benefits may well need to be increased. The same is true of disability benefits.

In the field of public welfare, we should improve the operation of the 1957 Medical Care Program and insure that it fulfills its important purpose. One obvious shortcoming in the program is its failure to extend to persons now enrolled in the Aid-to-Disabled Program. For the disabled person, the need for medical care is especially great and compelling.

Our new laws in the field of social insurance and public welfare must be responsible as well as liberal. Thus, we must stop short of an extreme, isolated position which would discourage the entry of new wealth and industry and thus injure our economy and our people alike. But short of this extreme, we will remember that social insurance and public welfare benefits go directly into our life stream and that we serve our economy as well as our humanitarian principles by making California a leader in this field.

Sixth. Establish a Minimum Wage. I urge you to enact legislation which will establish $1.25 an hour as the minimum wage for California workers not covered by the federal law. Minimum wage laws assure a worker that he will be paid enough to maintain himself in health and decency. Elementary fairness dictates that this protection should not be denied a person because of the happenstance that he is employed in a local business. Moreover, a minimum wage law will protect ethical employers from the unfair competition of those who would pay sub-standard wages.

Seventh. Reform Election Practices. Because elections are the strong heartbeat of democracy, the reform of election practices deserves a top priority. I urge you to abolish cross-filing in primary elections, and thus strengthen representative government by making our parties more responsible and more responsive to the will of the people.

I also urge you to strengthen our laws providing for disclosure of campaign funds. The gaps in the present law threaten the integrity of our democratic processes.

In this electronic age, we continue to count ballots by primitive methods. I recommend that existing statutes be broadened to encourage electronic tabulation of votes in all counties of the State. We must also find a way to shorten our political campaigns and stop every election from being an endurance contest, both for the candidates and the voters. When we improve the election process, we strengthen democracy.

Eighth. Promote Efficiency in Government. I urge you to adopt legislation to enable us to reorganize and streamline State Government. Specifically, I believe that the Governor should be authorized to prepare and transmit to the Legislature plans for the reorganization of the executive branch of the State Government. I also pledge my wholehearted support for your efforts to improve the organization and operation of state agencies.

Not since 1928 have we made a thorough and penetrating analysis of the structure of our State Government. Today each citizen pays the price of a government which has developed haphazardly in a piecemeal response to the pressure of growth. We are burdened by layer upon layer of patchwork agencies, and confusing lines of authority. The time has come for us to modernize State Government and improve its services to our people.

Ninth. Control Crime. Crime and narcotics are ugly companions. Driven by fear and guilt, the criminal seeks escape through the use of narcotics; in turn, the addict steals to support his costly habit.

As a new approach to this complex problem, I urge you to authorize the Department of Corrections to establish pilot units for narcotic treatment and control in key areas of the State. This program would provide diagnostic testing and psychiatric aid for addicts released on parole or probation. By providing these new tools for control and rehabilitation, we take a promising and pioneering step toward narcotics control. We only endorse futility if we do no more in this field than renew procedures which time has already proven unsuccessful.

Our prisons are dangerously overcrowded. This not only magnifies the hazards of riots and breakouts, but inevitably produces the frustration of idleness. In meeting this problem, our first responsibility is the protection of society. We must initiate new studies to identify those prisoners who should never be released to prey again on an innocent public. We should also determine whether some prisoners are now kept confined after punishment has served its purpose. In addition, we should establish new forestry camps and industrial training programs so that after release, every man can offer society an effective skill and regular work habits.

Today's prisoners were yesterday's delinquents. The California Youth Authority has pioneered in the field of youth correction, but now we must press forward in the prevention of delinquency. To that end, I will immediately take personal leadership of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth to study the early causes of one of society's most difficult problems. If we can find a way to reach the promise and the core of goodness in our emotionally disturbed children, we strike at the roots of crime.

Tenth. Improve Quality in Education. Both our Constitution and our conscience enjoin us to invest money in young minds, our greatest natural resources. Specifically, our growth requires us to meet these needs in public education: 18,000 new teachers a year, when we now graduate 11,000; 5,000 new classrooms a year, when we now build 2,500; facilities for 400,000 college and university students in 1970, when we now have space and equipment for but 100,000.

These needs are the challenge of growth. Let us meet them with adult dedication and ingenuity. We can attract and retain good teachers, if we offer practical training, adequate professional salaries, and new levels of community confidence and respect. We must also find the means to provide the physical plants as well as the intellectual climate for learning.

In turn, we have the right to require that our schools shall provide genuine education in a well-taught, disciplined curriculum. Every child deserves the chance to grow in fundamental knowledge, in special and technical skills, and in insight. I am determined that California will have the best public schools in the United States. I am persuaded, as I am confident you are, that whatever we invest in free public education is returned, manyfold, to our economy and to the strength of our democratic government.

Eleventh. Protect Public Health. We live in an era marked by new cures for old diseases and by dramatic new dangers to our health. Air pollution is a statewide menace. It threatens the health of people not only in Los Angeles, but in every heavily populated region of the State. We must recognize that our attack on smog cannot stop at county lines.

I therefore ask that you supply additional funds for concentrated research on the dangerous effects of smog on people. I call upon the automobile industry to expand and accelerate its research on smog prevention. I want to serve notice on every industry and every person involved that my administration will take effective action to protect the people of the State. People are more important than dollars.

Exposure to radiation from nuclear fallout and industrial accidents now threatens all of us. We should provide funds for the State Department of Public Health to maintain a constant guard against dangerous levels of radioactivity in air, water, food, and sewage.

In addition, I urge that California follow the example of other alert states and establish a co-ordinator of the many phases of atomic energy development now in process in several existing state agencies. Failure to act and plan in atomic matters, which are so promising to our progress and so critical for our safety, would be both irresponsible and dangerous.

I also recommend that the Legislature provide funds for the continuation of the Department of Public Health's program to combat alcoholism and promote temperance.

Fifteen years as a law enforcement officer have convinced me that although other problems may be better publicized, none causes more suffering and despair than alcoholism.

Twelfth. Improve the Administration of Justice. There is a logjam in our California courts. In Los Angeles County alone, the backlog of civil cases climbed to nearly 16,000 in 1958. Each case has to wait in line well over a year after it is ready for trial. In other counties, the situation is even worse. Last October when Chief Justice Warren called attention to this crisis in the courts, we were forcefully reminded that justice delayed, frequently is justice denied.

Automobile accidents spawn a major portion of the congestion in our courts. For the accident victims, the net result is a grave social loss. After years of delay and uncertainty, the majority will recover nothing, and financial distress will be added to their pain and suffering. Those who eventually win their cases may not be able to collect their judgments, and what they do recover will have to be shared with others.

Three decades ago, California pioneered in establishing an expert commission to handle industrial accidents. Now, the time has come for use to weigh the wisdom of an Automobile Accident Commission to hear and determine claims arising out of auto accidents. If a commission modeled after our Industrial Accident Commission could provide a prompt remedy and fair compensation for the accident victim, we would reduce suffering and hardship. If the commission could gain an insight into the causes of accidents and issue safety orders, we would cut down the carnage on the highways. If, through the creation of such a commission, we could enable our courts to keep abreast of their dockets, we would take a long step toward our goal of equal justice under law.

The limits of this Inaugural occasion do not permit a detailed statement of all that is in my mind and heart today. During the course of this session, I will bring you recommendations on traffic safety, billboards, the redevelopment law, improvements in our recreational program, and other matters.

Before the end of January, I will send you a major message on water. Development of our water resources is crucial to every segment of our State—the ranchers in our mountain areas, the farmers who make California the Nation's leading agricultural producer, and the homeowners in our population which will grow to 20 million by 1970. No problem has occupied more of my time in the weeks since election than water. Striking progress has been made. I can tell you now that I will soon present a water program which is rational, realistic, and responsive to the needs of all the people of the State.

I will also soon announce appointment of a Governor's Commission on Metropolitan Problems. For the 85 percent of our people who live in urban communities, local government is often inefficient, costly, and confusing because the necessary services are rendered by overlapping and competing agencies. The congestion of our streets symbolizes the necessity for a new and co-ordinated approach to the pressing problems in our cities. Any approach to these problems must respect our tradition of community responsibility and the high quality of our local officials, but I am convinced that we should make a concerted attack on these acute and chronic problems.

Looking beyond these specific matters, let us recall the warning of the Bible that where there is no vision, the people perish. Today we see successful industries accepting this judgment. They search out their most creative minds and put them to work studying distant horizons.

I propose that California follow industry's example and become the first state in the nation to set up a specific research and development program. I propose that we seek out our most creative minds both in and out of State Government and put them to work on a wide range of long-term problems, such as our crowded airways, the plight of workers frozen in their jobs by pensions which cannot be transferred, discrimination in housing, the defects of the present health insurance program, and on to new problems on the frontiers of space.

As I conclude, I would observe that providence seems intent on making us a great people in a great state. This destiny of greatness requires of us our best laws and fairest administration. Let us lead with confidence and compassion as we draw the lines of the new vision for California. May we pray to God that our virtues grow with California and be durable, and that our vision for California be liberal and responsible.

PRESENTATIONS BY GOVERNOR EDMUND G. BROWN

Governor Brown introduced his mother, and his daughters, Barbara Casey, Kathy Brown, and Cynthia Kelly, and his son, Edmund G. Brown, Jr.; and Miss Roosevelt, his first grade teacher.

PRESENTATION OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR GLENN ANDERSON

Hon. Ralph M. Brown, Speaker of the Assembly, presented Lieutenant Governor Anderson to the Joint Convention.

Governor Brown, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore, President pro Tempore of the Senate, Chief Justice Gibson, Members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Sixteen years ago I was first sworn in as a State Legislator in this same room. This Assembly Chamber holds many happy and nostalgic memories for me. Some of my fellow legislators of those years are still here, many are not. As Legislators we always strove to accomplish greater progress for our beloved State.

Today, particularly, we have just heard what I consider to be the most forward looking, courageous program that has ever been presented to a Legislature of California. We have heard Governor Pat Brown, obvious in his greatness, demonstrate that the confidence shown in him by the people on election day, will be fulfilled.

I am certain his administration will come to be identified as the one that drew new lines of vision, new goals, for a greater California of the future. His sights have remained high, never lowered, even with the current dilemma of a State facing difficult problems, and at the same time being encumbered by a huge deficit.

As he stated, his administration will never stay on "dead center," nor will it blindly stumble, but will always move forward meeting each crisis head on.

He has clearly stated many of the State's problems and has made recommendations for the solution of these problems. I have confidence that the Legislature in its good judgment will follow these recommendations, and the people of California will truly live in a greater and more glorious California.

As I listened to Governor Brown's address, it touched many responsive chords from the beginning to the end. For example his number one item . . . providing for equal job opportunities for all people regardless of race, creed, national origin or age . . . has been number one in my heart for as many years as I can remember. My office and staff will work diligently to help promote such legislation during this session, and I want Governor Brown to know that I feel California can lead the way in showing not only this Nation, but the entire world that we in America know what democracy means, and believe in it . . . wholeheartedly.

In my opening remarks I referred to the memories I hold of my years in the State Assembly. My experience in the Assembly brought me in close contact with the Members of the State Senate of California; and my respect for that body . . . for its co-operation, for its integrity, for its mature leadership, grew year by year. I consider the State Senate of California an outstanding deliberative group . . . as Presiding Officer of the Senate I will be part of that body, and it will be my full endeavor to work along with every member. I come to you in the spirit of complete co-operation.

In closing, I want the members of both houses, the Assembly and the Senate, each of the Constitutional Officers and the People of California to know that my office is ready and willing to serve you . . . and to you, Governor Brown, I want to assure you that your entire program has my full support. And knowing you as I do, I am confident that I will also be in full support of the subsequent programs that you will be presenting in the interests of our great State.

REPORT OF THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE FOR THE REVISION OF THE EDUCATION CODE

January 1, 1959

Transmitted herewith is the Report of the Joint Legislative Committee for the Revision of the Education Code. The Senate members of the committee, by committee request, will introduce the bill which represents the first stage of work completed by the committee. This report presents a summary of the committee's work to date together with its recommendations to the Legislature.

Major Objectives of Code Revision

The Joint Legislative Committee for the Revision of the Education Code was created by the Legislature (1957 Regular Session, Chapter 2419) based upon Bill No. 4118 introduced by Assemblyman Wallace Henderson in response to growing public sentiment that the State's educational code needed major reorganization and improvement to make it a more effective and usable document for the State's school personnel and citizenry. Some major criticisms that have been directed against the existing Education Code are that the subject matter is not integrated or in orderly sequence, that it contains obsolete, ambiguous, and conflicting provisions, and that the general format of the code including titles, annotations, and index possess major shortcomings.

After public hearings and consultations with numerous educational authorities, this committee concluded that a thoroughgoing revision of the Education Code would be a difficult and time-consuming task and the work would have to be undertaken in orderly stages if the job was to be satisfactorily completed. To aid in the development of a research program preparatory to the revision, the committee secured the services of Dr. Ernest A. Engelbert of the Bureau of Governmental Research of the University of California, Los Angeles, who was instructed to work in close co-operation with the Legislative Counsel's Office and the Legislative Analyst's Office in formulating the project's objectives. The preparatory work resulted in the committee adopting the following work program:

1. The reorganization of the Education Code should be done in stages, each stage to represent a completed product which could be submitted to the Legislature.

2. The committee decreed that insofar as possible work should begin on the structural and organizational aspects of the code, postponing substantive and controversial issues until the final stages of revision in order to minimize the chances of political disputes in the early periods of activity.

3. The committee approved a program of Education Code revision in three stages:

Stage I: Designed to produce a reorganized code with more logical arrangement and better integration of subject matter but without substantive change.

Stage II: Directed toward the preparation of specific pieces of legislation designed to remove glaring ambiguities, inconsistencies, omissions, obsolescences, and similar changes.

Stage III: To result in an intensive study and extensive rewriting of specific divisions of the code.

Legislative Committee Activities

This committee has undertaken a number of activities to enlist public aid and support for the revision of the Education Code. First, the committee sent letters to approximately 350 persons throughout the State soliciting their advice. Responses came from a broad cross-section of the State's citizenry including local school administrators, legal counsels and attorneys, college presidents, professors, personnel of various state departments and representatives of education and non-educational groups. Their proposals have been studied carefully by the committee and its staff.

Second, the committee has held five public hearings for the purpose of receiving testimony and acquainting the public with what is being done. The hearings were held in Monterey on November 30, 1957, in Los Angeles on December 27, 1957, in Sacramento on May 27, 1958, in Sacramento on September 30, 1958, and in Berkeley on December 29, 1958.

Third, the committee appointed a Citizens' Advisory Committee of 30 distinguished persons representing the major organizations in the State interested in the revision of the Education Code. The Advisory Committee has met jointly with our Legislative Committee and has worked with us in evaluating the work of the staff. Membership of the Citizens' Advisory Committee is listed in Appendix A.

Progress of Code Revision

The actual work of code revision has been done by over a score of professional personnel including lawyers, educators, and social scientists located at seven major institutions, namely, the University of California at Los Angeles and Berkeley, Stanford University, Fresno State College, Fresno Junior College, San Diego State College, and San Francisco State College. Insofar as possible the work was assigned to teams upon the basis of special fields of knowledge which the personnel in the teams represented. The work was done under contract with the University of California and co-ordinated by the Bureau of Governmental Research at the University of California, Los Angeles. The roster of staff is to be found in Appendix B.

Working closely with the staff throughout the entire project have been representatives of the Legislative Counsel's Office and the State Department of Education. In particular, the committee drew heavily upon the services of Mr. Angus Morrison, Deputy Legislative Counsel, and Dr. George Hogan, and Mr. Lawrence Kearney, Deputy Superintendent and Legal Counsel, respectively, of the State Department of Education.

Much of the Education Code revision accomplished so far has been done with the aid of machine data processing. The International Business Machines installation at U. C. L. A. was made available without charge to the committee.

The progress of the work done to date on the revision of the Education Code is as follows:

Stage I: has been completed and has resulted in the preprint bill which will be introduced in the Senate. This bill represents a major reorganization of the entire existing Education Code but does not include any substantive changes. Divisions and chapters have been rearranged to provide more logical integration and sequence. The conversion table appended to the preprint bill gives the relocation of articles and sections. Also completed and to be added when the new code has been adopted are new titles for each section, an extensive system of cross-referencing, and a new, enlarged index.

Stage II, namely the preparation of individual pieces of legislation, should be completed by February 1, 1959. Nearly 300 separate items for legislation have been submitted to the Legislative Counsel on behalf of the committee which amend and clear up minor ambiguities, inconsistencies, and other deficiencies. Some of these items undoubtedly will be consolidated to provide fewer bills before they are introduced.

Stage III, namely the intensive study and extensive rewriting of major sections of the Education Code, is still in the initial phase. The staff is recommending to the committee, on the basis of priority, those divisions of the code which should be completely rewritten. Work will continue on this stage of code revision for the duration of the committee's existence.

Committee Recommendations

On the basis of this committee's work to date, the following recommendations are made:

1. The committee recommends that the preprint bill which will be introduced in the Senate be enacted into law as soon as reasonably possible.

2. The committee recommends passage of all trailer bills which are an integral part of the code reorganization program. These trailer bills will be introduced as committee bills with sponsorship and house origin to be subsequently determined by the committee.

3. The committee proposes to file a supplemental report to the Legislature at a later date setting forth further progress on the revision of this code.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 11, 1959

Honorable Hugh M. Burns, Senate Chamber

Permanent Standing Rules of the Senate—No. 5717

DEAR SENATOR BURNS: We enclose a Senate Resolution adopting Permanent Standing Rules of the Senate, prepared at your request. These rules are identical to the Temporary Standing Rules of the Senate adopted by Senate Resolution No. 5 at this session except for the following changes:

A. Rule 12 (Standing Committees).

Subdivision 6. The name of the Committee on Financial Institutions is changed to "Insurance and Financial Institutions." The membership is decreased from 9 to 7 members. The subject of bills amending the Unemployment Insurance Code is added to this committee's functions.

Subdivision 8. The subject of bills relating to the Department of Social Welfare, and to the aged, to the blind, to children, to the indigent and to other public assistance is added to the functions of the Committee on Governmental Efficiency.

Subdivision 11. The subject of bills amending the Unemployment Insurance Code (which includes both unemployment insurance and disability insurance) is removed from the Committee on Labor. (See Subdivision (6) above.)

Subdivision 13. The membership of the Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs is decreased from 11 to 9 members.

Subdivision 15. The membership of the Committee on Public Health and Safety is decreased from 9 to 7 members.

Subdivision 19 (of the Temporary Rules). The Committee on Social Welfare is abolished and its functions transferred to Governmental Efficiency. (See Subdivision (8) above.)

Subdivision 21 (of the Temporary Rules). Is renumbered Subdivision 20 and the membership of the Committee on Water Resources is increased from 11 to 13 members.

B. Rule 2.21, which previously governed introduction of bills after the constitutional recess, is deleted since that recess has been eliminated by constitutional amendment.

C. Rule 26 has been changed to require a schedule of committee hearings to be prepared "as soon as practicable after the commencement of the session" rather than "During the constitutional recess or as soon thereafter as practicable." This change also is required by the elimination of the recess.

D. Rule 29.1 is added to require the Legislative Counsel to digest the effect of Assembly amendments of Senate bills and to provide that when such amendments make substantial changes the measure shall be referred to Rules Committee for re-reference to the appropriate standing committee.

E. Rule 47—Subdivision (1) of this rule previously set forth the requirement of 30 votes to introduce a bill after the constitutional recess. Because of the recent constitutional amendment this subdivision has been changed to require 30 votes to dispense with the new constitutional provision requiring a 30 calendar delay after introduction of a bill before a bill may be heard by any committee or acted upon by either house.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, Chief Deputy

In order to avoid unanticipated reversions of appropriations for contingent expenses, the Senate Committee on Rules may designate the appropriation from which payment shall be made pursuant to allocations to interim committees or for other purposes. Each standing committee may meet at the State Capitol and do any and all things necessary or convenient to enable it to exercise the powers and perform the duties herein granted to it and may expend such money as may be made available by the Senate for such purpose; but no committee shall incur any indebtedness unless money shall have been first made available therefor.

The subject and purpose of the investigation shall be expressed in the title of the resolution and the scope of the investigations shall be consistent with the subject and purposes so expressed. No such committee shall have authority to extend its investigations to subjects not so expressed, nor beyond the scope indicated in the resolution. Unless otherwise directed by the resolution any committee so authorized shall be appointed within 20 days after the adoption of the resolution.

A rule requiring a two-thirds vote on any question may be amended only by a two-thirds vote on one day's notice, and a rule requiring a two-thirds vote may be temporarily suspended only by a two-thirds vote.

All proposed amendments to these rules shall, upon presentation, be referred to the Committee on Rules without debate.

Introduction, First Reading, and Reference of Bills

22. Any Senator desiring to introduce a bill shall send it to the Senate desk.

The Committee on Rules shall check all Senate bills prior to introduction and all Assembly bills before reference to committee and shall designate the committees to which they shall be referred. The provisions of Rule 12 referring to the assignment of bills are intended as a guide to the committee but are not binding upon the committee.

Under the order of Introduction of Bills, the Secretary shall assign a number to each Senate bill, shall read it the first time, shall read the name of the committee to which the bill has been assigned by the Committee on Rules, and unless otherwise ordered by the Senate without debate the assignment of the bill shall then be complete and after printing the Secretary shall deliver the bills to the committee so designated.

Recalling a Bill From Committee

28. The Senate may at any time by 21 votes recall a bill from committee.

Re-reference to Finance Committee

28.5. It shall be the duty of each standing committee to which a bill is referred to determine (1) whether the bill appropriates money, or (2) whether the bill would result in substantial expenditures of state money by (a) imposing new responsibilities upon the State or (b) new or additional duties upon a state agency or (c) liberalization of any state program, function or responsibility. If the standing committee so determines, the standing committee shall report the bill with the recommendation that the bill be referred to the Finance Committee, in addition to such other recommendations as the standing committee deems desirable.

Any member of the Senate may move to refer a bill to the Finance Committee, and the failure or refusal of the standing committee to recommend that the bill be referred to the Finance Committee shall not preclude such a motion by any member of the Senate.

Consideration of Bills

Order of Making Files

29. When bills are reported from committee they shall be placed upon the General File, to be kept by the Secretary as follows: All bills when reported to the Senate by the committee shall be placed at the foot of the Second Reading Senate or Assembly File, in the order in which the reports are made, and after the second reading they shall be placed at the foot of the Senate or Assembly Third Reading File, in the order of reading. Unless otherwise ordered by the Senate the File shall be taken up in the following order: Senate Second Reading File,

Assembly Second Reading File and Senate Third Reading File, Assembly Third Reading File. The bills upon third reading shall be considered in the order in which they appear upon the File, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

Bills may be carried on the inactive file by author and bill number without setting forth the title.

Bills may be transferred from the inactive file to the second reading file on motion, and after being read the second time such bills will take their place regularly on third reading file and be available for consideration and passage.

Notices of committee hearings shall be published in the File whenever presented by chairman of committees to the Secretary for that purpose. For such purpose bills will be identified by subject or by number.

Re-reference to Committee

29.1. Whenever the Assembly amends and passes a Senate bill the Legislative Counsel shall, within one day after the bill is passed by the Assembly, prepare and transmit to the Secretary of the Senate and to the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Rules, a brief digest summarizing the effect of the Assembly amendment. The Secretary of the Senate shall cause said digest to be printed in the Daily File immediately following any reference in said file to the bill covered by the digest. No such bill may be acted upon until said digest has been received. If the digest discloses that the Assembly amendment has made a substantial substantive change in the bill as first passed by the Senate the bill shall, on motion of the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Rules, be immediately referred to that committee for reference to an appropriate Senate standing committee.

Special Order

30. Any measure or subject may, by vote of a majority of those voting, be made a special order, and when the time fixed for its consideration arrives, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

Messages From the Governor or Assembly

Messages from the Governor or from the Assembly may be considered when indicated in the order of business or at any other time by unanimous consent or upon motion.

Engrossing Bills

32. All Senate bills, constitutional amendments and joint or concurrent resolutions shall be engrossed before final action is taken on them in the Senate. Engrossment shall consist of comparing the printed engrossed bill with the original bill introduced and any amendments adopted to ascertain that it is correct. When a bill is reported correctly engrossed it shall be substituted on the file for the original bill.

Enrolling Bills

33. All Senate bills shall be enrolled immediately following their final passage and receipt from the Assembly. An enrolled copy of every such bill, amendment or resolution shall be printed and examined to ascertain that it is a true and accurate copy of the measure as it was passed. It shall then be authenticated by the signatures of the President or President pro Tempore of the Senate and the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary of the Senate and by the corresponding officers of the Assembly and transmitted without delay to the Governor.

DEBATEStatement of Motion

34. No motion shall be debated until the same be distinctly announced by the President; and it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the President or any Senator, and read by the Secretary, before the same shall be debated.

Regulations as to Speaking

35. 1. When a Senator desires to address the Senate, he shall rise in his place, address the President, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak through the public address system.
2. No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill, without leave; and Senators who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) so long as any Senator who has not spoken desires to speak.
3. When two or more Senators arise at the same time to address the Senate, the presiding officer shall designate the Senator who is entitled to the floor.
4. No Senator shall be interrupted when speaking, and no question shall be asked him except through the presiding officer.
5. The author of a bill, motion, or resolution shall have the privilege of closing the debate.

Order in Debate

36. When a Senator shall be called to order he shall sit down until the President shall have determined whether he is in order or not; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any Senator. If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the objectionable language shall immediately be taken down in writing by the Secretary of the Senate.

Right to Address the Senate

37. No person other than a Member of the Senate or the President thereof, shall address the Senate while it is in session but the Senate may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole and while sitting as such committee may be addressed by persons other than members.

Questions and MotionsAmendments to Bills

38. When amendments to a bill are reported by a committee or offered from the floor, such amendments shall be submitted in quadruplicate.

Adoption of amendments to any bill in the Senate prior to third reading, other than by roll call, shall not preclude subsequent consideration in committee or on the third reading of the bill, of such amendments or any part thereof, by the Senate.

Motion to Lay on the Table

39. When an amendment proposed to any pending measure shall be laid on the table, it shall not carry with it or prejudice such measure.

Division of a Question

40. If a question in debate contains more than one distinct proposition, any Senator may have the same divided.

The Previous Question

41. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the question be now put?" It shall require a majority vote of the Senators present; and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate except that the author of the bill or the amendment shall have the right to close, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote.

Call of the Senate

42. Upon a motion being carried for a call of the Senate, the President shall immediately order the doors to be closed, and shall direct the Secretary to call the names of the absentees as disclosed by the last previous roll call. Thereupon, no members shall be permitted to leave the Senate Chamber except by written permission of the President pro Tempore or in his absence of the presiding officer. Those members who are found to be absent and for whom no excuse or insufficient excuses are made, may, by order of those present, be taken into custody, as they appear, or may be sent for and then taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms whenever found, or by special messenger to be appointed for that purpose. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the members present may order a roll call of the Senate and compel the attendance of absentees in the manner above provided.

A call of the Senate may be ordered after the roll has been called and prior to the announcement of the vote.

No recess can be taken during a call of the Senate. During a call, the Senate may consider and transact any matter or business that the Senators then present shall unanimously decide to consider, but no call of the Senate shall be had during a call of the Senate, except that during a call which was ordered for the purpose of procuring sufficient attendance for the conduct of business of the Senate in general and not for any other purpose, such call may be made to apply also to not more than one item of business by motion made and adopted by a majority vote of the members present after the roll has been called and prior to the announcement of the vote on such item of business. Under such circumstances, when the call of the Senate is dispensed with as to the item of business to which it is so applied it shall be deemed dispensed with as to the purpose for which it was originally made. When a call of the Senate is ordered, pending the announcement of the vote upon the completion of a roll call, the pending roll call shall become unfinished business, the consideration of which shall be continued until further proceedings under the call of the Senate are dispensed with, when it will forthwith become the order of business before the Senate.

Reconsideration

43. On the day on which a vote has been taken on any question a motion to reconsider the vote may be made by any member.

The motion may be considered on the day made or on the succeeding legislative day but may not be further postponed without the concurrence of 27 members.

No vote on a Senate bill may be reconsidered on or after the last day fixed for the consideration of Senate bills prior to adjournment and no vote may be reconsidered on the last day of the session.

When reconsideration of the vote by which any bill was passed has been demanded the Secretary shall not transmit it to the Assembly until the demand has been disposed of or the time for reconsideration has expired, but if the bill has already been transmitted to the Assembly the demand for reconsideration shall be preceded by a motion to request the Assembly to return the bill. This motion shall be put to a vote immediately without debate and if not adopted shall preclude a demand for reconsideration.

A demand to reconsider the vote on any debatable question opens the main question to debate and the vote on the reconsideration shall be on the merits of such main question.

Legislative Counsel Opinion

SACRAMENTO, January 11, 1959

Hon. Edwin J. Regan
Senate Chamber

Trespass for Purposes of Fishing—No. 5484

DEAR SENATOR REGAN: You have asked for a discussion of civil and criminal liability for entering the land of another, without his permission, for the purpose of fishing.

A. Civil Liability

No special civil liability is imposed on persons trespassing for the purpose of fishing. The general rule is that a person who is on the land of another without the latter's consent and against the latter's will is a trespasser, and the owner has a cause of action (MacLeod v. Fox West Coast Theatres, 10 Cal. 2d 383). Often, of course, the owner would not be able to show substantial damages, and punitive damages could be recovered only on a showing of malice (24 Cal. Jur. 695).

B. Criminal Liability

There appears to be no law which would make entry on land for the purpose of fishing, without additional factors, a crime. It would be a crime under subdivision (n) of Section 602 of the Penal Code to enter land under cultivation, or enclosed or posted land and not to leave when requested to do so. The entry by itself does not violate this subdivision. Under Section 2094 of the Fish and Game Code, it is a crime, while taking fish, to leave gates or bars open (see also subdivision (h), Section 602, Pen. C., making wilful commission of the same acts criminal).

Subdivision (k) of Section 602 of the Penal Code provides that the following acts constitute criminal trespass:

"Entering any lands under cultivation or enclosed by fence, belonging to, or occupied by, another, or entering upon uncultivated or unenclosed lands where signs forbidding trespass are displayed at intervals not less than three to the mile along all exterior boundaries and at all roads and trails entering such lands, for the purpose of hunting shooting, killing, or destroying any animal, or bird on such lands without having first obtained written permission from the owner of such lands, or his agent, or the person in lawful possession thereof; . . ." (Emphasis added)

Although the matter is not entirely clear, we doubt that this subdivision applies to entry for the purpose of fishing. In Section 599b of Penal Code, found among the provisions relating to cruelty to animals and in the same title as Section 602, the trespass statute, "animal" is defined as including "every dumb creature." From this and the other definitions in this section and from the context in which the section was added (Ch. 519, Stats. 1905), it appears that this definition of "animal" was added with the cruelty to animals provisions in mind. We note, on the other hand, that when, in 1931, the predecessor to subdivision (k) was amended to read substantially in its present form (Ch. 693, Stats. 1931), the words "catch" and "fish" originally were included in the bill but were deleted prior to passage (S. B. 454). The courts have not, to our knowledge, passed upon the applicability of subdivision (k) to entry for fishing. In view of the form and history of this provision, it seems doubtful that this provision would be held applicable to such entry.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By TERRY L. BAUM, Deputy Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 20, 1959

To the Senate of the State of California:

Attached hereto is a special message which I am sending you outlining my views on the need for legislation pertaining to labor-management relations.

Respectfully,

Atch.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS

Earlier this month I addressed this distinguished Legislature on the course I have charted for my administration in the next four years.

I described that course as one of "responsible liberalism."

And I defined liberalism as a philosophy which believes that people—not institutions, or organizations, or corporations—come first.

It is a philosophy that believes the individual has a right to demand justice and fair play free of any unnecessary restraints either by society or by government.

But I think we must emphasize again and again that to be truly responsible, liberalism must be realistic; it must be practical; and it must be responsive to the needs of all our people.

Since the interest of government is the common interest, the truly responsible government must restrain individual conduct only to promote the common good.

On this basis, and where it has been found necessary, democratic society has determined that the common interest requires that government regulate certain activities.

On this basis, we have established uniform standards of conduct for banks, corporations, utilities and many other institutions making up our free enterprise system.

There is another vital area in our free enterprise system which I believe requires additional regulation. I refer, of course, to labor-management relations.

Those relations in a democratic society are carried out to an appreciable extent by employers and their associations on one hand and employees and their unions on the other.

This collective bargaining process is recognized and protected by law. Through it labor and management wield tremendous influence on our economy.

They set patterns of wages, hours and working conditions for organized workers ultimately extending to the vast bulk of employed persons in the country, whether organized or not.

They also control vast sums of money—running into the billions of dollars—in dues and health, welfare and pension funds.

Most representatives of both sides are responsible, dedicated men. Responsible men, of course, try to set standards for their relationships voluntarily, and certainly we much prefer voluntary action.

The AFL-CIO, through its Ethical Practices Codes, has voluntarily set such standards for the relationship of union officials to union members and parent labor organizations to subordinate bodies.

Virtually all labor organizations include minimum standards of conduct in their constitutions or bylaws.

Many businesses and professions also have adopted their own codes of conduct.

Yet—just as responsible government has found it necessary to establish standards for the conduct of banks, corporations and utilities—I believe there is need to provide standards in labor-management relations.

For example, if labor seeks to maintain its right to bargain collectively, it must accept the corresponding responsibility—as most of it already has—to represent its members democratically and to act only in the public good.

I am acutely aware that labor historically has resisted many unfair efforts by government to interfere in its activities.

But labor also has recognized that it can promote both the welfare of its members and the general welfare if it supports government intervention where it is both responsible and necessary.

Its own decades-long fight for recognition resulted in laws guaranteeing its right to bargain.

On other fronts, it sponsored and vigorously pressed social welfare legislation which has removed the peril of poverty from almost all our population.

Labor's support of unemployment insurance, disability benefits, minimum wages, fair labor standards, health and welfare and pension plans and a multitude of other measures benefited all our people, not simply union members.

To obtain these things meant government intervention; but because it was responsible intervention, labor approved.

In the process, it demonstrated its changing character—from an institution which was primarily economic to one which was sociological and political as well.

Last year, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, recognized the need for uniform standards of conduct in labor-management relations when he supported the Kennedy-Ives Bill in Congress.

Unfortunately, that bill was killed in the House of Representatives.

Its defeat by extremists on both sides means that we at the state level must show the way to the Federal Government in enacting a law which does establish minimum standards.

We must make certain that opposition by the same groups that killed Kennedy-Ives will not delay action in this vital field. We must lead, not follow.

Our state law must not be punitive or restrictive. It must assist, not obstruct, the collective bargaining process.

It must be fair legislation, impartial legislation, and it must be effective legislation.

I have caused to be drafted a series of amendments to the State Labor Code which I believe meet those requirements. I respectfully submit them to this distinguished Legislature for consideration.

The first of my proposals sets up standard democratic procedures for unions.

Virtually all union constitutions or bylaws already contain these procedures. Some, however, do not, and a few unscrupulous men—inside and outside labor—have used this situation for selfish motives.

Therefore, I recommend that the State Labor Code be amended to require that union constitutions or bylaws provide that local units of labor organizations hold a minimum of 10 regular meetings each year, that adequate notice of both regular meetings and meetings held to nominate and elect officers be given, and that minutes of meetings be kept and be made available to members.

This amendment also should require that union constitutions or bylaws provide that no business may be transacted at a meeting of a local unit unless a reasonable quorum is present, that members be given reasonable opportunity to nominate candidates for office or other representatives, that they be given reasonable opportunity to vote in elections, that all elections be by secret ballot, and that they be held at least once every three years. Provisions also should be made for recall of officers for misconduct.

I further recommend that the financial transactions of employee and employer representatives be regulated.

Unions should be required to file with the Department of Industrial Relations copies of their constitutions, bylaws or governing rules and practices.

The acceptance of money or anything else of value by any official representative or employee of a union from an employer or his representative with the understanding it will influence the official actions of such union official, representative or employee should be prohibited. Violation would be a misdemeanor.

We also must guard against the possibility that a conflict of interest in a labor union official's business holdings might lead to collusive labor contracts leading to low wages and poor working conditions for the union's members.

Therefore, I recommend that union officials and employees, other than clerical employees, be required to file reports of any stock, bond or other interest they hold in a company with which the union negotiates, in any company which does a substantial part of its business with a company with which the union negotiates or in any company which does business with the union itself. We should also require that they report any payment received directly or indirectly from any employer or any person who acts as an expert, adviser or consultant to an employer.

It is not the intent of these proposals to reveal the strength or weakness of a union so that it would be at a disadvantage in collective bargaining. Similarly it is not the intent that a union official's private financial affairs be laid bare to the public when we do not require that sort of disclosure from any other citizen. It is, however, the intent that union members, for whom the union exists, be permitted to know the financial structure of their organization and be assured that the conduct of their officers in financial affairs touching the union is above reproach.

For that reason, the legislation I propose requires that the reports be confidential, except that they must be made available for inspection by union members upon request and may be used by the department for compilation of statistical data without disclosing the names of the persons or organizations involved.

To assure standards for achieving the same purpose on the management side of the bargaining table, I recommend legislation which would prohibit an employer, or any person who acts as a labor relations expert or representative of an employer from giving any money or other thing of value to a representative of a labor organization with intent to influence his official actions or decisions. Violation of this provision would be a misdemeanor.

Any employer, corporation or association which paid money or any other thing of value for the purpose of influencing employees or their representatives in the collective bargaining process or in their right to organize, or for the purpose of investigating a labor organization, its members or representatives, would be required to file annual reports of such expenditures.

I propose also that any organization, corporation or consultant receiving such money or thing of value be required to file similar annual reports.

These reports also would be confidential, with the exceptions already noted in connection with the reports of labor organizations and their officials.

I propose also that the terms under which a parent labor organization imposes a so-called trusteeship on a subordinate body be made subject to certain safeguards.

Trusteeship often is a legitimate and necessary device for correcting abuses, eliminating subversive influences, or restoring democracy in a subordinate organization.

But the device sometimes is abused. It has been used in a few instances to restrict rather than to promote democratic procedures.

I propose that a report be required of the parent labor organization, to be filed with the department, setting forth the reasons for imposing the trusteeship.

The legislation I propose would require that during the period of trusteeship it would be unlawful to count the votes of delegates from the subordinate body in any convention or election of officers unless the delegates were chosen by a secret ballot vote among all the members of the subordinate body in good standing.

It also would be unlawful for the parent labor organization to commingle the funds or assets of the subordinate body with its own or to use the subordinate body's funds or assets for any purpose other than expenses of the trusteeship, expenses for conducting the affairs of the subordinate body, or the normal per capita tax and assessments payable by subordinate bodies not in trusteeship.

The trusteeship could be imposed only in accordance with the constitution or bylaws of the parent labor organization. It could not be imposed for any longer than one year, except for good cause shown to the Department of Industrial Relations.

The legislation gives any union member, labor organization or employer the right to seek enforcement of these uniform standards by submitting a petition to the department.

In addition, any person aggrieved by a decision or order of the Department of Industrial Relations relating to this portion of the act would expressly be assured the right to petition the courts for relief.

The department itself would be permitted to promulgate rules and regulations for the implementation of these procedures and would be empowered to take all proceedings necessary for the enforcement of its decisions and orders.

Finally, to obviate the necessity for duplicate and overlapping reports, the legislation provides that any of its provisions subsequently covered by federal law shall become inoperative.

I turn now to an area in which California law has long been deficient. Correcting this deficiency, in my opinion, would assist materially in improving the collective bargaining process and in assuring labor-management peace.

California has no machinery whereby employees working in intra-state commerce may select or reject a union as their collective bargaining representative. The result has been detrimental to the best interests of the employees, of organized labor, of the employers and of the public itself.

I recommend that you approve legislation setting up such machinery.

It would provide that whenever one or more unions claim to represent a majority of employees in a given unit, the labor organization or organizations involved would be permitted to file a petition for a representation election with the Department of Industrial Relations.

The department would be empowered to conduct hearings and to hold self-determination elections among the employees involved to determine what should be an appropriate unit. It also would be empowered to hold secret-ballot elections among employees in the designated unit to determine whether or not they wished to be represented by a union and which union they wanted as their collective bargaining agent. It would certify the union receiving a majority of the votes cast as the collective bargaining representative.

The legislation I propose would provide that following such certification a second election in the designated unit could not be held for at least a year, or until the expiration of a collective bargaining agreement, provided that in any event the restriction not run beyond two years.

This legislation does two things.

It closes the gap in our intrastate collective bargaining machinery, and it corrects what I think is a fundamental error in our present Jurisdictional Strike Act.

That act defines a jurisdictional strike as being, among other things, any concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of an employer's operation or business arising out of a controversy between two or more unions over which of them has or should have the exclusive right to bargain with an employer on behalf of his employees.

I respectfully submit that this is a representation, not a jurisdictional dispute. The machinery I have recommended would provide for the resolution of such a dispute, whereas present law merely provides that an injunction to halt economic action may be sought.

A second section of this legislation would provide machinery for the resolution of a true jurisdictional strike, which is correctly defined in the present Jurisdictional Strike Act as a concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of an employer's operation or business arising out of a controversy between two or more unions as to which of them has or should have the exclusive right to have its members perform work for the employer.

This section would provide that any employer whose employees become involved in a jurisdictional strike, or any of his employees, or any labor organization involved, may petition the Department of Industrial Relations to determine whether a true jurisdictional strike exists.

Excluded from the definition of a labor organization would be any organization, agency, committee or group which is, in whole or in part, financed, interfered with, assisted financially, dominated or controlled by any employer.

This would eliminate the possibility that an unscrupulous employer whose employees were on strike for other than jurisdictional reasons might encourage or set up a dummy or company union and then petition the courts for an injunction halting the strike on the grounds it was jurisdictional.

Upon the filing of a petition the department would be required to investigate the dispute summarily and within 48 hours either dismiss the petition or issue notice that a hearing would be held to determine whether a true jurisdictional strike exists.

Upon issuance of the notice, any concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of an employer's operation or business arising out of the controversy would be required to cease and could not be resumed while the department maintains jurisdiction over the case.

Once the department determined that a true jurisdictional strike exists, the unions involved would have three choices.

They could submit the dispute to a final and binding decision to a tribunal of their affiliated organizations, or they could submit it to arbitration. In both cases, if the department found any concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of any employer's operation or business arising out of the controversy, it could order such action to cease and not be resumed.

The third choice would permit the unions by mutual consent to submit the dispute to a final and binding decision by the Department of Industrial Relations. In making its decision, the department would be required to consider rules and working practices in the organizations and industries involved and to make a decision which would be in the public interest.

These choices retain the element of voluntarism. They encourage unions to resolve jurisdictional strikes through their own machinery. And they permit unions to have the State resolve those disputes if they wish.

In any event, harassment of an employer or action detrimental to the public good by the unions involved is prohibited in a true jurisdictional strike.

The department would be empowered to take necessary action to enforce its decisions and orders, and any aggrieved person would have the right of judicial review.

Since this legislation prohibits economic action arising out of a true jurisdictional strike, I recommend that you repeal the present injunctive provisions of the Jurisdictional Strike Act.

Those provisions have not served their purpose. Indeed, they have led to bitterness and strife. They have sometimes been used to throw the power of the courts behind one of the parties in the collective bargaining process.

The legislation I propose would keep government's hand to a minimum in collective bargaining. But it would prohibit economic action involving the public or an employer in a dispute between two unions and at the same time help solve such disputes, something present law fails to do.

In my opinion, the legislation I have outlined here is reasonable.

I am aware that we already have a vast bulwark of criminal laws against fraud, embezzlement, assault and other abuses.

But just as we have found it necessary to enact laws applying to other specific fields, I believe we must today apply specific laws to labor-management relations.

I am certain that the proposals made here are no more—but certainly no less—than was demanded by the people and is required by the circumstances existing in this field.

I believe they meet the tests of being fair and impartial, of being effective, of being neither punitive nor restrictive, and of assisting, not obstructing, the collective bargaining process.

I would hope and expect that reasonable men on both sides of the bargaining table, men of every political persuasion could agree on their merit and their necessity.

It is with confidence, therefore, in the judgment of all parties concerned that I recommend that this Legislature enact these proposals into law.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Fisher asked for and was granted unanimous consent to have the following communication from the State Department of Water Resources printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES

*Honorable Hugo Fisher
40th Senatorial District
State Capitol
Sacramento, California*

DEAR SENATOR FISHER: In response to your request when you were in my office on January 8, 1959, we are pleased to furnish the following information concerning geologic exploration of the Oroville Dam site and the studies that have been made of the site from the standpoint of its suitability for the large dam proposed.

Geologic explorations at Oroville Dam site have been conducted by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the United States Department of Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, and by the California State Department of Water Resources.

The Corps of Engineers completed two diamond drill holes, one each in the right and left abutments, in the spring of 1944, with a total length of 282 feet. During May and June, 1947, the Bureau of Reclamation completed six diamond drill holes with a total length of 700 feet.

The preliminary phase of geologic exploration at Oroville Dam site by the State of California, was started in September, 1952, and was carried on until October, 1954. During this period, 44 diamond drill holes with an aggregate footage of 5,369 feet were completed at the dam site. In addition, exploratory tunnels and associated drifts were completed in each abutment with an aggregate length of 2,286 feet. Results of this exploration are presented in a report by the Department of Public Works, Division of Water Resources, entitled, "Geologic Report on Preliminary Exploration of the Oroville Dam Site, Butte County, California," May, 1955.

Upon appropriation of funds to initiate the preparation of final design of the Oroville Dam in 1956, the final phase of geologic exploration of the site was started and has continued to the present time. Because of the unprecedented magnitude of this dam, a more extensive exploration program has been carried out than is ordinarily considered necessary. In fact, Oroville Dam site has been more extensively investigated prior to initiation of actual construction than has been the case with any other dam of which I am aware.

During this final phase of the exploratory program, a total of 48 diamond drill core holes with a total length of 5,558 feet have been drilled. Two additional exploratory tunnels with numerous crosscuts have been driven with a total length of 2,254 feet. The rock types and structures penetrated by these drill holes and exploratory tunnels have been carefully logged and photographed, and geologic maps, profiles and sections prepared to show these data. Supplementing these geologic maps and sections, a three-dimensional "peg model" showing graphically the location and formations penetrated by all the drill holes and exploratory tunnels has been constructed and is being currently kept up to date at the Oroville office.

In addition, laboratory experiments have been conducted on representative core samples to determine the structural properties of the rocks. This work has been done in both the United States Bureau of Reclamation's laboratory in Denver, Colorado, and the University of California's laboratory at Berkeley. These laboratory tests were supplemented by seismic explorations to evaluate the elastic properties of the rock in place. This work was under the direction of Mr. Dart Wantland of the United States Bureau of Reclamation.

In 1957, the two exploratory tunnels, one on either abutment, each penetrated a zone in which weathering of the rock has progressed to substantially greater depths than over most of the site. Subsequently in 1958, these so-called "shear zones" have been more thoroughly explored to determine their exact extent.

After the shear zone on the left abutment was exposed for detailed examination by the exploratory tunnel, it was carefully examined by Mr. Roger Rhoades, Consulting Geologist. In a letter dated June 28, 1957, he expressed the opinion that, although this shear zone presented a design problem, there appeared to be no reason why an adequate dam of the height contemplated could not be safely constructed at this site. The concluding paragraph of the letter is quoted as follows:

"In summary, the adit has disclosed details of the conditions within this sheared and weathered zone, and have accordingly clarified our understanding of the zone, but, in my opinion, the feasibility of constructing a dam is not jeopardized by any condition that has been disclosed. Clearly substantial remedial measures will be required in this zone and probably in others. This is not an uncommon condition in the foundations of large dams. In fact, it is a very rare dam site that does not require locally intensive remedial measures. The measures that would be required here will not be unique in character—this zone will be amenable to treatment by standard procedures of construction.”

These zones of limited length and variable thickness contain sheared and somewhat weathered rock. They represent ancient structural features associated with the geologic development of the Sierra Nevada Mountain system. Ancient shear zones of this type are very common throughout the mountainous areas of the State and are quite distinct from the large, well known faults which cause the great percentage of earthquakes in California. These great faults, in contrast with the ancient small shear zones, are extensive in length and width. For example, the great San Andreas fault is clearly traceable for over 650 miles from the Mexican border to Point Arena in Northern California, and crushed and broken rock zones exceed one-half mile in thickness.

Active faults of this type are centered many miles from the Oroville Dam site. For example, two active faults in Northern California, the San Andreas and Hayward, are respectively 110 and 140 miles west from the dam site. To the east, approximately 90 miles from the dam site, the northern extension of the Sierra Nevada fault zone is active.

These major active fault systems account for the great percentage of recorded earthquakes in California. Recent seismicity studies by the State, indicate that Oroville Dam site is in an area of relatively light seismic activity. For example, Dr. C. F. Richter, Professor of Seismology, California Institute of Technology, indicates in his “Seismic Regionalization” map of California, that Oroville Dam site, located in the Sierra Nevada area, is in one of several areas of least potential seismic activity in California.

Dr. Perry Byerly, Professor of Seismology, University of California at Berkeley, the department’s consultant on seismicity, has examined the records of exploration at Oroville Dam site and stated:

“There are two shear zones in the rock foundation of the proposed Oroville Dam. The seismological record of the area indicates that these are not connected with active faults. Motion on them need not be feared. Mountainous regions of the earth are seamed with dead faults.”

There are no active faults within or near the Oroville Dam site.

Despite the remoteness of the Oroville Dam site from known seismic areas, the standard structural practices of applying earthquake forces in design in California are being followed.

In June, 1956, immediately after authorization of the final design studies of Oroville Dam, a consulting board of eminent experts in this field was retained to advise the department and review our work. This board consists of Messrs. John J. Hammond, Raymond A. Hill, Roger Rhoades, Byram W. Steele, and B. E. Torpen. In addition to this board, Mr. Augustine H. Ayers was retained to give advice on construction problems and cost estimating.

Mr. Hammond, consulting civil engineer, was until retirement, Chief of Dam Design for the United States Bureau of Reclamation in Denver, Colorado, in which position he had been intimately connected with the design of all dams for the Bureau of Reclamation in the 17 western states. In his present capacity as consulting engineer, he has had international practice and has been called in consultation on dam design projects in Japan and other foreign countries.

Mr. Hill, member of the consulting engineering firm of Leeds, Hill and Jewett in Los Angeles, has designed several dams in the State of California, as well as other parts of the United States. In addition, Mr. Hill had been called in consultation on design of dams in Pakistan, Australia, and in the middle eastern countries.

Mr. Rhoades, consulting engineering geologist, was formerly Chief Geologist for the United States Bureau of Reclamation in Denver, Colorado, and for the Tennessee Valley Authority. Since entering the field of consulting engineering geology in 1952, he has been retained on the design of several dams in the State of California, as well as dams for the Snowy Mountain Authority in Australia, and dams in Pakistan. Of particular interest, in the present instance, is his association with the Bechtel Corporation in the design of the Swift Creek Dam in Washington, one of the highest embankment dams in the world.

Mr. Steele, consulting civil engineer, has had a long career in the design of masonry dams beginning with the Bureau of Reclamation's Arrowrock Dam in Idaho. After his work with the Bureau of Reclamation, he joined the United States Corps of Engineers and was for many years employed in the Chief of Engineer's office in a consulting capacity where he reviewed and assisted in the design of nearly all of the Corps of Engineers' dams constructed in the last 20 years. Since his retirement in 1951 he has engaged in the practice of consulting engineering in connection with dam design both in this Country and abroad.

Mr. Torpen, consulting civil engineer, has been engaged in dam design and allied civil engineering work for the past 40 years. His work embraced assignments in South America, the Soviet Union, and India, as well as extensive work in the United States. During the years 1933 to 1952, he was with the United States Corps of Engineers engaged principally in the design of dams in the Pacific Northwest. At the present time he is with the Pacific Power and Light Company in Portland, Oregon, in a consulting capacity on dams and power development.

Mr. Augustine H. Ayers, consulting civil engineer, has been identified with heavy construction work since 1924. From 1930 to 1936, he was Chief Engineer for Six Companies, contractors for the construction of Hoover Dam. From 1936 to 1953, he was connected with the Utah Construction Company as engineer and project manager. In this capacity, he worked on a large number of projects, including the Delaware aqueduct tunnels for the City of New York, the Nantaballa Dam, and many other large projects. Since 1953, he has engaged in private practice of civil engineering as consultant on a number of dam projects, including Swift Dam in Washington, Mammoth Pool Dam in California, and construction work in Australia.

Since the formation of the Oroville Dam Consulting Board in 1956, eight meetings have been held. At these meetings the members of the board have given particular attention to the geologic exploration of the dam site, reviewing the work performed and giving advice as to additional exploration which should be carried out. The designs of five alternative types of dams studied for the Oroville site were carefully reviewed by the board with particular reference to the foundation conditions. Culminating this study and review on November 14, 1958, the members of the consulting board and Mr. Ayers prepared a written recommendation to the Department, stating that in their opinion the Oroville site was suitable for an embankment type of dam which would be safe and economical to construct. The pertinent conclusion of the board is quoted as follows:

“ . . . The board believes, however, that the site is suitable for an embankment type of dam having conservative dimensions and that such a dam would be safe and economical to construct . . . ”

At this meeting, the Oroville Dam Consulting Board also recommended a further exploration program directed particularly to furnish the further information required for final design and to reduce the possibility of encountering unanticipated foundation problems during construction. This program includes additional geologic investigations; the drilling of 36 shallow core holes for the stability section; 23 deep core holes in the impervious and cutoff section; 21 deep core holes in structure areas such as intake site, powerhouse site, and diversion tunnels; 7 shallow core holes in spillway channel; and an exploration tunnel in the intake area.

From the foregoing description, it is evident that a very thorough geologic investigation of the Oroville Dam site has been made and carefully considered by eminently qualified experts. There is no question but that the embankment type of dam can be constructed at this site with no hazard whatsoever.

If you should require additional information, please do not hesitate to call upon me.

Very truly yours,

WATER MESSAGE TO LEGISLATURE

by

EDMUND G. BROWN

GOVERNOR

Sacramento, January 22, 1959

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature: May I first of all thank you for your courtesy in arranging this joint session of the Legislature. I have asked to come here today, under these extraordinary circumstances, so that we can meet together as the single voice of all the people of California. I have come to present a water program which I believe is rational, realistic, and responsive to the needs of all the people of California.

Our State is magnificently varied in its resources, its scenery, its industry, and its people. Providence, as I said in my Inaugural Message, seems intent on making us a great people in a great State.

Yet, in spite of our great endowment, it has become the fashion in recent years to dwell on our water problems as being awesome and impossibly complicated. We have brooded over the expense and become lost in a forest of fear. In prior sessions of the Legislature, the result has been delay and frustration.

This stalemate must come to an end. If we take courage and put our fears behind us, we can replace narrow, sectional differences with confident, pioneering leadership. This the people of California demand and deserve.

It is not the lack of water which creates the problem we meet to discuss. Indeed, the average runoff exceeds our requirements by a safe margin.

The core of our problem is distribution. We do not have enough water when and where we need it. We have too much water when and where we do not need it. Thus, it is obvious that we must build dams to capture water which would otherwise escape, and we must build canals and aqueducts to transport the water we have saved to the communities where it is needed.

To accomplish these vital tasks, our State has a great natural advantage. The physical setting of the delta of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers is a gift from nature that we have never fully appreciated.

Above the delta, we have both a supply of water and the sites to store it. Within the delta, we have the natural point of convergence. When we wish to export water to an area of need lying to the south, the delta can serve as the pool, or, if you please, as the tap from which the water can flow.

Every year there are 3,000,000 acre-feet of water in the Sacramento-San Joaquin delta which are not being used. At present, the water goes wasting out to sea through the Golden Gate. We must build the facilities for offstream storage and move this water to areas where it is urgently needed. Unless we save this surplus water, we waste a precious natural resource and fail the people of our State.

We should remember that we store water, not alone for future use, but also to avoid flood damage. To protect human life and valuable property, we must arrest our rivers in their headlong rush to the sea. Because the Federal Government contributes funds for flood control, we must impress the Congress with our urgent needs. We will also have to provide state funds to insure that flood control projects will be available for multipurpose use—not simply for flood control.

From our water development program, we should also create new sources of electrical energy. An ample supply of low-cost power is absolutely essential to our industrial future and to the needs of all our people. The State, too, will need an enormous amount of power to operate the pumps which are required to carry the water from areas of surplus to areas of need.

Fortunately, the extra cost of adding power facilities to our water projects is small in relation to the cost of the projects and small in relation to the resulting benefits. In addition, revenues from the sale of power enable us to furnish water and other benefits to deserving areas of our economy which cannot pay the total cost of water. As an example, I cite the Central Valley Project, where the production of power has benefited our whole economy.

In planning our water projects, we must give a high priority to recreation and to the development of our fish and wildlife resources. As our population grows and our leisure time increases, recreation requires added recognition as a beneficial use of water. Projects developed for recreational purposes provide our people with wholesome diversion and a happier and fuller life. At the same time, they stimulate the growth of portions of our State where recreation is the primary industry.

Against the background of these general observations, I propose the following program for water development.

First: I propose that this session of the Legislature appropriate 38 million dollars from the Investment Fund to start on a construction program. It is time to start moving dirt and stop throwing mud. This is the beginning of a positive program for water development. In considering this 38-million-dollar appropriation and subsequent expenses, I want to emphasize that the major cost of water development is eventually repaid from project revenues.

Second: I propose that we commit the entire Investment Fund to water development. This fund is unique in that it was built up through the depletion of a great natural resource, our offshore oil. I am determined that it shall be dedicated to the development of another precious resource, our water.

Third: I propose that in 1960 we authorize a general obligation bond issue in the neighborhood of 500 million dollars to complete the program outlined in this message. To all of you, I pledge that I will fight to obtain adequate financing to complete the great aqueduct south. And to all of you, I pledge that I will fight to obtain adequate financing to provide the other facilities throughout the State necessary to meet the needs of our people.

Fourth: We must encourage the federal government to finance water projects designed for navigation, flood control, and irrigation. Considering the condition of our budget, it is plain nonsense to resist federal aid. I am glad to see that the old hostility to federal funds is now mellowing. We should use federal aid wherever we can, but we must also remember that we have our own responsibilities in the development of our water resources.

Fifth: We should undertake the development of our water resources on a comprehensive statewide basis. Local agencies, of course, must be encouraged to move ahead with those projects which have a primarily local impact. Yet, I am convinced that there must be an integrated statewide development of the massive works which affect many communities. Only thus can we prevent duplication and waste. Only thus can we avoid Balkanizing our state into competing water provinces.

Sixth: Many of the principles now applicable to the operation of utilities should guide us in the development of our state water resources. Thus, we should recognize our obligation to insure that water will be available to meet the proper demands of every part of the State. As in the case of a utility, we should be able to enlarge our facilities to bring more water into the delta pool and recover the cost from the system as a whole. Just as the first man to get a telephone does not enjoy a lower rate, so those who are first served by state water projects should not have a privileged status.

As long as the Legislature guides our water development, we can be certain that the system will be completed and administered in fairness and equity. Those who would doubt this are questioning, not the water program, but rather the fundamental basis of democratic government.

In explaining this program, I have made no attempt to answer every conceivable question or satisfy all extremists. In addition, I have put to one side the question of a constitutional amendment. After long thought, I have concluded that an amendment is not necessary to an affirmative water program. Beyond that, I have found that there is no general agreement on what the contents of such an amendment should be. I am not hostile to an amendment and I am not closing the door on one. But I am convinced that our positive program of water development should not be delayed by further frustrating debate over the terms of a constitutional amendment.

Now let us look at the main points of the 38-million-dollar construction program which I propose for this year.

The great aqueduct system from the delta to the south is a key to pressing problems of water supply. By carrying water to Southern California the aqueduct will supply the area where the human need is the greatest. On the way southward, the aqueduct system will also serve areas of critical water shortage.

I urge you to appropriate 10.7 million dollars to enable us to start at both ends of this great aqueduct system. 1.3 million dollars would be for aqueduct rights-of-way from the delta to the San Luis Reservoir site. 3.8 million dollars would be for the rights-of-way from San Luis to southern Kern County. And 3.3 million dollars would be for rights-of-way for the aqueduct system into Southern California.

The remaining 2.3 million dollars would be used to complete the acquisition of the San Luis Reservoir site. This will provide an important portion of the State's share of the joint San Luis Project. I am determined that the dam at San Luis shall be constructed to its full height so that we can store 2.1 million acre-feet in the reservoir.

In the past few days bills have been introduced by Senators Engle and Kuehel and Congressmen Sisk and Johnson to authorize federal participation in the San Luis Project. I will do everything in my power to insure the passage of these bills. I see in them a reasonable compromise of the intrastate conflicts which have been a roadblock to this vital project. We must not allow disputes within the California family to delay us further.

There is also a vital need for a South Bay Aqueduct to bring water from the delta to Alameda and Contra Costa Counties and portions of northern Santa Clara County. I am asking you to appropriate 7.9 million dollars for rights-of-way and for initial construction of this facility.

The units proposed for immediate construction will serve the Livermore Valley and the Niles Cone area where fresh water is urgently needed to prevent sea water encroachment into the underground basin. When Santa Clara representatives have completed their studies, the South Bay Aqueduct can be extended to northern Santa Clara County.

The Department of Water Resources has recommended that water service to southern Santa Clara, San Benito, and Santa Cruz Counties should be provided by a Pacheco Pass route. I will urge the Bureau of Reclamation to accelerate their studies as to the feasibility of serving these areas as part of the Federal Central Valley Project.

The use of the delta as a collecting pool will require the construction of works to guard against sea water encroachment in the westerly portion of the delta. We are well aware of the hydraulic problems of the delta and the complex questions regarding water rights in that area. The Department of Water Resources has been studying this matter for a long time and, remarkably enough, there appears to be a relatively inexpensive physical solution. By April 1st, when these studies will be completed, I expect to ask an appropriation to begin the initial work for bringing fresh water to the threatened delta areas and thus also to permit increased diversions from the delta.

Let us now turn to consider facilities above the delta.

There are, of course, also areas in need of water which cannot be served from the delta. For example, Sierra Valley in Plumas and Sierra Counties is critically short of water necessary to support its agricultural economy. To provide service for this area, I will ask for 2.4 million dollars for rights-of-way and construction of upstream features of the Feather River unit. The principal one of these would be Frenchman Reservoir.

I will also ask for the appropriation of 11.9 million dollars for construction of the combination railroad and highway bridge over the west branch of the Feather River. The bridge will enable us to use the new high-speed highway which is being completed this year.

A board of consulting engineers is conducting a study to determine whether construction on the Feather River should be started at Bidwell Bar instead of Oroville. On this technical question, I intend to accept the judgment of the Department of Water Resources after it has had the benefit of the study which will be completed on February 1st. I will then ask for funds to carry forward this major work on the Feather River which is vitally necessary for flood control.

Let me now turn to consider additional flood control works. I will ask for 7.3 million dollars as the State's share of the Black Butte Project presently under construction on Stony Creek in Tehama County. I will also ask for 6.4 million dollars for the State's share of the New Hogan Reservoir on the Calaveras River. Since the 1958 Legislature appropriated 10 million dollars of this amount, only 3.7 million dollars in new money is involved.

These are multipurpose projects, which are urgently needed for flood control, but are not immediately required for water conservation in their local areas. The flood control benefits will be paid for by the United States. If the State will assure repayment to the United States for the conservation features, we can move forward with these construction projects. Since the State's entire financial obligation will be eventually repaid from the sale of water made available by these projects, I urge their approval now.

We must also bend our efforts to develop an economical means of obtaining fresh water from the ocean. Therefore, I request an appropriation of 1.6 million dollars for use in co-operation with the United States in the construction of a sea water conversion plant. This plant, which will probably be located in Southern California, will include a nuclear reactor as a source of energy.

Turning to federal matters, I intend to urge the Congress of the United States to take the following action:

Authorize construction of the Auburn, Buchanan and Hidden River dams and the Folsom canals;

Appropriate approximately 60 million dollars for flood control construction and 70 million dollars for reclamation in the State next year, and

Take the necessary steps to insure that water can be delivered in the Sacramento Valley canals area.

Further, I will urge the Federal Government to construct the power features of the Trinity Division and distribute the power in accordance with existing federal law. The State itself will purchase a large volume of Trinity power to operate the pumps for its water projects. I am firmly opposed to the suggested partnership arrangement. Such an arrangement would deny to the State the preference that public agencies are now granted by federal law.

I also intend to press for the enactment by Congress of the Engle-Kuehl Bill which would permit low-cost federal loans for irrigation features of projects which are primarily municipal and industrial in character.

In this broad statement I have emphasized the first and immediate steps that we must take. But in our long-range plans for water development, we must and we will give thought to the future facilities that will undoubtedly be needed as our State grows. These will include additional local projects, expansion of the aqueduct systems, new works in the delta, master drains for the Central Valley, and, at the proper time, importation of water from the Eel River system and other streams of the North Coastal area.

By all these recommendations, I have sought to bring the forward force of responsible liberalism to the specific problem of water. As I conclude, I would emphasize that our problem lies, not so much in the control and use of our rivers, as in ourselves. Let us resolve to prove that we are one State, one people, and that we can produce one good water program. Let us grow with the strength of unity, as we begin to fulfill our destiny of greatness.

BUDGET MESSAGE

By

GOVERNOR EDMUND G. BROWN

To the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California:

The budget is a stern test of our principles. It reveals our values and spotlights our goals. It is, indeed, a ledger of our character, our choices, and our courage.

I welcome the challenge of the budget. This is a meaningful opportunity to show that liberal leadership can be also responsible leadership. I have prepared a fair and forthright budget, and I am prepared to fight for it.

For years now, we have been deceiving ourselves about our State finances. Despite an expanding economy, we have spent far more than we have taken in. In the last three fiscal years, including the current year, General Fund expenditures will have exceeded revenues by more than $323 million. In the 1958-59 fiscal year alone the deficiency of current revenues is estimated at $147.5 million.

Up to now it has been possible to avoid facing up to the fiscal realities because surpluses built up during and after the war and held in so-called "reserve" funds or in the General Fund have been used to meet the deficits. But these fund balances are now exhausted or needed elsewhere. By using the fund surpluses to meet annual deficits we have succeeded only in postponing the day of reckoning. That day is now upon us.

Again this year, we have been told that we can dodge the hard facts of fiscal life. We have been urged to invade the Investment Fund and abandon our vital water program. I am determined that we shall not do this. We must have the courage to face our financial responsibilities without flinching.

We must now put our State back in the black. To do this, I offer neither platitudes nor panaceas. There will be no fancy schemes and no money miracles. I bring you, instead, economy in government, a balanced budget, and a sound program for financing it.

Although the incoming Governor has no Constitutional or other responsibility for the $68.4 million deficit we are inheriting, I have concluded that it must be erased as rapidly as possible.

These are stringent times, and this is a stringent budget. We have examined the expenditure requests of every department and agency with rigorous care. There have been no special preserves or privileged exceptions.

To run our State departments I have appointed able, frugal executives. I have given them firm instructions and full authority to launch an aggressive economy drive. I intend to reward people who save money. We are already on our way to saving five million dollars before this fiscal year is out.

The increases in the budget reflect the paramount needs of our people. We are a great State with great resources. We would confuse responsibility with timidity if we failed to meet the vital needs of our people. Thus, for instance, no austerity aims have prevented us from providing funds for a Fair Employment Practices Commission, from increasing the funds for smog research, or from providing medical care for permanently disabled persons.

No matter how determined we are to make economies, we must recognize that our expenses are increasing.

As our population expands, so inevitably do costs for such items as schools, mental hospitals, courts, and prisons. We must be prepared to accept both the perils and the promise of our magnificent growth.

If we are to restore fiscal solvency to our State—and I say we must—we will need $200 million in new revenues next year. I have proposed a revenue program which will not only balance next year's budget but will serve us well as a fiscal vehicle in the years ahead.

In the proposed program, our goal has been to obtain broadly based revenues with contribution fairly geared to overall ability to pay. We have not surrendered to the power of vested interests or to the fear of public clamor. We have refused to yield to pressures to favor business or labor, industry or consumers. After long and intensive study, our program has been carefully fashioned to make the ultimate burden fall equitably on all of our people, and on all segments of our economy.

When we balance our budget with current revenues, we take a long stride toward responsible leadership. But we must remember that a balanced budget is not an end in itself. The budget exists, not as an exercise in bookkeeping, but as a measure of a government's service to its people. Only if our total program is confident, pioneering, and responsive to the needs of the people can we properly take credit for fiscal solvency. Even in the drama of the budget, people are more important than dollars.

1957-58 AND 1958-59 DEFICITS

In 1957-58 General Fund expenditures exceeded General Fund revenues by $135.7 million. This deficit was met by application of a surplus from the preceding fiscal year of $110.2 million plus transfers from other funds of $32.3 million, thus leaving a General Fund surplus at June 30, 1958, of $6.8 million.

In January 1958 when the current 1958-59 Budget was presented it had been anticipated that required transfers from other funds to balance the 1957-58 Budget would be less than $12 million and that the carry-over surplus would be $8 million. The current budget (1958-59) was presented to the Legislature in January 1958 as a balanced budget. At the time the current budget was adopted spending was estimated to exceed revenues by $99.2 million, and it was proposed to balance the budget by transfers from other funds of $91.2 million and by application of the expected $8 million surplus from 1957-58.

Since the 1958 session of the Legislature, however, several things happened. There was a substantial decline in estimated revenues for 1958-59, and a substantial increase in estimated expenditures. To meet the 1957-58 deficit required use of about $20 million more of reserve funds than had been anticipated. Since substantially all of the balances in these funds (except the Investment Fund) would have been exhausted by June 30, 1959, in balancing the current budget, this had a cumulative effect.

As presently estimated, expenditures for the current fiscal year will exceed current revenues by $147.5 million, and the resulting General Fund deficit at June 30, 1959, will be $68.4 million.

This figure is exclusive of $7.2 million remaining unexpended from $7.5 million appropriated in 1957 from the General Fund to meet in part the capital expenditure program for the new State Fair. Since overall financing plans for this project include the marketing of authorized revenue bonds in the total amount of $13 million and since it is doubtful when funds from this source can be made available, it is not anticipated that the $7.2 million referred to will be expended in the current fiscal year. Hence this latter figure has been excluded from expenditures in calculating the deficit expected at June 30, 1959. For the same reason further expenditure from this appropriation for the 1959-60 Fiscal Year is not included in this budget.

1959-60 EXPENDITURE PROGRAM

Formulation of the proposed budget has included a careful review of departmental requests. Wherever possible, without impairing needed State services or working a hardship on recipients of such services, these have been modified to reduce net expenditures. Major policy determinations in this area are noted in the budget document, and involve total reductions in departmental requests for General Fund expenditures of some $24 million. Budget requests for new functions or increased levels of service totaling $21.5 million were submitted. Of these, only $3.6 million have been approved. (These figures do not include the Department of Education request to the Legislature for an increased level of public school support.)

Mental Hygiene. In the Mental Hygiene budget, I am recommending a $9 million increase in appropriation over 1958-59 to provide for the opening of new facilities and growth factors, plus a $1.5 million increase to provide for improved and expanded programs. This latter amount covers augmentation of the inservice training programs, psychiatric research activities, increases in professional, technical and nursing staff levels, and increased allowances for special drugs. A nonproductive statistical research unit has been deleted, thus saving $50,000. The budget also proposes elimination of 49 food service assistants for small congregate dining rooms serving less than 125 patients. This service can be adequately handled by regular ward personnel, with a resultant saving of $146,000.

Public Health. In addition to normal growth factor increases in expenditures, the budget provides $508,000 for new programs in connection with radiation hazards, air pollution research, and related activities. The subsidy for mosquito abatement has been eliminated except for districts now taxing at the maximum 40-cent tax rate. This will save $390,000. I recommend that in computing subsidies to the counties for tuberculosis sanatoria, we adjust the amounts to recognize the repayments the counties receive from paying patients. This will save $260,000.

Inaugural Message Programs. In my inaugural address, I presented certain proposals for new or augmented programs. Included in the budget is a total of $1.7 million for these proposals, as follows:

To provide medical care for permanently disabled persons.....	$514,620
To establish an Economic Development Agency.....	350,000
To establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission.....	240,000
To enable the Department of Public Health to maintain guard against levels of radioactivity that may endanger life or health.....	239,216
To supply additional funds for concentrated research on the causes and prevention of air pollution.....	162,307
To initiate special handling and treatment of paroled narcotic addicts.....	125,000
To establish the office of Consumer Counsel.....	45,000
To establish co-ordination of activities directed toward problems arising from the use of radioactive materials.....	22,705
Total	$1,698,848

Salary Increases. In its annual report dated December 23, 1957, the Personnel Board recommended a 3 percent salary increase for all employees under its jurisdiction for 1958-59. Funds to implement this recommendation were eliminated by the 1958 Legislature. In its last report of December 5, 1958, the board recommends an increase for fiscal year 1959-60 of $7\frac{1}{2}$ percent, plus an added 5 percent for state college faculties, plus \$875,000 for special salary adjustments. The board states that the cost would be \$20.6 million. However, if these recommendations were adopted, a like increase presumably would be added to University of California salaries and to salaries of statutory and exempt personnel; also retirement contributions would increase for all affected employees. Hence the total cost to the General Fund would approximate \$31.1 million.

While it is true that salary increases for state employees in a time of financial stress should be carefully weighed, it is also true that to hold state employees to existing salary levels in an inflationary period has the effect of requiring them to finance in part the state expenditure program. After full consideration, I have included in the budget provision for a 5 percent increase for salaries of all state employees for the fiscal year 1959-60 at a total cost of $32 million, of which the General Fund will bear $19.3 million.

The California Consumer Price Index at June 15, 1958 (which was the approximate effective date of the recommended 3 percent increase mentioned above) was 126.2; and it is estimated that at June 15, 1959 it will be 128.1; an increase of 1.9 points or 1.5 percent. As a check on these figures, a Personnel Board chart dated October 17, 1958 indicates that state salary levels were approximately equivalent to comparable industry and governmental salary levels at July 1, 1957; between that date and June 15, 1959 it is estimated that the index figure will rise from 121.7 to 128.1, an increase of 6.4 points or 5.2 percent. Assuming that the 3 percent increase recommendation referred to was a sound one, and adjusting it to the index figures, it would appear that a salary increase of from 4.5 percent to 5.2 percent would be equitable for 1959-60.

It is on this basis that I have arrived at the recommended 5 percent increase. I am aware of the fact that the wage statutes of California have eliminated regular use of cost of living data from salary survey studies since 1949. But these are stringent times for state finances. The burden of that stringency should not be permitted to fall unduly on state employees. Nevertheless, in making provision for them in the light of existing conditions, statutory guides for survey studies should not be the exclusive consideration.

I have not included any additional increase for the state college faculties, although of course they will receive the 5 percent increase recommended for all state employees. This should put them on better than a parity basis with similarly situated college personnel in other states. In 1957 state college faculty members received a 10 percent increase while state employees generally got 5 percent, and some university personnel 7 percent. Further preferential treatment for state college faculty members is believed unwarranted at this time.

Water Resources and the Investment Fund. The budget proposes operations of the Department of Water Resources in the total amount of $12.2 million, an increase of $.9 million over the current year. This amount will be financed by $7.1 million from the General Fund and $5.1 million from the Investment Fund. The capital outlay program is budgeted at $52.9 million, of which the Investment Fund will supply $52.8 million. $10 million of this amount has already been appropriated and is available from the current budget year. $4.7 million is for administration and design, leaving $38.1 million in new appropriations for construction.

The anticipated activities and capital outlay programs, and my views and recommendations with respect to dedication of the Investment Fund for water development, have been put before you in a special message, and financial details are contained in the budget. For these reasons further discussion here is unnecessary.

I will only repeat that the orderly and prompt development and distribution of California's water resources is a project of the highest priority for the future of our State.

Other Capital Outlay. The State building program, which has been under way for a number of years, will continue under the proposed budget for total expenditures of $95.5 million. This will be funded by $20.9 million from special funds, $66.2 million from State construction bond issues, and $8.5 million from the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund. The last amount represents a transfer from the General Fund.

Other capital outlay expenditures, all from funds other than the General Fund, include $218 million from the State Highway Fund, $52.9 million for water resource development mostly from the Investment Fund, and $15.6 million from the State Beach and Park Fund. The total in this category is $318 million.

Military and Veterans Affairs. I recommend elimination of the officers' uniform allowance to the extent that it is duplicated by a federal allowance for uniforms. I also recommend discontinuance of State support for the cadet corps program. These changes will save $541,000. I also recommend that the subsidy to veterans' organizations for furnishing claims and rights services to veterans, and the similar subsidy for county veterans service officers, be deleted. There appears to be inadequate justification for continuance of these expenditures by the State in view of federal responsibility and activities in this field. The saving here is $1.1 million.

Public School Apportionment. I am determined, as I said in my inaugural, that California shall have the best public schools in the United States. Toward this goal, I offer two basic recommendations.

First, the improved level of State support at the ADA figure of $193.37, as authorized by the 1957 Legislature, must be continued. Unless legislative action is taken, apportionment aid will automatically return to the $180 formula that was in effect June 30, 1957. The result of this upon our public schools would be tragic. I am, therefore, making a budgetary provision for $76,260,680, the amount necessary to maintain the 1957 formula, adjusted for the larger number of children now in school. Of this amount, $31,171,920 is required to meet the ADA increase at $180, and $42,988,760 is necessary to provide $193.37, the 1957 figure, for the total ADA of 1959-60.

Second, I am recommending an additional $23,453,000 for the express purpose of improving the quality of education beyond that possible under the 1957 figure. Specifically, I recommend that the apportionment figure per unit of average daily attendance be increased by $7.45, or from $193.37 to $200.82.

In its January, 1959, report to the Legislature, the Department of Education directed attention to the increasing ratio of the number of children to our total population and to the higher costs of education for each child. The State must assume its share of these increased financial responsibilities. No activity we support is of greater importance than public education.

In urging this increase, I wish to point out that this is the first time since 1952, and the second time since 1945, that the budget message has contained a specific recommendation by the Governor for an improvement in the apportionment aid formula.

The amount of increase I have recommended is less than that suggested by the Department of Education. This is dictated by the necessity of achieving a proper balance among our many State responsibilities, and also in order to keep a firm limit on tax increases.

I am convinced that we must improve our support of the program for physically and mentally handicapped children. Thus, in principle though not in exact amount, I concur in the Department of Education's recommendation that the State increase its contributions for this purpose. I am recommending $2.49 per ADA unit, which is part of the total increase of $7.45. To sustain the present support level of $193.37, adjusted for the larger number of pupils, and adding the improvement figure I have recommended, will provide a total increase in school apportionment funds of $60.7 million for 1959-60 over 1958-59.

In tabular form, I compare below the increases proposed by the Department of Education and those which I am recommending.

	Proposed Increases *

* These increases are over and above apportionments based upon the present amount per ADA of $193.37 (recommended for continuance both by the Department of Education and in the proposed budget), augmented to include the anticipated increased enrollment for 1959-60.

In explanation of my recommendations, I offer the following analysis:

(1) Basic and Equalization Aid.

(a) My recommendations for changes in the basic and equalization aid funds represent a 5 percent increase, less the adjustments noted in the next two paragraphs.

(b) The levying of additional state taxes for increased allowances to the wealthier districts is not deemed warranted at this time. Accordingly, there is no increase recommended for basic aid. The department's proposal for an increase in this figure from $125 to $130 is not included, reducing the proposed 5 percent increase by approximately $3 million. This $3 million would have gone to those wealthier districts not eligible for equalization aid.

(c) Large state expenditures for adult education must be weighed against the more pressing needs of the school system for additional funds to educate children, particularly in a time when every additional dollar provided by the State must come from a new tax levy. Thus I recommend a reduction in basic and equalization aid for adult education programs of approximately 25 percent or $2.5 million. The effect will be to encourage districts to recoup from fees more of the costs of those adult programs which are not of a truly basic educational character, or to curtail such offerings except to the extent that the district is willing to finance them from local funds.

(2) No increase in the basis of apportionments for the county school service fund is recommended. This fund was intended to take care of the very small inefficient districts, which have been decreasing in number since the fund was established. The fund therefore should be declining instead of growing.

(3) As I mentioned earlier, a substantial increase is included for special education to cover approximately 100 percent of current average excess costs to school districts in educating the physically handicapped and mentally retarded children; the increase amounts to $7.8 million. This involves a reduction in amount as compared with the request of the department. Instead of basing its figure on present costs, the department projected annual increases in costs for the next two years.

(4) The department recommends a decrease in apportionment for growth. The previous apportionment for growth has proved to be too large. This allowance has been adjusted to bring it into conformity with the other allowances I have recommended. There will be a resultant saving of about $1.3 million.

(5) Increased support for driver training programs, and for encouraging districts to lengthen the school year, is not recommended. I cannot accord these items a priority high enough to justify a further tax increase.

The costs of education have taken an increasingly larger share of the General Fund in recent years. This year the growth factor alone will require a significant portion of the new revenues we must develop. Thus, because I must distribute revenues among the many functions and services of the State, I cannot concur in the total recommendations made by the Department of Education.

The years ahead will require greater effort by all to meet the costs of education. Toward the goal of keeping these costs within the limits of our ability to pay, I urge all in the field of public education to make a critical re-examination of methods and offerings. Economies can be achieved through district reorganization and the elimination of small, highly expensive districts.

Improved visual teaching aids and the resources of electronic science can point the way to the wider and more economical distribution of teaching skills. These and other improvements are vitally needed if we are to avoid being overwhelmed by the costs of education. We can, I am convinced, reduce some costs, and those which we cannot reduce we shall recognize as our obligation to the children of California. These we will meet.

University of California. The recommended University appropriation totals $94.3 million. This will enable the Regents to continue the complete University program as contemplated by the budget requests. This figure contains funds based upon existing formulas for the larger student population expected in the next fiscal year, as well as for the gradual shift to a larger proportion of students in the more expensive upper division and graduate courses. Adjustments made in arriving at the total appropriation figure mentioned include: (a) Budgetary savings in 1959-60 (estimated excess of appropriations over actual expenditures) estimated at $2.7 million, and for the current fiscal year at $2 million; (b) A $1.2 million saving representing approximately 16 percent of the cost of the Extension Division heretofore subsidized by state funds. Since none of these courses are given without a fee charge, small fee increases will make the Extension program self-supporting as is presently the case with similar courses given by the state colleges; (c) Increase in nonresident tuition fees from $400 to $500 per year, adding $550,000 to reimbursements; (d) Providing for a contingent fund of $1 million instead of $1.1 million, which would appear reasonable in view of the $1 million contingent fund utilized for the General Fund operations; (e) Eliminating $100,000 requested for nonacademic merit pay increases, as not compatible with state employee compensation practices. All employees and faculty of the University are of course included in the provision for a 5 percent salary increase which I am recommending, at a cost (for the University alone) of $5 million. Provision is made for funds requested for operation of a radio astronomy telescope ($28,000).

State Colleges. I recommend appropriations in the amount of $57.6 million, including funds for an off-campus resident center for teacher education in Imperial Valley ($47,000), and a contingent fund for college presidents' expenses in connection with faculty and student receptions ($15,000). An increase in resident fees from $40 to $50 was recommended by the Department of Education. I recommend that these fees be fixed at $65 per year, thus increasing anticipated reimbursements by $1.2 million. The larger amount is justified on the basis of those special and other services for which fees have been customarily charged, and does not involve any charge in the nature of a tuition for educational purposes. At the same time it is proposed to increase nonresident fees from $180 to $250 per year. The new fee schedule is in line with charges made by similar institutions in other states. With respect to the authorized colleges in Orange and Alameda Counties, funds have been provided for a staff to continue planning only, and the $1.5 million requested to commence operation of these new colleges in rented quarters is not included. In view of the present fiscal situation, temporary deferment of actual opening is proposed until the rollers are prepared to open in their own plants.

Fiscal Affairs. Transfer of certain specialized auditing functions from the State Controller to the Departments of Social Welfare and Public Health respectively will result in additional federal grants to the State of $750,000. Preempting of claims by the Controller in part duplicates accounting work of other agencies; elimination of this duplication will reduce the Controller's budget by 18 positions or $88,000. Improvements in methods and staff assignments in the division of buildings and grounds will reduce the Department of Finance budget by $150,000. Provision is made for 30 additional auditors for the Franchise Tax Board for field audits both in and out of California. I am here assured that this will produce substantial additional tax revenues.

Other Functions. I recommended that administrative costs of the Division of Architecture be transferred to the Architectural Rendering Fund, reducing General Fund expenditures by $194,000. Similarly, it is proposed that the Division of Administrative Procedures reduce from the general fund (specific special fund agencies) the full cost of hearing work performed ($714,000).

EXPENDITURE COMPARISONS

A summary comparison of total State expenditures for the three years ending June 30, 1960, is as follows:

It will be observed that General Fund expenditures are estimated to increase by $150.4 million in 1959-60 over the current 1958-59 year; whereas the increase for 1958-59 over 1957-58 was $42.1 million. Such comparisons can be misleading without an analysis of the major elements that enter into the difference.

Increase in expenditures proposed for Fund Assistance amounts to $101.1 million of the total $150.4-million increase in 1959-60. Over and above increases necessitated by growth, which amount for more than half the increase in this category, are these important elements: (1) the 1959-60 budget includes the recommended increase in the level of school apportionments amounting to $23.5 million (no such increase was made in 1958-59); (ii) in 1959-60 a normal State contribution will have to be made to the Teachers Retirement Fund of $40.2 million, whereas the 1958-59 budget reached into a reserve fund for $20.1 million of that year's contribution with only $14.5 million coming from current funds; this accounts for $25.7 million of the difference; (iii) the increase in the required transfer to the Flood Control Fund in 1959-60 is greater by $12.0 million than in 1958-59.

Comparisons as to expenditures from the General Fund for Capital Outlay for the three years are distorted by the relative use of bond funds (which are not included in the budget totals) in each of the years. In 1957-58 a smaller part of the building program was financed from bond funds with a correspondingly larger part from current funds. For this reason the 1958-59 budget for Capital Outlay shows a reduction in expenditures of $68.7 million which obscures increases in other sections of the budget. This factor accounts for only $7.5 million in comparing 1959-60 with 1958-59.

The real test of a "tight" budget is in the part dealing with State Operations where a much greater portion of the expenditures are subject to budgetary control. General Fund expenditures for State Operations are budgeted to increase by $36.8 million in 1959-60 over 1958-59. The corresponding increase in 1958-59 over the preceding year was $35.9 million. The 1958-59 budget, however, made no provision for salary increases, whereas the 1959-60 budget includes $19.3 million for this purpose. Moreover, the uncontrollable provision for general debt service will increase by $5.3 million in 1959-60 compared to an increase of only $0.8 million in 1958-59.

When consideration is given to the necessity for providing for growth in the State's university, colleges, hospitals, and correctional facilities (in addition to the salary increase and debt service items totaling $24.6 million), it becomes apparent that the 1959-60 budget compares most favorably to its predecessor.

FAIR AND EXPOSITION FUND

The Fair and Exposition Fund is perhaps the outstanding example of the defects and dangers inherent in the special fund method of financing. Large sums of money from taxation, having no logical relationship to the purposes for which they are dedicated, are substantially diverted from the General Fund and are directed to various specific functions designated as "agricultural." These dedications, whatever might have been the case when they were created, today bear no relationship to the needs of the various functions and serve to swell their expenditures beyond actual need in many instances. In addition, they have a definite tendency to inhibit appropriate annual budget scrutiny. Moreover, large sums of state moneys are frozen in "reserve" in the Fund, for no apparent or justifiable purpose. The sheer complexities of the Fair and Exposition Fund are inconsistent with any reasonable concept of understandable fiscal procedure.

I am convinced this fund should be abolished forthwith, and the financing now handled through this Fund be accomplished through the General Fund. Fortunately, this is a matter that the Legislature has plenary power to deal with.

I am not proposing any increase for 1959-60 in appropriations that would otherwise have been made from the Fund had it resulted in expenses during the coming year. To do so would have the effect of doubling my recommendations for abolition of the Fund.

As an integral part of my recommendations for abolition of the Fair and Exposition Fund, I recommend abolition of the Wildlife Restoration Fund which is fed solely by horse racing revenues, and transfer of the functions of the functions of this Fund to the Fish and Game Preservation Fund. I also recommend abolition of the State College Fund which is fed solely from Fair and Exposition Fund moneys and from horse racing revenues, with preservation of the same functions at the same level of expenditure in General Fund Revenue.

Consistent with abolition of the Fair and Exposition Fund and upon the assumption that my recommendations in this regard will be approved by the Legislature, I am proposing an increase in the tax on horse racing revenues as a part of my proposals relating to new revenue sources. This increase will produce net General Fund revenues of $12.4 million.

In addition, adoption of my recommendations concerning abolition of the Fair and Exposition Fund will accomplish a net saving of $4.8 million accumulated in the Fair and Exposition Fund and not allocated or appropriated for any immediate purpose. In addition, there will be an annual saving to the General Fund of the $11,000 which was given to the Wildlife Restoration Fund, making the total 1959-60 benefit to the General Fund $5.6 million.

Other State Funds. There are, of course, many other funds for which accounts are maintained in the State Treasury, about 40 of these are reflected in the budget books of revenues and expenditures. (See Schedule A of the 1958-59 budget.) There has been much discussion, some reported in the press, of the desirability of doing away with the special fund method of financing, and statements have been made that all funds should be abolished. In this connection, I would call the following matters to your attention:

(1) Some of these funds are established by constitutional provision, and so are beyond the power of the legislature to change. Principal ones in this category are the various highway user funds and the Fish and Game Preservation Fund.

(2) Apparent fund balances do not always represent cash in the treasury, as some funds have scheduled asset commitments in reality.

(3) Many funds are created from time charged to a particular business or professional activity and usually committed in support of regulation in the particular field. The courts have imposed a continuing obligation upon the State for support of such regulatory and service functions as were contemplated when the fees were imposed, and this obligation may affect the ability of the State to direct fund balances.

(4) Where funds are used for many of them are for support and control within purposes by the agencies to whose operations they relate, they demand when the General Fund of the necessity of financing such expenditures. If the funds are abolished and their surpluses and income diverted to the General Fund to the extent legally permissible, the recurring benefit to the General Fund will be limited to the amount by which agency expenditures annually are less than the annual income of the respective fund. Furthermore, in a number of instances annual agency expenditures exceed the fund income related to the agency operation, and the General Fund is already "picking up the tab" for the excess, or the fund surplus is being used to provide this amount.

(e) Apparent balances are not always available for diversion, as they may already have been committed by the agency within its authorized powers for specific purposes.

(f) In a not inconsiderable number of cases where an agency is operating through a fund, the fund is used to provide working capital for agency expenditures. For example, fund income may be derived from fees collected on a calendar year basis, whereas the agency operates on a fiscal year basis. In such cases the fund balance may be deceptively large at June 30 of each year because it includes the amount necessary to support agency expenditures between July and December. If balances of this type are diverted to the General Fund, no financial benefit to the General Fund would occur, because the money would have to be kept intact as working capital for subsequent use of the agency.

(g) As I have already pointed out, the large balances that the State accumulated in the past when General Fund revenues exceeded expenditures and which were placed in the so-called "reserve" funds, will have been entirely used up in meeting annual budget deficits by the end of the current fiscal year. The single exception is the Investment Fund, which I am proposing for dedication to the development of our water resources exclusively.

The special funds are so numerous and many of them are so complex in structure that it was impossible for me to present as a part of this budget an acceptable program for overall modification of special fund financing. Only a more thorough study than has been possible in the time available for preparation of this budget can lay the foundation for such a program. It is for this reason that I have confined my recommendations in this area to the Fair and Exposition Fund. If this recommendation is unacceptable, it is hardly to be expected that any general revision of special fund financing can be expected in the foreseeable future.

Reference is made to a special analysis of fund balances which will be found in the introductory section of the budget.

FINANCING THE 1958-59 DEFICIT

The anticipated deficit from the 1958-59 Fiscal Year is now estimated to be $68.4 million on June 30 of this year.

With a deep conviction that fiscal responsibility calls for early payment of our past debts, I have chosen to deal with this deficit.

It is my recommendation that the method of assessment and collection of the insurance gross premiums tax be changed to a self-assessment procedure, so that the proceeds of that tax calculated on premiums for the calendar year 1958 instead of being received by the State in the fall of 1959 will be received in April 1959.

This will produce added revenues for the current fiscal year of $55.6 million, which will be used to reduce the carryover deficit from the current fiscal year from $68.4 million to $12.8 million. It is proposed that this remaining deficit be carried by temporary borrowing during the next fiscal year.

The program that I offer is estimated to erase all but $5.4 million of the 1958-59 deficit by June 30, 1960. Moreover, the economy measures I have already initiated will materially reduce even this carryover.

1959-60 REVENUE PROGRAM

The central problem in this whole massive document we call the budget can be summarized with three figures. The proposed total General Fund expenditure for the next fiscal year, 1959-60, is $1,419.1 million. The estimated General Fund income from presently expected revenues for that same period totals $1,218.0 million. That leaves a shortage of $201.1 million which must be obtained in order to balance income against outgo.

The Constitution enjoins me "to recommend the sources from which the additional revenue shall be provided." I would not have it otherwise. It is the proud responsibility of the chief executive of this State to provide courageous leadership when his tasks are most difficult. I am recommending not only the sources of additional tax money, but the amounts that should be obtained from each so that the budget may be balanced and the tax structure be fair and equitable.

To see I detail these recommendations, I shall discuss briefly the method used in arriving at them.

In the campaign for Governor it was agreed by both candidates that the State faced a fiscal crisis, and that the time had come to face up to the problem of obtaining sufficient revenues to put California back on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Immediately upon my election as Governor I began a study of this State's tax structure. I sought the counsel of leading experts in and out of State Government.

Among these experts, whether economists, tax attorneys, or specialists in governmental finance, I found an amazing degree of general agreement on the makeup of a new tax program for California. I found that it was widely recognized that the income tax, based as it is upon ability to pay, now plays too small a role in California's overall tax program. The income tax as now constituted is not constructed and graduated to reflect adequately the principle which makes it a fair tax.

I am recommending a substantial revision of the California state income tax structure. The revisions can be made—and should be made—so that the family with up to $10,000 in annual income will not be adversely affected, and in many cases will benefit.

The income tax revisions alone, however, will not provide enough revenue to handle our fiscal problem. In making up the difference, we have gone to sources where the present taxes are considerably lower than in other major states or to recognized sources which California has left untapped.

In doing so, we have been careful to keep a reasonable balance between those taxes which place an added burden on industry and those which directly affect the consumer.

The following description of my tax recommendations, will, I think, explain why this is so:

1. Income Tax. I recommend revision of the personal income tax structure to increase revenues by $60.7 million in the next fiscal year. Here are the proposed changes:

a. The tax brackets should be narrowed from $5,000 to $2,500. Under the present system, a man who pays taxes on $10,000 in taxable income pays at about the same rate as a man who pays taxes on $14,999. With this change, the rate would increase at $12,500. At the same time the maximum rate should be increased from 6 percent to 7 percent so that there is a slightly steeper progression through the narrowed brackets.

b. The credit for dependents should be increased from $400 to $600, and the standard deduction from 6 percent to 10 percent. Taken together with the other proposed revisions, this would result in actual lowering of taxes for a married man with two children until his income reaches $10,500 a year. It would also bring this feature of State tax law into conformity with the federal income tax law and simplify preparation of returns.

c. The personal exemption for married couples should be reduced from $3,500 to $3,000, and for single persons from $2,000 to $1,500. This brings the exemptions into a more logical relationship, and broadens the tax base.

d. Capital gains taxation should be changed to conform to the federal law.

It should be noted that the income tax tends to produce increased revenues as the economy expands and to keep pace with the steady inflation that has become a major factor in our economy.

2. Inheritance Tax. I recommend an increase in the rates of the Inheritance Tax on bequests to persons who do not have a close family relationship to the deceased. The rates in Class "C" should go up 25 percent, and in Class "D" 50 percent. Present provisions for credit on payments of federal estate taxes should be eliminated. An estimated $2 million increase in revenue in 1959-60 would result. California's present rates were established in 1935 and there has been no increase since that date. The changes proposed would keep California well within the rate range of states which levy such taxes. The Gift Tax should be similarly modified, although the revenue effects would be minor.

3. Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax. I recommend the following changes in the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax:

a. The rate for general corporations should be increased from 4 to 5½ percent. This compares to such other states as New York with 5½ percent, Oregon 6 percent, Minnesota 7 percent, and Massachusetts 7 percent. It should also be noted that these taxes are deductions against the federal income tax on corporations, and thus carry an offset factor for the corporate taxpayer of approximately 50 percent.

b. There should be a corresponding increase in the maximum rate applicable to financial institutions from 8 percent to 11 percent for the same general reasons.

c. There should be an increase in the minimum annual corporate franchise tax from $25 to $100.

d. There should be a provision permitting accelerated depreciation of assets on the same basis as that in the federal law, once again bringing about federal-state conformity.

Together, these changes would add $33.6 million in revenues in the 1959-60 Fiscal Year. In the first full year in which the effect of these changes would be felt, the over-all increase over present revenues from these taxes would be $58.6 million.

4. Insurance Taxes. Provision for self-assessment and advancing the date of payment of the insurance gross premiums tax, as proposed, would also increase revenue from that source on an accelerated basis in 1959-60, estimated at $5 million.

5. Severance Tax. I recommend a severance tax on petroleum products at the rate of 2 percent of the gross value. California now has a small severance tax which is imposed for conservation and regulation purposes and which produces only token revenues. Most other major oil-producing states obtain major revenues from severance taxes. The 2 percent rate recommended is well below average among the 28 states which now have such taxes, and far less than the 5 percent levied by Oklahoma and the 4.6 percent levied by Texas. This tax would produce an estimated $19.3 million in 1959-60, and an estimated $23.2 million for a full year.

6. Horse Racing. I recommend that the State revise its formula for obtaining revenues from horse racing to increase those revenues by some $12.4 million annually:

a. The gross commission on parimutuel betting should be increased from 13 to 15 percent. The track's share of the gross commission should be decreased by one-half percent on the handle between $50 million and $100 million, and by 1 percent on the handle over $100 million, and there should be a corresponding increase in the State's share.

b. The so-called breakage formula should be changed so that the accumulated amount up to $25,000 would be retained by the track; the accumulated amount between $25,000 and $100,000 would be shared equally between the track and the State; and all amounts over $100,000 would go to the State.

7. Cigarette and Tobacco Tax. I recommend an excise tax on cigarettes at 3 cents per pack, which will produce an estimated $52.9 million in the 1959-60 Fiscal Year and an estimated $60 million for a full year. I also recommend an excise tax on other tobacco products at 15 percent of the wholesale price, estimated to produce $7.1 million in 1959-60, and $8 million for a full year.

California is one of the few states which does not now have a tobacco tax of any kind and the rates proposed are modest in comparison to those levied in many other states.

8. Beer Tax. I recommend that the rate of excise tax on beer be increased from 2 cents per gallon to 7 cents per gallon. It is estimated that this change will produce $9.2 million in 1959-60 and $10 million for a full year.

The State's present beer tax is one of the lowest in the Nation. The increase would leave the California beer tax rate still below that in some states in which prices of beer are at about the same level as in California.

Beer and cigarette taxes often hit the consumer the hardest, but it should be remembered that they are the only new taxes I am proposing which will have such an effect. Moreover, these taxes are levied not on necessities, but on items of personal choice.

In the first full year of impact for these new taxes, the estimated revenue is $256.6 million. Every dollar, I anticipate, will be needed to meet the needs of our booming population—new schools, more teachers, mental hospitals, more correctional institutions, and more of all the essential services rendered by the State. We should return to the principle of financing as much as possible of our capital outlay requirements out of current tax revenue.

Reports ordered filed with the Secretary of the Senate.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS
SACRAMENTO, February 2, 1959

The Honorable Glenn M. Anderson
President of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. ANDERSON: Pursuant to provisions of Section 6028.3 of the Penal Code, I have the honor, in behalf of the State Board of Corrections, to transmit the First Interim Report of the Special Study Commission on Juvenile Justice.

It is evident that the commission has made considerable progress and has pursued its objectives in an organized, well-conceived manner which has resulted in the active participation of local officials throughout the State.

The commission, in its preliminary findings, has already identified several problem areas in the administration of juvenile justice which require carefully conceived solutions. The commission's approach to this important task reflects its awareness of the complexity of issues under study. Their plans to base suggested solutions on a thorough analysis of data, and subsequent review by their advisory committee and leading professional organizations should produce favorable results. In view of the fact that the commission's staff was not assigned until early in 1958, the additional time which the commission requires to complete its responsibilities appears justified and necessary.

We, therefore, wish to join in the commission's request for an extension of time to June 30, 1960, in order that they may complete their study and respectfully urge favorable executive and legislative support of this request.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD A. MCGEE
Chairman, State Board of Corrections

Report ordered filed with the Secretary of the Senate.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Burns asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following statement by Senator Farr regarding Senate Bill No. 378, printed in the Journal:

January 30, 1959

CONCERNING SENATE BILL NO. 378

It has been brought to my attention that whereas the Legislative Counsel's Digest shows that Senate Bill No. 378 is limited in its operation to Monterey County, the bill actually has a statewide effect. As originally prepared and backed for introduction, the bill was limited to Monterey County, but it was decided thereafter that it should be made statewide in operation. Changes were indicated on the bill which was then to be returned to the Legislative Counsel for correction. Unfortunately, the bill was introduced in the Senate by inadvertence prior to being corrected by the Legislative Counsel, thus leaving the erroneous impression that the bill still affected Monterey County only. This statement is inserted in the Senate Journal for the purpose of correcting the record.

CONSIDERATION OF DAILY FILE
THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 40—Relative to the creation of the Joint Legislative Committee on Legislative Reference Library and Research Services.

Resolution read.

Motion to Amend

Senator McCarthy moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1, line 4, of the printed bill, strike out "and Research Facilities".

Amendment read, and adopted.

Resolution ordered printed, and to third reading.

COMMUNICATIONS

SACRAMENTO, February 2, 1959

Hon. Joseph A. Beek

Secretary of the Senate

State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. BEEK: I am pleased to transmit herewith 41 copies of "Report of Board of Consultants to Department of Water Resources on Proposed Bidwell Bar and Oroville Reservoirs for Control and Development of Feather River," dated January, 1959, for distribution to Members of the Senate. This report has been prepared pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4, Chapter 6, Statutes of 1958. In addition, it considers alternative plans of development of the water resources of Feather River as suggested by the Weber Foundation in its several reports to the Assembly Committee on Conservation, Planning and Public Works. The board has also considered features of other possible plans for development suggested some years ago by the United States Bureau of Reclamation which differed from the proposals of the State's authorized Feather River Project and the plan of the Weber Foundation. The board studies 14 plans composed of the various suggested development features either singly or in combination. The board's studies also encompassed possible upstream developments.

The Board of Consulting Engineers, appointed by me on August 11, 1958, was composed of the following outstanding consulting engineers:

PAUL D. BERRIGAN, Brigadier General, United States Army, Retired, had a distinguished career in the development, design, and construction of both civil and military works for a period of 30 years. Among General Berrigan's assignments was a tour of duty as Division Engineer, South Pacific Division, in which capacity he was responsible for a number of the major multipurpose developments in the Central Valley, including Folsom, Pine Flat and Isabella Reservoirs. General Berrigan retired in 1957 and now is a consulting engineer with headquarters in San Francisco.

JOHN A. COTTON is an eminent consulting engineer in the field of water resources, and particularly in the development of power projects and the design and construction of dams. Mr. Cotton is a registered civil, electrical, mechanical, and structural engineer in the State of California. Prior to entering consulting practice he was associated with the Federal Power Commission, in which capacity he was closely connected with a large number of the power projects in California. He has been called upon by various nations throughout the world to assist them in the development of water resources.

SIDNEY T. HARDING, Professor Emeritus of Civil Engineering at the University of California, is one of the outstanding authorities on water supply and use, engineering economics, and project feasibility in the western United States. He served on the faculty at the university for 35 years, during which time he was also consultant for many public agencies concerned with water development. Since his retirement in 1949, he has devoted full time working with such agencies.

The board performed its work independently of the department, but members of the departmental staff were made available to the board to make engineering analyses and computations requested by it. The board met with officials of the United States Bureau of Reclamation, United States Army Engineers, and the Federal Power Commission to obtain from those agencies any information, assistance or advice within the purview of the board's study. The board also discussed the various possible developments with interested local agencies and individuals. The board expresses its appreciation for the excellent co-operation received.

The conclusions and recommendations of the Board of Consultants are:

"CONCLUSIONS"

"The Board concludes that Bidwell Bar Reservoir is not needed for sound water resource development of the Feather River Basin and that the large Oroville Reservoir is economically feasible and is needed for such development.

The Board recognizes that as water needs increase, upstream developments, not now justified can be undertaken to conserve additional water supply in this basin."

"RECOMMENDATIONS"

"The Board recommends that Bidwell Bar Dam and Reservoir not be included in the State's development plans of the Feather River Basin."

I have reviewed the board's report and concur with its conclusions and recommendations.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

Encls.

ADDRESS BY UNITED STATES SENATOR CLAIR ENGLE

MR. PRESIDENT, AND MEMBERS OF THE CALIFORNIA SENATE: It is a great privilege to have this opportunity to appear here today. I recall with real pleasure my service in this body in 1943. I value the association with the Members of the California Legislature. Many of you with whom I served are still here and are still, I am glad to say, my friends.

Our congressional delegation has always had a very close feeling of partnership with the Members of the California Legislature. Almost half of our congressional delegation—thirteen—have served either in the Assembly or in this body. You would be interested to know, I think, that the following present Members of the Congress from California have previously served in the California State Legislature: Senator Kuchel; Congressmen Johnson, Moss, Shelley, George Miller, Gubser, McFall, Hagen, King, Smith, Lipcomb, and Utt. With so many of your alumni in the congressional delegation, we are assured an easy, familiar, and effective working relationship. Our experience in the California Legislature is not only valuable to us in our service in Congress, but it is invaluable to us in handling the many mutual problems which we have.

Our delegation in Congress has always worked as a unit and without regard to partisanship on those projects which are of statewide interest and in which California, as a whole, is beneficially interested. Many of these require the closest type of coordination with the action taken by the California Legislature. For instance, in the field of water development, which is the No. 1 domestic problem of California, we expect to correlate our actions at the federal level very carefully with the water program laid down by Governor Brown and the California Legislature. Senator Kuchel and I have jointly introduced legislation this year to implement major recommendations made by the Governor in his recent Water Message, and I wish to say that from my long experience in the water field I regard the Governor's program as a vigorous and constructive one which will have my fullest co-operation.

In fighting the smog, here again Senator Kuchel and I joined in introducing legislation to extend the Federal Air Pollution Control Law. The federal effort should, in this instance as in the water development program, be carefully correlated with what you are doing here.

These are only two examples. There are many others, such as the federal airport program, the federal highway program, urban redevelopment, unemployment insurance, social security, labor reform legislation, and legislation in a number of other fields in which the action taken by the Congress will have some effect on the action that may be planned or taken by the California Legislature. I think you can count on 100 percent co-operation from the California delegation in making our work most effective for the State in all of these fields.

In addition to these local problems, California has a growing responsibility as a regional and national leader. For many years, the western part of the United States was regarded as the Outer Mongolia of the United States of America. The industrial East has been well organized to take care of its economic and political problems. The southern legislators have long been a cohesive and effective group in the Congress of the United States. And the farm bloc has been an identifiable unit in the so-called Middle West for a long, long time.

Now, the western part of the United States is starting to pull together and do what it can to implement the growing economic and political power—which has come to the Far West and which is mainly centered in California.

We have set up an organization of the western Senators comprising the Senators from the 14 western states. This gives us an organized group of 28 western Senators. Numerically, this is the largest single group in the Senate of the United States that consistently works together and has any semblance of a formal organization. Our western group has already held three meetings—one for organization purposes, at which we elected Senator Murray of Montana as the chairman, and Senator Bible of Nevada as vice chairman. The two subsequent meetings have dealt with natural resource development, generally, and with the water problems of the Far West.

We want to emphasize that this group is not set up in a spirit of any narrow sectionalism. We intend to work together in order to maximize progress and to better organize our regional interests in the development of our economic and our natural resources. From time to time, the West has suffered from economic discrimination. For instance, we have long been the victims of discriminatory freight rates. California itself is under constant attack. Two recent illustrations are the effort to take away the shipbuilding contracts from San Diego, and the announced effort to move aircraft building and maintenance to New York. California will therefore profit greatly by an arrangement to co-ordinate regional interests, because it is the transportation hub, the major population center, and the largest economic factor in the Far West.

It is important to us, too, that we support legislative proposals and other programs that help to develop the natural resources and speed the economic progress of our neighbors. The leadership that California gives as the major state in the West, will largely determine the effectiveness of this new group in the Senate. I know that the California Legislature has established committees to work closely with the legislatures of other states, and that the Council of State Governments in the 11 western states has established a committee on federal-state relationships. I hope that this interchange of information will continue and that there will be a renewed emphasis with reference to our relationships with the state governments in the western part of the United States.

Beyond these local and regional problems, California has come to be recognized as a national leader politically and economically. The major spokesmen of both of our political parties have, in the past, had a major influence on national policies—and will have even more influence in the future. We have a position of growing importance in that respect. As California moves toward becoming the first state of the Union in population, in industry, in agriculture, in defense production, and in the transportation field, we automatically move also to a position of political and economic leadership of the nation. The next decade therefore is a challenging one for all of us. We want to turn in a good performance. It's up to us to prove that California also has the vigor, the imagination, and the leadership to be the No. 1 state of the Union.

REASSEMBLED

At 3.30 p.m., the Senate reconvened.

Hon. Glenn M. Anderson, President of the Senate, presiding.
Chief Assistant Secretary Lachlan M. Richards at the desk.

SACRAMENTO, February 10, 1959

To the Honorable Members of the Senate:

A month ago, my mail on air pollution brought a letter from Los Angeles which has left a deep imprint. The letter began, "I am a girl of 11, almost 12, and I would like to grow up." Quite unmistakably without the aid of her parents, the young lady observed, "The smog here in Los Angeles is so thick that it's pitiful, so thick that we could not tell if we were pink or blue." She concluded by saying, "Since you are Governor, I thought that maybe you could do something about it."

This letter brings the problem of smog into a compelling focus. No responsibility we have is more important than making certain that our children have a chance to grow up. No duty that we perform is more pressing than insuring that the people of our State can live in health and happiness.

People who have suffered the stifling effect of smog need no survey to convince them that it interferes with our health and our happiness. But the statistics are nevertheless significant.

Preliminary figures from the 1958 Survey of the State Department of Public Health show that more than three out of ten adults in this State are bothered by air pollution in their home communities. The survey indicates that in Los Angeles and Orange counties, more than half the adults are plagued by smog. The great majority of those affected reported severe eye or nasal irritation.

An earlier aspect of the same survey indicated that at least 11 percent of the people who moved out of Los Angeles County in the last decade did so because of the smog. The survey showed that about 700,000 people in Los Angeles County alone, and 6 percent of the people in the State as a whole, have given serious thought to moving out of their communities because of air pollution. Smog, the survey indicates, is an important cause of job dissatisfaction, leading to high labor turnover and a significant economic loss.

Our health officials and our doctors are gravely concerned that the eye irritation and immediate discomfort from smog may only be the top of the iceberg. Almost without exception, they fear that the bulk of the injury to our health from smog may be under the surface, temporarily hidden from view.

It is widely believed that in 10 or 20 years, chronic diseases may result from exposure to smog which took place this year.

Disturbing evidence accumulates that air pollution may be a factor in lung cancer. Chemical studies in California and elsewhere have revealed the presence of cancer-producing substances in polluted air. We know now that substances found in the air can cause cancer in animals. Studies have also demonstrated that lung cancer is more frequent and more deadly in cities than in rural areas, and the higher rate of cigarette smoking in cities will not account for all the difference.

There is also a strong suspicion that smog may cause or complicate emphysema, a chronic lung condition impairing the oxygen-exchange between air and blood. In California, deaths from emphysema were nearly four times as high in 1957 as they had been only seven years earlier.

Scientists in England have shown that mortality from chronic lung conditions, including what we call emphysema, are associated with the fog index and that outdoor workers in heavily polluted areas are more severely affected than other workers. Another recent English medical study shows that the "degree of illness" of chronic bronchitis patients increased when air pollution did.

These English studies lead our researchers to suspect that the startling increase in emphysema deaths in California may be attributable to air pollution. Of course, careful investigation will be essential before firm conclusions can be drawn.

These are only examples of the chronic diseases in which air pollution is thought to play a part. Many experienced physicians are firmly convinced that smog is also an insidious influence on patients with heart disease, asthma, allergies, and many other chronic sicknesses.

A recent survey by the Los Angeles County Medical Association dramatizes the deep concern of doctors about the smog problem. Among the doctors who expressed an opinion, 95 percent said they recognized a smog syndrome which has symptoms similar to poisoning from ozone, peroxides, aldehydes and oxides of nitrogen. Eighty-seven percent of the doctors who stated their views, as well as over 80 percent of the cancer specialists, said that they believe that smog is a contributing factor in cancer of the lungs and air passages. Eighty-seven percent of the chest specialists said that smog aggravates lung diseases, and 60 percent said that they had recommended to patients that they move from the area because of the smog. Fifty-six percent of the doctors who expressed themselves, and a much higher percentage of certain specialists, said that they knew of people who left the Los Angeles area because of smog.

Beyond these disquieting facts relating to chronic diseases lurks the ever-present danger that air pollution aggravated by adverse weather conditions may produce a major disaster. While our knowledge about air pollution disasters of the past is far from adequate, we already know enough to be genuinely concerned.

In London in December, 1952, in the midst of a cold heavy fog combined with air pollution, hospital admissions for diseases of the heart and lungs rose sharply and the death rate for a 10-day period was 4,000 higher than the normal. In 1956, a similar episode claimed about 1,000 lives, and again in the last few days, press accounts indicate that a killer-smog has pervaded London. Lethal attacks of air pollution were also reported in the Meuse Valley in Belgium in 1930 and in Poza Rica, Mexico, in 1950.

Here in the United States, a similar disaster occurred in October, 1948, in Donora, Pennsylvania, an industrial town located in a steep valley. Fifteen deaths occurred and two-fifths of the population suffered definite symptoms during a week in which unusual weather conditions caused a concentration of industrial pollutants.

In stressing the health dangers of air pollution, I do not want to minimize the other serious consequences of the smog which hangs over our State. We know that air pollution causes serious crop damage. Our agricultural scientists estimate that smog completely ruins $8,000,000 worth of agricultural products every year in California alone. In the Southern San Joaquin Valley, for instance, there is striking evidence of injury to such major crops as cotton, alfalfa, and grapes.

We also know that smog reduces visibility. This not only mars our scenery but it also endangers people traveling by air and produces accidents and delays on our freeways and highways.

In California, smog is increasingly a statewide menace to our health. While Los Angeles remains the most critical area, smog has invaded the San Francisco area, the San Diego area, the San Joaquin Valley, and the Sacramento area, as well as the counties surrounding Los Angeles. Weather experts believe that every major metropolitan area of the State has a potential smog problem. In general terms, the air pollution problem of other metropolitan areas is now comparable to that which existed in Los Angeles after World War II.

From my study of this problem, I am convinced that we must adopt a new and constructive program to enlist the resources of the State in the fight against air pollution. I have found no magic cure-all for the riddle of smog. I offer you neither nonsense nor nostrums. Instead, I propose that the State take the following pioneering and positive steps.

First. I urge you to enact legislation to require the State Department of Public Health to develop and publish standards for the discharge of pollutants from motor vehicle exhausts by February 1, 1960. California should become the first state to do undertake this vital task.

It is widely recognized that the most urgent control problem is to curb pollutants discharged from vehicle exhausts. Just as we combat water pollution by establishing standards for sewage disposal, so we must fight smog by clamping down on this prime source of noxious gasses and smoke.

Widespread public insistence and effective newspaper work now appear to have spurred the development of an exhaust control device. However, as late as last November, a spokesman of the automobile industry referred to smog as a "mere pinprick" and urged us to avoid emotionalism. If any vestige of this complacency remains, I urge that it be abandoned immediately. Companies which trifle with the public health or scoff at the genuine alarm of the people about smog are certain to regret it in the long run. They will learn to their sorrow that the health of the people is more important than tailfins or chrome.

When the anti-smog devices are developed, the exhaust discharge standards will provide a vital basis for legislation which may be necessary to compel their use. The standards will also provide an essential tool for enforcement officials and the general public to measure the overall effectiveness of the devices. A number of different pollutants apparently flow from the exhausts of cars. We must be certain that the devices offered to the public will not ignore a noxious gas, or increase one as they remove another.

Second. I have instructed the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles to launch an immediate study to determine the most efficient system for the inspection of vehicle exhaust discharges. Periodic inspection apparently will be necessary to insure the efficient operation of any of the proposed devices or methods to remove pollutants from vehicle exhausts. When a workable device is ready, we must be prepared with plans for a sensible inspection system.

Third. I urge you to enact legislation which will require the State Department of Public Health to develop and publish standards for the quality of the air we breathe by February 1, 1960. Years ago, the spread of disease and sickness required health authorities to develop standards for our drinking water. The time has now come for California to take the lead and establish standards for the purity of air.

Standards for safe air will give local control officials and health officers a measuring stick for smog. It is essential that we know what level of pollution threatens death or illness, or impairs the health of our people. Unless we establish these guideposts, we risk our happiness, our health, and, indeed, our lives.

Neither the standards for safe air nor those for vehicle exhausts will be static. They can be refined and improved as we increase our knowledge of the causes and effects of smog. But we now know enough to make an important beginning.

In developing these standards, the State Department of Public Health should have the assistance of its own outstanding Advisory Committee on Air Sanitation as well as air pollution experts from the University of California. It should seek the advice of the United States Public Health Service and other qualified scientific consultants. And public hearings should be held so that there will be opportunity for a full presentation of views on this vital subject. We must be prepared, this year and in the future, to dedicate major resources to the vital work on these standards.

Fourth. I recommend the establishment in Los Angeles of a State-supported Air Pollution Field Unit of the Department of Public Health. This unit would be charged with responsibility for an intensive study of both the acute and the chronic effects of smog. To provide expert guidance for this unit, we must also maintain a strong core staff of chronic disease specialists in the Department of Public Health. I am convinced that we must install a skilled research team in the area of greatest smog concentration and that we must also strengthen the headquarters staff to supervise it.

Fifth. I recommend that funds for contract research on air pollution should be further increased. Research on smog was one of the few items to receive added support in my stringent budget. Weighing the urgency of this problem, I now recommend still more funds for contract research on smog. This would include closed-chamber tests to determine the effects of various quantities of air pollutants on human beings, a statewide survey of the immediate effects of smog on people's health, experiments on the mixture of air pollutants and foglike droplets of water, studies on the resistance of human lungs to the flow of polluted air, and the development of biologic organisms as an index of air pollution. In view of the suspected relationship of smog to chronic diseases as well as our concern about smog disasters, it is plain that we can no longer afford the price of ignorance.

Sixth. I recommend the creation of a regional air pollution control district in the San Joaquin Valley. Weather experts advise us that air conditions in the valley invite dangerous pollution as industry expands there. A regional district, modeled on the bay area district, will provide a practical mechanism for efficient, effective control. If we take prompt action, smog can be curbed before it gains a foothold and threatens the people and crops in this rich area.

In making these recommendations, I have acted on the premise that all levels of government—the county, the State and the Federal Government—have important duties in the fight against smog. I believe our present statutes are basically right in vesting primary responsibility for control and enforcement in the local control districts, or, in some instances, in regional districts. Wide variations in geography, weather, and population-density mark our State. Communities or regions should have freedom to tailor their control and enforcement to local conditions, so long as their conduct does not endanger the health or economy of other communities or regions.

Earlier I sent messages to the President of the United States and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress urging that the United States shoulder its share of the burden. Now in this message I have outlined the obligations which I am convinced must be assumed by the State. The dimensions of this problem plainly require a major effort by all of us.

Air pollution, I would observe in conclusion, stands out as one of the major health problems in our changing environment. It is no excuse for apathy to acknowledge that we cannot promise miracles. We must press forward in the fight against smog with the same dedication, the same diligence, that has brought eventual victory over other threats to our health. Let us resolve that our children will have a full opportunity to grow up and flourish in the clean, clear air of California.

Respectfully,

EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

O God our Father, the Christian world, on this Ash Wednesday, enters into the Lenten season of meditation, self-searching, self-denial, confession, penitence and reflection upon the goodness of their Lord and the evils that sought to destroy him. We would make this a time of honest stocktaking in our personal lives and the life of our Nation. God forbid that we should be found among the self-righteous who impute all the evils of our day to others. "God be merciful unto me" is our personal prayer, and our prayer for the Nation is this: "For frantic boast and foolish word, Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord." AMEN.

WHEREAS, On March 27, 1958, the California Water Commission adopted a set of principles to serve as the basis for a program of water development on a firm, continuing basis; and

WHEREAS, The matter of further exemption from diligence, which under present statutes expires in October, 1959, is currently in issue; so now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the California Water Commission strongly reaffirm its stand that such state filings, made under Section 10500 of the Water Code, be further exempted from due diligence for a minimum period of four years, or longer if such be the judgment of the Legislature. Be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor and the Legislature.

Resolution No. 54

Re: Governor Brown's Water Development Program

WHEREAS, On January 22, 1959, Governor Edmund G. Brown proposed to the Legislature and the people of California a program for the expeditious development of California's water resources to meet the needs of a growing population and economy, and

WHEREAS, The program is based on the principle that the State shall assume the responsibility to provide water when and where needed without regard to specific amounts to specific areas; that the Investment Fund as now constituted and with future accruals be committed to water development; that a general obligation bond issue be placed before the people in 1960; that there be joint federal-state financing and operation of San Luis Reservoir; that federal and local agencies bear their just share of water development; and finally that the Legislature appropriate $38,000,000 for immediate prosecution of the State's program of water development; and

WHEREAS, This program, in the opinion of this commission, is a forward-looking and progressive plan, and is best suited to meet the needs of the entire State; so now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the California Water Commission fully and strongly endorse the state water development program enunciated by Governor Brown; and be it further

Resolved, That this commission most urgently recommends that the Investment Fund, available immediately for the necessary start of state construction and drawn from an irreplaceable natural resource for the development of a vitally important renewable natural resource, be kept intact for the sole purpose of water development by the State; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor and to the Legislature and other interested parties.

STATE BUILDING STANDARDS COMMISSION

Hon. Hugh Burns

President pro Tempore of the Senate

State Capitol Building, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE: Section 18909 of the Health and Safety Code requires that the State Building Standards Commission shall biennially submit a report of its activities together with recommendations for legislation to the Governor and the Legislature. We submit herewith the third biennial report covering the calendar years of 1958 and 1959.

The commission has been hampered in carrying out the intent and purpose of the Building Standards Act by technical and legal provisions of the law. The commission believes that if the intent and purpose of the act is to be accomplished, several amendments will be necessary. This report contains the commission's recommendations with respect to the sections of the act which they feel are in need of amendment and have set forth at the bottom of each amendment the reason for and an explanation of the proposed change.

The commission will be happy to provide any additional information desired.

Sincerely,

JOE R. YOCKERS, Secretary
State Building Standards Commission

I. History

The State Building Standards Commission was created by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in 1953.

The membership consists of seven state officials, which are: the State Architect, the State Fire Marshal, the Director of Public Health, the Director of Social Welfare, the Director of Agriculture, the Director of Industrial Relations, the Director of Mental Hygiene; and six members appointed by the Governor.

The State Building Standards Commission was created after a three year interim study by the Legislature. This interim committee made an exhaustive study and investigation into the entire field of building regulations on a state level, and a study of proposals for corrective legislation to relieve the burden imposed on contractors, owners, architects and the entire building industry by conflicting and duplicate building regulations between state agencies.

II. Commission Activities

Unfortunately the commission had no budget and it was impractical to obtain technical help from the several state departments involved in building regulations. In 1956 the Department of Finance set up a budget in the Department of Public Works for the commission, and since that time progress has been made in carrying out the provisions of the act.

From 1953 to May, 1957, the commission held regular meetings, but having no staff it was unable to accomplish much other than to screen new regulations to determine conflict or duplication.

The statutes creating the State Building Standards Commission provide for the publication of a single code of all building standards that are enforced by state agencies. It further provides that all regulations pertaining to building standards shall first be approved by the commission.

It is the purpose of the act creating the commission to provide the means of eliminating duplication, conflict and overlapping in state building regulations and to provide a single code containing all state building standards.

There are 23 administrative agencies in the State and some 17 of these write and enforce building regulations and standards. There are 10 state statutory code provisions dealing with building regulations and 19 general laws. Therefore, it can readily be seen that the commission faces an enormous task in sifting these rules and regulations for duplication or conflict and consolidating them into a single code.

In 1957 the commission attempted to work through the different departments that have membership in the commission. Finding that ineffective, the Department of Finance was asked to establish a small budget for the commission's operations during 1956 and 1957.

In May of 1957 the commission prevailed upon Harry A. Cobden, a housing and building code engineer, to accept the position of senior code analyst. They directed that his first efforts be the compilation of an index of the present existing rules and regulations having to do with building standards. That index is now complete and only refinement and publication remain.

This year the Attorney General's Office rules that the commission could not publish an index or digest of state building regulations, but that under the statutes was required to publish the entire code of all state agencies' building regulations. As this would bring about more of the sort of chaos that now exists, the commission is attempting to have legislation introduced and enacted to remedy this situation. Such proposed legislation is contained in this report.

The commission held four regular meetings in 1957 and four regular meetings in 1958, and had many special meetings of its screening committee and its coding committee and more recently, their legislative committee.

There presently exist some conflicts, duplication and overlaps among state agency regulations relating to building standards. The commission has been successful in co-ordinating the adoptions of new regulations to eliminate overlapping and conflicts between state agencies, but in no case does the commission attempt to enforce or administer building standards or to make any substantive change in any regulation.

The most difficult problem of the commission is the consolidation of the state building regulations into a single code. In the adoption of regulations by the various state agencies, a different pattern or format has been used by each agency and it is almost impossible to consolidate these regulations into a readily understandable code without rewording and rearranging the various sections. To accomplish this the commission has adopted a standard building code format to guide state agencies in redrafting their building standards in such a manner that they can be consolidated into a single code. Here again the commission feels that some minor changes in the law will be necessary to facilitate this work.

The State Building Standards Commission properly staffed can be of material value to departments in writing building regulations and construction standards. The construction industry, including the professional services such as architects and engineers, can be saved needless frustration and the construction industry will show a great economical gain. In the future agencies writing, administering or enforcing building standards would be able to bring their problems to the commission and the result will be an up-to-date and modern building code that would serve the needs of all state agencies.

A workable program has been established by the commission pursuant to the law and which will fully carry out the intent of the Legislature. The proposed work of the commission is generally believed to be beneficial by the agencies affected and the program will result in a modern and up-to-date code.

The commission hopes that it can write a uniform state code and it goes without saying that such a code would be of enormous value to the whole building industry as well as to the State. Such a code should be a performance code and not a specification code. There are nationally recognized standards and testing procedures for evaluating the performance of most materials, assemblies and mechanical devices used in the building trades. The use of any method or material of construction which is shown by test to meet minimum safety standards of the code would be acceptable. A performance code would encourage the development of better and more economical building materials and should be regularly brought up to date.

The commission hopes that antiquated specification standards can be scrapped in favor of performance standards. The specification code tries to tell builders just what material to use and how to use it, and tends to discourage the development of new and better construction materials and assemblies.

The performance code stresses the goal to be achieved rather than the material to be used and lets the builder do it in his own way. It makes no difference whether he uses one material or another method of construction, as long as he meets the basic requirements of fire protection, structural strength, sanitation and safety.

Only New York State has adopted a full-fledged performance code although a few other states have adopted codes that may be considered performance codes. The New York code was drawn up in 1949 after three years of study by architects, engineers, labor, manufacturers, the National Bureau of Standards and other authoritative groups. In the past nine years more than 250 New York towns and cities have repealed their old specification codes in favor of the new performance code and applications for adoption are still coming into Albany every month.

Now that the various segments of the building trades are on record against featherbedding and antiquated construction methods, it seems that one of the main deterrents has been removed from modern advancement in building construction. The performance code idea is sound, practical and economical. A building code that does not prevent such catastrophies as the recent school fire in Chicago or the Coconut Grove fire in Boston and which does not protect against structural failures under severe earthquake conditions is not a good code. The commission believes that a good performance code might have prevented those tragedies.

Sound building standards are not only desirable, but a necessity if we are to prevent the further growth of slum areas, substandard building and all the depraving conditions that go with it. Disease, fire and crime with all their resultant costs, are a byproduct of substandard building construction standards. Conservation of a structure after it is built is a vital and necessary function of every state building regulation, and adequate building regulations are a primary tool of every state agency charged with enforcing safety standards.

III. Proposed Legislation

After having an opportunity to study and operate under the State Building Standards Act, the commission believes that if it is to serve its intended purpose, several sections of the act must be amended. These amendments are set forth with explanations below.

The Governor's Office has reviewed and approved these amendments for introduction as departmental legislation:

PRINTER'S NOTE—There being no 7-point strikeout type available, the material which should appear in strikeout type in the following amendments is indicated by being enclosed within brackets.

Section 18901 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18901. The commission shall adopt, amend and publish a single code of all administrative regulations of state agencies [defining] relating to building standards, [and] which code may include, amend and publish therein portions of said administrative regulations or of applicable building codes by means of reference [, index or digest, as the commission may direct].

The commission may publish an index and reference guide to the administrative regulations and statutes relating to building standards. The publication of such index and reference guide shall not nullify nor supersede any existing regulation legally adopted by any state agency.

Explanation: This amendment would authorize the publication of an index and guide to present building standards which would serve a very useful purpose pending the writing of a single code. The commission believed that this was possible under the present act but the Attorney General ruled that the adoption and publication of an index and guide might have a legal effect upon existing standards. At the present time there is no complete index or guide to all state building regulations. An amendment is recommended to clarify this point.

Section 18902 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18902. Every state officer and employee authorized by law to adopt any rule or regulation [establishing] relating to or repealing building standards shall do so only through and with the approval of the commission.

Explanation: This is a change that clears up the present section and would require submission of proposals to repeal existing standards as well as those adopting new standards.

Section 18903 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18903. It is the purpose of this act part to provide the means for eliminating duplication, conflict and overlapping in state building regulations and not to substitute the [State Building Standards] commission for the responsibilities now vested by law in various state agencies. To that end each state agency concerned shall continue to prepare such building regulations as it is authorized and finds necessary, but such regulations shall not be effective until approved [and published] by the [State Building Standards] commission.

Explanation: This amendment adds the word "conflict" and takes out the three words "State Building Standards" and leaves just the word "commission." The amendment likewise strikes out the words "and published" in the last sentence thereby eliminating a legal technicality as to the effect of new standards pertaining to building construction.

Section 18904 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18904. The commission may withhold approval and require change in any proposed regulation only if it finds duplication, conflict or overlapping between proposed and existing regulations, or when the nomenclature or arrangement does not conform to that adopted by the commission. The commission shall not require any substantive change [not involving] unless such change is necessary because of duplication, conflict [or], overlapping, nomenclature, or arrangement, nor may it withhold approval on substantive grounds alone. The commission may advise all other state agencies concerned with respect to existing as well as proposed regulations and may make recommendations to eliminate conflicts and to assure consistency and uniformity of all statewide buildings standards.

Explanation: This amendment adds the word "duplication". It also adds "nomenclature" and "arrangement" as a grounds for not approving regulations that come before the commission. Also it gives the commission the authority to advise all other state agencies concerned and may make recommendations designed to assure consistency and uniformity of statewide building standards in existing as well as proposed regulations.

Section 18905 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18905. The responsibility for enforcing or supervising the enforcing of state building regulations shall remain [in departments] as vested by law.

Explanation: This amendment clears up the present section and leaves the intent the same as it was before. In many instances authority is delegated to other than a "department". Striking out the words "in departments" would leave the administration as vested by law.

Section 18906 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18906. [Within six months after the taking effect of this act] The [State Building Standards] commission in co-operation with all [departments] state agencies concerned, shall promulgate and publish a State Building Standards Code which shall, when completed and published, supersede all then existing regulations relating to building standards issued by individual state [departments] agencies. The code may quote or contain references to state laws relating to building standards. Thereafter the commission may approve and publish amendments to the code not oftener than once each 90 days, except that by three-fourth vote of all its members the commission may find that an emergency exists and may then adopt and publish amendments as needed.

Explanation: This amendment takes out the time element which has now expired, and allows the commission to publish an index and guide to existing statutes and state laws relating to building standards. This change will permit immediate publication of an index and guide of present day building standards without affecting their validity. Under the present statutes the Attorney General feels that the commission is without authority to adopt and publish an index and guide, and such adoption may affect the validity of existing standards. Likewise the adoption of one agency's standards might tend to automatically repeal all other state building standards because of the provision of the existing section.

Section 18906.3 of the Health and Safety Code is added to said code, to read:

18906.3. For the purpose of this part the term "building standard" means any adopted state administrative regulation pertaining to the construction, alteration or improvement of a "building" as defined in Section 18906.4.

Explanation: This amendment defines building standards and also where a building regulation can be found and defined. It would exclude regulations that are operational in character and not require that they be included in the Building Standards Code.

Section 18906.4 of the Health and Safety Code is added to said code, to read:

18906.4. For the purpose of this part "building" means any structure as to which state agencies have regulatory power, built for support, shelter, housing or enclosure of persons, animals, chattels, equipment, or property of any kind, and also includes structures wherein things may be grown, made, produced, kept, handled, stored, or disposed of. All appendages, accessories, apparatus, appliances and equipment built in or installed as a part of a building or structure shall be deemed to be a part thereof, but "building" shall not include any tunnel, mine shaft, highway, or bridge, or include any house trailer or vehicle which conforms to the Vehicle Code.

Explanation: This amendment defines a building and excludes certain types of construction which the commission feels the Legislature did not intend to include.

Section 18907 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18907. The members of the [State Building Standards] commission shall serve without compensation. [The necessary technical and clerical assistance for the preparation and publishing of the State Building Standards Code shall be provided by the state departments whose directors are members of the commission and by the Division of Administrative Procedure]. Members of the commission who are not state officers shall be paid actual necessary travel expenses [, to be shared by the state departments represented on the commission. The code and its amendments shall be published by the Division of Administrative Procedure after approval by the Building Standards Commission].

Explanation: This amendment takes out the unnecessary provision in regard to compensation and since the commission now operates under its own budget, there is no further need for reference to other state agencies.

Section 18908 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18908. The State Building Standards Code and all amendments [to it] and publications relating thereto shall be published in suitable loose-leaf form and shall be made available to the public at a reasonable [cost] price. [The State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards shall notify all licensees in affected professions or industries regulated by that department of the availability of the code and of its amendments.] It shall be the duty of each state department concerned and of each city or county to have an up-to-date copy of the code available for public inspection. The code and its amendments shall be published by the Division of Administrative Procedure after approval by the commission.

Explanation: This amendment has to do with publication. This section allows the commission to make a profit on its publication, in other words, pay its way. It relieves the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards from the responsibility of notifying licensees.

Section 18909 as well as Section 18910 and Section 18911 remain the same.

The present handicaps under which the State Building Standards Commission is organized emphasizes the inadequacy of the present law under which it operates. The passage of the proposed legislation submitted herewith will eliminate these obstacles and the commission will be able to carry out the expressed intent of the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

JOE R. YOCKERS, Secretary
State Building Standards Commission

UNITED PRESS ASSOCIATION
SACRAMENTO BUREAU, 217 STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, February 16, 1959

Hon. Hugh M. Burns

President pro Tempore, State Senate

Would you be so kind as to advise the honorable Members of the Senate that "working" newspapermen covering the Capitol once again stand ready, willing and I think able to hand legislators their biennial shellacking in the Fifth Press-Legislature Golf Tournament?

The date for this year's tournament is Sunday, April 19th. The site is Haggin Oaks golf course. A dinner will be held after the tournament. Wives are invited to participate in the tournament and attend the dinner.

For the benefit of new members, competency with a brassie is not a requirement for the tournament. The high gross in the 1957 event was 206 strokes registered by Senator Fred Farr.

In order to arrange starting times and make pairings, we need to know quite early the number of participants. Legislators desiring to play should make reservations with members of the tournament committee—Robert M. Blanchard of the Los Angeles Times, Richard C. Bergholz of the Los Angeles Mirror-News, Don Thomas of the Oakland Tribune, Al Latimer with Senator Arnold, Carl Holmes of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., or the undersigned. Legislative advocates desiring to play should contact Mr. Holmes.

One last word. To assure absolute fairness in the conduct of this great event, the handicapping once again will be done by two impartial and disinterested observers—Blanchard and Anderson.

Sincerely,

JAMES C. ANDERSON

DEAR MR. BEEK: I have the honor to transmit for the information and use of Members of the Senate, 41 copies of Bulletin No. 63, "Sea Water Intrusion in California," and Appendix B thereto. The studies presented in these reports were authorized by Chapter 1500, Statutes of 1951, and Section 229 of the Water Code.

The bulletin discusses the present status of sea water intrusion into coastal ground water basins in the State, describes methods of control, and summarizes relevant experimental work. Preliminary plans for prevention and control of sea water intrusion are presented.

The results of a large-scale experimental project conducted by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District at Manhattan Beach, Los Angeles County, are presented in the Appendix. The objective of this project was to determine the feasibility of preventing and controlling sea water intrusion by creating a pressure ridge in confined aquifers by injection of fresh water through wells.

Additional phases of this investigation, including special studies by the University of California both at Berkeley and Los Angeles, and the United States Geological Survey, will be presented in other appendixes to be published in the near future.

This investigation reveals that intrusion of sea water, induced by long-sustained overdraft conditions, has already damaged some of the State's most important ground water basins. It points up the need for effective measures to correct these present problems and to prevent intrusion into other coastal basins. Unless timely, remedial steps are instituted, extensive and irreparable damage will inevitably result.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, February 16, 1959

*To the President of the Senate,
The Speaker of the Assembly,
Members of the Senate and Assembly, and
The Director of Finance*

The Fairs Classification Committee, established pursuant to Section 92.7 of the Agricultural Code, herewith presents its report and classification of fairs for the year 1958 as required by Section 92.8 of that code.

During 1958, the several fairs reached a new peak in fair and interim use activity, and attracted a new high totals of exhibitors, exhibits and visitors. The fairs accomplished much by way of meeting their responsibilities for expanded service to youth, industry and agriculture. Room for continued improvement remains, however. Progressive fair boards of directors and management constantly strive to better the efficiency and value of their fairs. We believe the people of California can take pride in the results of their efforts.

Data prepared by the Division of Fairs and Expositions, Department of Finance, as well as that gathered by the committee itself, on which our classifications are based, has been retained in our files, and is open to inspection by interested parties.

The committee gratefully acknowledges the co-operation of Mr. A. E. Snider, Chief of the Division of Fairs and Expositions, and also the assistance of Mr. Leroy Sloane, who compiled the voluminous official statistics.

Respectfully submitted,

FAIRS CLASSIFICATION COMMITTEE

Report of Fairs Classification Committee for 1958

1958 a Good Year for Fairs

California's many district and county fairs again demonstrated their value as centers of agricultural and industrial progress, education, recreation, and community activity during 1958. Including interim users, almost 8,000,000 people, the greatest total ever, visited the fairs during the year and benefited from their many exhibits and their other facilities.

The growth in fair activity paralleled the growth of our State as a whole. More than 400,000 entries competed for awards and premiums in the various classes of exhibits. The fairs continued to expand and improve their services and facilities to meet the new challenges of rapidly changing times.

Local Pride Stimulates Fair Activity

Our observations indicate that there is a considerable local pride in the great majority of fairs. No other local or district promotion can generate the interest, community effort, and co-operation between individuals that are required to prepare for a county or district fair. Large groups are needed to plan, gather supplies for, and build community or organizational displays.

Competition between individual exhibitors is very keen. Everyone does his or her best to produce a better product, breed a better animal, or do a better job of canning. Award winners earn, and get, publicity and wider community acceptance as part of the reward for their achievements.

Junior Activities Grow Fastest

Fastest growing departments at every fair are those in the junior division. The 4-H, FFA, FHA and other youth groups are increasing their numbers at enormous rates. All are participating in fair activities. Doing so gives their members the real satisfaction of accomplishing something worthwhile on an individual basis. Their projects, and public acknowledgement of their successes can only result in the development of better adults. It is far better to encourage good citizenship through fairs, to create proper pride in well-directed effort and workmanship, than it is to tolerate problems of juvenile behavior. The thousands of our California youth who participate in fair activities are our greatest assets.

Since the industrial education department was placed on the Master Premium List there has been a great expansion in the type of activities to which our youth could direct their attention. This is especially important in view of the phenomenal growth in industry within our State. Exhibitors from urban areas are now able to take much more active part in fairs. Enlightened fair management is encouraging interest in this department, to better serve more segments of our youthful population.

Many fairs have added a physical fitness program to their schedules. City and county recreation departments, who carry on such programs on a year-round basis, are encouraging the trend, because it enables them to give contestants in their final rounds the publicity and awards which go with outstanding accomplishment at fairs.

Basis for Classification of Fairs

When this committee first began its work in 1956, it established as the basis for its work three classes for fairs, following in this respect the divisions referred to in subsection 92.8(b) of the code. The three were Regional, Special and Sectional. As a result of its first year's experience, the committee developed a fourth class, Regional-Sectional fairs, and used it in its ratings for 1957, and is using it again for 1958.

The committee met several times during the calendar year 1958. It has received a detailed statistical analysis of population, fair attendance, revenues and finance relating to all of the 72 fairs, based upon 1957 operations, from the Division of Fairs and Expositions of the Department of Finance. In addition to this, the committee itself secured certain information on 1958 operations directly from 70 fairs by means of a questionnaire compiled by a subcommittee. Members of the committee also visited most of the fairs during the year, either at fairtime or during the interim, and their personal observations have been used as an additional guide in determining classifications.

Classification of Fairs Cannot Be Exact

The committee wishes to direct attention to the fact that a present classification of fairs cannot be anything like exact. Section 92.8 of the Agricultural Code merely enumerates certain standards which shall be applied, but leaves their definition to discretion of the committee. This has the obvious effect of making committee judgments at least partially subjective. Three years of experience in attempting to develop and apply reasonable standards to the classification process has convinced committee members that very few fairs can be fairly judged by statistics or dollars and cents alone. Many factors influence the operations of every fair. To mention only a few, there is first the area, economic as well as geographic, in which a fair is located; there are changing weather conditions; there may be fires or other disasters; aging plant and equipment have their effect; and competing attractions may cut into attendance.

Classification Standards Used

The committee is convinced that its classifications for 1958 are probably more objective than those for the two preceding years because they are based not only on data for a longer period, but also on types of data which were not available for the first two years. It has been, and will continue to be one of the committee's principal responsibilities to test all data for validity, reliability, objectivity, and uniformity of definition and reporting. There is still much room for improvement in all of these fields. However, we are still of the opinion that it is not now possible to devise an arithmetical or mathematical formula which will enable automatic classification of the several fairs.

Factors taken into account in arriving at classifications for all fairs include:

(a) Attendance, both paid and unpaid, in relation to estimated current population of the area served. The Division of Fairs and Expositions prepared useful graphs to aid in evaluating this factor.

(b) Number of exhibit classes in which entries can be made, total number of entries, and total premiums paid in relation to total entries.

(c) Net operating expense—operating within the budget.

(d) Operating revenues and operating expenditures.

(e) Net revenues related to attendance.

(f) Kinds and numbers of interim uses, and revenues derived from such uses.

Sectional Fairs

Sectional fairs have been defined as those which service primarily the immediate area in which they are located. They offer a considerable number of exhibit departments, but the number of exhibits is generally limited, and most of them are entered by residents of the area. There are, however, marked differences in the operations and efficiency of management between fairs which fit into this category. In recognition of these differences, the committee has divided the class into Sectional Fairs I and Sectional Fairs II.

Twenty-eight fairs have been classified as Sectional Fairs II on the basis of their overall ratings. They are:

4th District, Petaluma
9th District, Eureka
10th District, Yreka
10A District, Tullake
14th District, Watsonville
16th District, Paso Robles
17th District, Grass Valley
18th District, Bishop
20th District, Auburn
21A District, Madera
26th District, Plymouth
28th District, Victorville
30th District, Red Bluff
33d District, Hollister

34th District, Cedarville
36th District, Dixon
42d District, Orland
44th District, Colusa
52d District, Sacramento
El Dorado County Fair, Placerville
Humboldt County Fair, Ferndale
Madera County Fair, Chowchilla
Mendocino County Fair, Booneville
Monterey County Fair, Kings City
Napa County Fair, Calistoga
Placer County Fair, Roseville
Shasta County Fair, McArthur
Trinity County Fair, Hayfork

Twenty-two fairs have been classified as Sectional Fairs I on the basis of their above average overall ratings:

3d District, Chico
7th District, Monterey
12th District, Ukiah
13th District, Yuba City
23d District, Antioch
24th District, Tulare
24A District, Hanford
25th District, Napa
27th District, Anderson
29th District, Sonora
32d District, Costa Mesa

35A District, Mariposa
37th District, Santa Maria
39th District, Angels Camp
40th District, Woodland
41st District, Crescent City
45th District, Imperial 46th District, Hemet
49th District, Lakeport
Butte County Fair, Gridley
Plumas County Fair, Quincy
Solano County Fair, Vallejo

Special Feature Fairs

Special Feature Fairs have been defined as those which service primarily some particular phase of our State's agriculture, horticulture, livestock raising, or industrial activity. Because each such fair has its own special and distinctive operation, it is difficult to arrive at standards by which to classify them fairly and adequately. Generally, they are typified by the facts that they offer only a limited number of exhibit departments, and concentrate their premium awards in one major division. Each such fair must have strong support in its own county or district, but most of them have a drawing power which attracts exhibitors and attendance from a much wider area.

The committee's list of Special Feature Fairs includes the following:

1st District, Oakland
19th District, Santa Barbara
Lassen County Fair, Susanville
Marin County Fair, Ross
Merced County Fair, Los Banos

San Benito County Fair, Hollister
San Francisco County Fair, San Francisco
San Joaquin County Fair, Lodi
San Mateo County Fair, San Mateo

Regional-Sectional Fairs

Regional-Sectional Fairs are defined as those that have management and operation equal to a regional fair, but on a smaller scale. Such a fair must have sufficient types of exhibits to attract the majority of exhibitors and spectators, community interest must be high, and interim use of facilities above average. Paid attendance must exceed 50,000, and exhibits must number 4,700 or more.

A total of 10 fairs have been classified as Regional-Sectional Fairs on the basis of their meeting these standards as well as because of their excellent overall ratings:

2d District, Stockton	50th District, Lancaster
15th District, Bakersfield	51st District, Northridge
31st District, Ventura	Alameda County Fair, Pleasanton
35th District, Merced	Riverside County Fair, Indio
38th District, Turlock	Sonoma County Fair, Santa Rosa

Regional Fairs

For the purposes of determining Regional Fairs, the State was divided into four regions, and it was established that only one such fair could be designated for each region. By definition, such a fair must have paid attendance of at least 100,000, more than 10,000 exhibits, and sufficient interim use to involve year-round use of its facilities.

Again, for 1958 the committee has classed three fairs as regional. The fairs in the San Joaquin, Coastal, and Southern Regions put in the regional class are, we believe, unmistakable in their superior overall ratings as compared to others.

The three are:

- 21st District Fair, Fresno
- 22d District Fair, Del Mar
- Santa Clara County Fair, San Jose

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Christensen:

Senate Resolution No. 37

Relative to the operation of vehicle trailers on the highways

WHEREAS, Whipping and swerving trailers constitute a hazard to persons and property on the highways of this State; and

WHEREAS, Whipping and swerving trailers have been involved in and, in some instances, have been responsible for, accidents involving fatalities and serious injuries; and

WHEREAS, Unladen trailers being towed on the highways are difficult to control; and

WHEREAS, The transporting of trailers upon the truckbed when both vehicles are empty represents an economic saving to truck and trailer owners; and

WHEREAS, The California Highway Patrol and other law enforcement agencies are authorized to make, and have made, arrests for whipping and swerving trailers; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the State of California hereby directs the Commissioner of the Department of the California Highway Patrol to instruct the personnel of the department to emphasize their enforcement efforts with respect to whipping and swerving trailers; and be it further

Resolved, That the commissioner is directed to request trucking operators to load empty trailers on the empty towing vehicle whenever possible; and be it further

By Senator McCarthy:

Relative to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District recently voted to increase the price of commute tickets for users of the Golden Gate Bridge, effective July 1, 1959; and

WHEREAS, This increase will result in the payment by commuters of Marin County, Sonoma County and San Francisco of an extra twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for commute tickets in the next fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, Many residents of Marin County, Sonoma County, and San Francisco must commute daily to and from San Francisco and such an increase will result in a hardship to such persons who are dependent upon this bridge as a means of transportation to and from their places of employment; and

WHEREAS, At the same meeting at which the increase was voted, the board of directors was given a report that the January revenues of the bridge has risen 6.3 percent above those of January, 1958; and

WHEREAS, The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District has on hand over seventeen million dollars ($17,000,000) in reserve funds; and

WHEREAS, In view of the above facts the district should be considering a reduction, rather than an increase, in the price of commute tickets; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District be requested to reconsider the action recently taken increasing the price of commute tickets on the Golden Gate Bridge and to consider the possibility, in view of the increased revenues from the bridge and the large reserve funds held by the district, of reducing the price of commute tickets on the bridge; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Request for Unanimous Consent

Senator McCarthy asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up Senate Resolution No. 38, at this time, for consideration.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 38

Relative to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District recently voted to increase the price of commute tickets for users of the Golden Gate Bridge, effective July 1, 1959; and

WHEREAS, This increase will result in the payment by commuters of Marin County, Sonoma County and San Francisco of an extra twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for commute tickets in the next fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, Many residents of Marin County, Sonoma County and San Francisco must commute daily to and from San Francisco and such an increase will result in a hardship to such persons who are dependent upon this bridge as a means of transportation to and from their places of employment; and

WHEREAS, At the same meeting at which the increase was voted, the board of directors was given a report that the January revenues of the bridge has risen 6.3 percent above those of January, 1958; and

WHEREAS, The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District has on hand over seventeen million dollars ($17,000,000) in reserve funds; and

WHEREAS, In view of the above facts the district should be considering a reduction, rather than an increase, in the price of commute tickets; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District be requested to reconsider the action recently taken increasing the price of commute tickets on the Golden Gate Bridge and to consider the possibility, in view of the increased revenues from the bridge and the large reserve funds held by the district, of reducing the price of commute tickets on the bridge; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Resolution read.

The roll was called, and the resolution adopted by the following vote:

By Senator Teale:

Senate Resolution No. 39

Relative to World War I veterans' pension

WHEREAS, Many thousands of veterans of World War I are in dire circumstances and subjected to the indignity of public charity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Congress of the United States is respectfully memorialized to provide for a World War I pension, and that the Senate recommends to the Congress the program approved by the Legislative Committee of the Veterans of World War I of the United States of America; namely, that such a pension be in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) a month to those veterans of World War I who have attained the age of 62 years and whose annual income is not greater than two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) without dependents, or three thousand eight hundred dollars ($3,800) with dependents, excluding social security or other pensions to which the veteran has contributed; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to prepare and transmit copies of this resolution to the President and Vice President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each Senator and Representative from California in the Congress of the United States.

"SECTION 1. Section 701 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

701. Trailers and Towed Vehicles. (a) When one vehicle is towing another, the drawbar or other connection shall not exceed 15 feet.

(b) The upper and lower halves of every fifth wheel connecting device on any semitrailer and truck-tractor or auxiliary dolly, respectively, shall be securely affixed to such vehicles to prevent shifting of such device on the vehicle to which it is attached.

(c) Locking means shall be provided in every fifth wheel mechanism, including adaptors when used, so that the upper and lower halves may not be separated without the operation of a positive manual release. Automatic locking devices on fifth wheels designed and constructed to be readily separable shall be required on any motor vehicle first required to be registered in this State after January 1, 1954.

(d) Every drawbar and trailer hitch or coupling used as a means of attaching the towed and towing units shall be properly and securely mounted and be structurally adequate for the weight drawn. The mounting of the trailer hitch on the towing motor vehicle shall include sufficient reinforcement or bracing of the frame to provide sufficient strength and rigidity to prevent undue distortion of the frame.

(e) Every towed vehicle shall be coupled to the towing vehicle by means of a safety chain, chains, cables or equivalent devices in addition to the regular trailer hitch or coupling. This requirement shall not apply to a semitrailer having a connecting device composed of a fifth wheel and kingpin assembly, nor to a pole or pipe dolly. No more slack shall be left in safety chains, cables, or equivalent device than shall be necessary to permit proper turning and the safety chains, cables or equivalent device shall be so connected to the towed and towing vehicle and to the drawbar to prevent the drawbar from dropping to the ground if the drawbar fails and shall be of sufficient strength to control the trailer in event of failure of the regular trailer hitch or coupling.

(f) The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to vehicles of a kind specified in Section 39.7 of this code or to the drawbar or other connection between a motor vehicle and a pole or pipe dolly or to any lawful trailer used as a pole or pipe dolly.

(g) No person shall operate a train of vehicles when any trailer, semitrailer or other vehicle being towed whips or swerves from side to side [dangerously or unreasonably] or fails to follow substantially in the path of the towing vehicle.

Sec. 2. Section 759.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

759.5. In any case, involving an accident or otherwise, where any rear component of a train of vehicles fails to follow substantially in the path of the towing vehicle while moving upon a highway, the vehicle shall be presumed to have been operated in violation of Section 701.

Sec. 3. Section 21711 of the Vehicle Code, as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 5, is amended to read:

21711. No person shall operate a train of vehicles when any vehicle being towed whips or swerves from side to side [dangerously or unreasonably] or fails to follow substantially in the path of the towing vehicle.

Sec. 4. Section 41104 is added to the Vehicle Code, as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 5, to read:

41104. In any case, involving an accident or otherwise, where any rear component of a train of vehicles fails to follow substantially in the path of the towing vehicle while moving upon a highway, the vehicle shall be presumed to have been operated in violation of Section 21711.

SEC. 5. Sections 3 and 4 of this act shall become operative only if the Vehicle Code as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 5 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as said code takes effect, at which time Sections 704 and 759.5 of the Vehicle Code enacted in 1935 are repealed."

Help them in their offices, and as they meet here in legislative session. Give to them good health for the physical strains of their office, good judgment for the decisions they must take, wisdom beyond their own and clear understanding for the problems under their consideration. Be always with them in this place, in all things, great or small, so that "small things become great and great things become possible." Direct their lives according to Thy Commandments; sanctify their souls; purify their bodies; set aright their minds and cleanse their thoughts. STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

The Honorable Glenn M. Anderson
President of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. ANDERSON: For the past year the Board of Corrections, pursuant to Section 6027 of the Penal Code, has again been giving the problem of the narcotic traffic careful study. In January of 1959 a report on Narcotics and Hypnotics was made to the Legislature with several recommendations which were subsequently adopted.

Since that date the continued growth of the problem is evidence that alternative methods of control must be considered. This report presents facts hitherto not known concerning offenders in state custody. In addition, the recent recommendations of the Committee on Narcotics, endorsed by the Board of Corrections, February 13, 1959, are included for your consideration.

It is recognized that interim committees of the Legislature have held numerous hearings and that this is a complex problem with diverse viewpoints. The Board of Corrections objective has been to secure and analyze facts which are presented with some recommendations for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD A. MCGEE
Chairman, Board of Corrections

Hon. Hugh Burns

*President pro Tempore, California State Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

HONORABLE AND DEAR SENATOR BURNS: To invoke the Divine aid on officers of our state and local governments and upon the members of the legal profession, there was held in Sacramento last year the traditional Red Mass. The attendance and comments of all concerned were so satisfactory that we have reason to believe that we have laid the foundation of a noble tradition.

This year we will have the Red Mass at the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament, Sacramento, at 4 p.m., on Thursday, April 16th. It will be followed by a banquet at 6:30 p.m., at a local hotel. Invitations to both Mass and banquet will be sent to the individual members of the State Legislature at a later date.

May we kindly request an adjournment of the Senate and of committee meetings on the afternoon of April 16th in order that the members of the Legislature may have an opportunity to attend these functions.

Thanking you in anticipation of your kind co-operation in this matter, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, February 9, 1959

Hon. Joseph A. Beek
Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. BEEK: I have the honor to transmit herewith for the information of the California State Senate Bulletin No. 62 of the Department of Water Resources entitled "Recommended Water Well Construction and Sealing Standards, Mendocino County." This report has been prepared under authority of Section 231 of the Water Code. The investigation was conducted and report prepared by the Division of Resources Planning of the Department of Water Resources.

This report is the first of a series of reports designed to formulate and recommend areal standards of water well construction and sealing in order to adequately protect the waters of the State from quality impairment caused by improperly constructed, defective, or abandoned wells. The recommended standards presented are based on physical conditions and current well construction practices found in Mendocino County.

While there are at present no statewide laws in California setting forth standards for well construction and sealing, the Legislature recognized the need for such standards in the enactment of Chapter 1552, Statutes of 1949, by directing the Department of Water Resources to formulate minimum standards of well construction and procedures for the abandonment of wells. This report is designed to assist those who may undertake to formulate legislation or regulations for control of well construction and sealing practices in Mendocino County.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

of the California State Senate*

MY FRIENDS: It is always a privilege and a happy event when I cross the Sierras to enter Nevada's neighboring State. It is even more of a privilege at this particular time.

How much of your fair State should rightfully be under the banner of battle-born Nevada, and how much of Nevada should be under the protection of the Bear Flag is a moot question, one that has recently been before the public, because it seems that in the earliest days of our state governments our legislatures may not have been as prone as are we now to go into all the details, even when they concern such a vast amount of territory as that now in dispute.

However, the Nataqua Territory dispute can be settled, and settled by clubs, if the Members of the California Legislature see fit to accept the invitation I am about to issue to you. This dispute has now reached such proportions that we, in Nevada, think that it could well be settled by clubs.

In behalf of Nevada, and as the Lieutenant Governor of that state and with full accord of the Senate of that state, it is my pleasure at this time to issue this invitation:

The legislators of Nevada and the legislators of California will meet at Hidden Valley in Reno, Nevada, where there is an attractive clubhouse and golf course, and on March 21st, we will then and there decide the issue with clubs—golf clubs.

To the end that there will be no hard feelings, we, of Nevada, will provide the transportation from Sacramento to Reno and return, the lodging while in Nevada, the entertainment and the necessary refreshments for the California Legislators who wish to make the trip, together with their wives. Furthermore, we agree that they shall be returned to Sacramento sound in mind and body.

To the end that neither the Legislature of Nevada nor the Legislature of California may be charged with expending public funds for such a battle of clubs, the cost of the entire trip, together with the entertainment, food and housing for the group, will be paid by Nevada friends.

This invitation is extended to further cement the friendly relations between the great State of California and the great State of Nevada, and to notify all concerned that a feeling of good fellowship exists between the two great states, and to settle once and for all the reason for the Nataqua Territory dispute, which, after all, was a dispute between the citizens of one section of one state and the citizens of one section of another state.

In holding the Nataqua "Powwow," we will write a new chapter in the relationship between two great states and set an example for the world to follow in the friendly settlement of disputes.

Cordially yours,

REX BELL, Lieutenant Governor

MOTION TO ACCEPT INVITATION

Senator Miller moved that the invitation by the Lieutenant Governor of Nevada be accepted in the same sweet spirit of friendly rivalry as it was extended.

Motion carried.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURAL AND LIVESTOCK PROBLEMS, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
SACRAMENTO, February 24, 1959

To the President of the Senate,

The Speaker of the Assembly,
and other Members of the Senate and Assembly

The Joint Legislative Interim Committee on Agricultural and Livestock Problems, initially created by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 51 (Res. Ch. 141) Regular Session of 1945, reconstituted at succeeding regular sessions and presently functioning pursuant to the provisions of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 123 (Res. Ch. 338) Regular Session of 1957, submits a report in two parts.

Part A of this report consists of data compiled by the Department of Finance, showing detailed cost figures for farm products produced at the several state institutions conducting agricultural operations. These figures are for Fiscal Year 1957-1958. This summary, as indicated by Mr. Robert L. Harkness, Assistant Director, Department of Finance, was prepared pursuant to a recommendation made by the Joint Legislative Interim Committee on Agricultural and Livestock Problems. The committee, in its July 5, 1956, report to the Director of Finance, had recommended that all institutions at which agricultural activities are carried on resume the practice of providing the members of the Northern and Southern California subcommittees with a complete and up-to-date report showing cost figures for all farm products produced in the various institutions.

Part B of this report outlines, in some detail, committee recommendations relating to capital outlay expenditures in the 1958-1959 State Budget for agricultural structures and facilities at the several state institutions. These recommendations are based on suggestions made by the Northern and Southern California subcommittees. These two subcommittees, in 1958, made on-the-spot inspections of farm operations at the several institutions and carefully reviewed all of the items which involved an expenditure of capital outlay moneys for agricultural structures and facilities. This is a practice which was initiated by the late Senator George Hatfield and, through the years, has resulted in the savings to California taxpayers of several hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL L. BYRNE

Letter of transmittal ordered printed in the Journal and the report in the Appendix to the Journal.

MOTION TO PRINT COPIES OF THE REPORT

Senator Byrne moved that 200 copies of the report by the Joint Legislative Committee on Agricultural and Livestock Problems be printed for distribution.

Motion carried.

There is a serious shortage of physical therapists in this State which has caused untold hardships to the people of California. To alleviate this shortage the Legislature has provided that graduates of approved physical therapy schools who have filed an application for registration with the Board of Medical Examiners may practice as physical therapists under specified supervision prior to taking the examination for registration. However, this privilege is limited to an applicant who files with the board prior to the date of the first examination given after he graduates.

This act would delete this limitation and would authorize a person otherwise qualified to practice as a physical therapist during the period between the filing of an application with the board and the next succeeding examination for registration which occurs after such filing. Thus a greater number of qualified persons could immediately begin practicing as physical therapists and the critical shortage of such trained persons would be greatly alleviated."

MEMORANDUM: At the meeting of the council held February 24, 1959, the following report of the State, County and Federal Affairs Committee was adopted:

"The Subcommittee on Bay and Water Pollution of the Assembly Interim Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works, at various meetings throughout the State, has received many presentations and testimonials from interested groups and individuals regarding the changing of present laws pertaining to control of water pollution. Representing the City of Los Angeles, Admiral Cushing Phillips, President of the Board of Public Works, and Mr. Norman Hume of the Bureau of Sanitation, have made presentations to the subcommittee, copies of which are attached to the file. Also attached to the file are reports by Admiral Phillips and Mr. Hume containing recommendations regarding proposed changes in present law now being studied by the subcommittee. The recommendations are summarized as follows:

1. The effectiveness of present water pollution control laws has been conclusively proved and they have produced a great improvement in the condition and protection of the waters of the State.

2. Any major changes in present water pollution control laws would be highly detrimental to the interests of the State and the public.

3. Minor revisions pertaining to technical and administrative details of the present water pollution control laws recommended by the State Water Pollution Control Board would be acceptable providing the basic policy, organization and procedures are not changed.

"Your committee concurs in these recommendations.

"A previous council action referring to reports of the Assembly subcommittee should have referred to reports by city representatives attending the subcommittee hearings.

"Your committee therefore recommends:

1. That council action of February 3, 1959, be rescinded.

2. That the council concur in the recommendations summarized above regarding water pollution control laws and that the State Legislature be so informed.

3. That the Legislature be requested to notify the Board of Public Works of the City of Los Angeles in advance of any proposed legislation or hearings of the Legislature or its committees pertaining to water pollution control laws.

4. That Mr. William H. Neal, Mr. Lewis E. Arnold and other duly authorized representatives of the city at the Legislature be requested to keep the council and the Board of Public Works informed of any proposed legislation pertaining to water pollution control laws."

Respectfully yours,

The Hon. Joseph A. Beek
Secretary of the Senate
Senate Chamber, State Capitol
Sacramento 14, California

DEAR SIR: At the meeting of the council held February 20, 1959, the following resolution was adopted:

"WHEREAS, Small shipyards in the Los Angeles harbor area are, and for years have been seriously affected by a state property tax on ships under construction, particularly government vessels; and

"WHEREAS, This property tax has placed these shipyards under serious competitive disadvantage with shipyards in Texas, Florida, Louisiana, Washington, Oregon, and other maritime states that do not inflict these discriminatory taxes on their shipbuilders; and

"WHEREAS, The threat of this tax has been sufficient to create diversion of government contracts that normally would go to Los Angeles shipbuilders and thereby created serious economic loss to the shipbuilders and widespread unemployment among skilled craftsmen especially trained in the arts of shipbuilding; and

"WHEREAS, Due to lack of shipbuilding in these small yards the maritime counties failed to gain any appreciable tax revenues from this tax while the State as a whole, including the maritime counties, would stand to gain at least 2½ million dollars in added tax revenues by its repeal; and

"WHEREAS, The California economy as a whole would be bolstered by a gain of $200,000,000 in minimum estimated shipbuilding revenues and $45,000,000 minimum estimated payrolls, also as a result of such repeal; and

"WHEREAS, The City of Los Angeles as a result of this increased business would stand to gain greatly in added sales tax and business license revenues; now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Council of the City of Los Angeles hereby grants full endorsement to Assembly Bill No. 81 which is now before the California Legislature and provides that the same exemption already granted from state personal property taxes to ships of 1,000-ton burden and over be extended to small shipyards constructing vessels of 50- to 1,000-ton burden, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Chairman of the Committee on Revenue and Taxation and be made known to all members of the California Legislature representing constituents of the City of Los Angeles."

Very truly yours,

WALTER C. PETERSON, City Clerk
By HENRY P. RIO, Chief Deputy City Clerk

WHEREAS, The capital of California is located in Sacramento and approximately 6,400,000 people representing approximately 15 percent of the State's population, reside in Los Angeles and San Diego Counties alone; and

WHEREAS, 11 out of the 20 Members of the Assembly, and six Members of the Senate reside in portions of Southern California which could receive improved air service to Sacramento via either Los Angeles or San Diego; and

WHEREAS, Legislators require the fastest possible transportation by air because they are frequently required to remain in their home districts during the lengthy legislative sessions; and

WHEREAS, Numerous constituents in Southern California and the San Joaquin Valley require the fast, possible air transportation to Sacramento to look after their interests in the State capital; and

WHEREAS, There is a great deal of travel between Sacramento, on the one hand, and Los Angeles and San Diego, on the other hand, by various state departments; and

WHEREAS, There is but one airline presently serving the Sacramento-Los Angeles-San Diego areas and the needs of the Legislature, the state departments, and other people of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, The competitive trunkline service which has been proposed in the Pacific Southwest Local Service Case would provide four-engine, jet-prop service and thus reduce the present elapsed time between Sacramento and Los Angeles and between Sacramento and San Diego by over 30 percent and improve the present air service; and

WHEREAS, There is also a need for improved local air service to intermediate cities, such as Fresno and Bakersfield; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, As follows:

1. That the Senate strongly urges the Civil Aeronautics Board to authorize competitive trunkline air service between Sacramento, on the one hand, and Los Angeles and San Diego, on the other hand.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Burns, ordered printed in the Journal:

Hon. Rex Bell

Lieutenant Governor of Nevada

DEAR GOVERNOR BELL: Your gracious invitation to me and the Members of the California State Senate was received and accepted in the spirit for which it was intended. We are confident that most of the members are planning to accept your hospitality as well as your suggestion of resolving the Nataqua Territory dispute by swinging clubs—golf clubs, that is.

There is a suspicion here that you may have gravely erred in your choice of weapons, for daily our Senate Chambers are favored by delegations of visiting teenage students who after observing the proceedings almost unanimously depart with the oft heard comment re the members that "they are the swing-est!" There are other comments equally sage, I think, but they are in a lex-con unfamiliar to me. For example, often they refer to us as "cubes."

With supreme confidence that the honorable members of the respective Legislatures of the great States of California and Nevada will utilize their full time and attention during their sojourn at the Hidden Valley Club in lending their wisdom towards resolving the Nataqua Territory dispute may I respectfully offer some information which may be useful during these discussion periods.

It is well known that, historically, there has not been one single recorded instance of a previous challenge to that portion of our common border which commences at the Oregon line and runs south to a point in Lake Tahoe. Thus, it would appear that the respective citizens of both of our great states living adjacent to that portion of our common border deserve to have their fears allayed and be allowed to live secure from the threat of invasion.

The remaining portion of our common boundary known as the "oblique boundary" extends from the aforesaid point in Lake Tahoe in a southeasterly direction to the Colorado River at a point where it intersects the 35th degree of north latitude. This segment was the subject of several surveys starting in 1852. The final boundary line was established by survey completed by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey in 1889.

California accepted this survey as being the correct boundary by its Statutes of 1901, Page 89, and, as a peace-loving state, California now covets none of the land belonging to the citizens of its sister state, Nevada.

Likewise, Californians humbly pray that the citizens of the great State of Nevada will not allow themselves to be inflamed with the spirit of aggression by those few citizens of Nevada who are choosing to ignore the Nevada Statutes of 1903, Page 38, which, inter alia, affirmed and accepted the boundary as being the true one.

As "Chief" of the Senate of California I thank you cordially for your invitation to me and my "Braves" to "Powwow." I know that you will render to them the great hospitality for which Nevada is so justly famous and that they will return to California with renewed spirits of friendship. Further, while I do not question your guarantee "to return our legislators to Sacramento sound in mind and body," I pray that you do, indeed, achieve this miracle in order that many of us may then return and be able to dispute the claims of certain of our constituents to the contrary.

With kindest personal regards,

GLENN M. ANDERSON, Lieutenant Governor

PRAYER

O God, save us, we pray, from the easygoing, freewheeling, superficial optimism that says everything will turn out all right; that nothing can happen to us, so we'll just drift along with the tide. Save us also from gloomy and morbid pessimism; that "as things have been so they remain"; that we are powerless in the clutch of circumstances. Grant us wisdom to look at ourselves and our world as we are, and give us faith to believe that, with Thy help, things can be changed for the better.
AMEN.

Senate Resolution No. 54Relative to the restoration of "Columbia Gazette" printshop

WHEREAS, In the year 1945, the Legislature passed and the Governor signed into law a bill creating a state park in Columbia, California, which was named and designated as the Columbia Historic State Park; and

WHEREAS, The ultimate purpose of the creation of the state park in Columbia was to restore all of the buildings in the community so that future generations would be able to visit and see a California Gold Rush town as it was when the Argonauts were working the creeks and diggings; and

WHEREAS, There is within Columbia Historic State Park a small frame structure that once housed the "Columbia Gazette," one of the earliest of California's newspapers; and

WHEREAS, The "Columbia Gazette" building stands as a symbol of early journalistic enterprise, of the development of the free press in California and of a newspaper which was edited and published for a rough-and-tumble community of miners, who, while seeking gold, likewise sought truth, knowledge and news of contemporary events; and

WHEREAS, The California Newspaper Publishers Association now proposes to reconstruct that historic small frame structure to create a pioneer printshop, complete with early presses and other printing equipment; and

WHEREAS, The Governor of this great State has indicated his enthusiastic support of this worthwhile project; and

WHEREAS, The proposed restoration of the "Columbia Gazette" building will provide a permanent monument and shrine to journalism, to the development of a free press in the State of California and to the memory and accomplishments of those intrepid early-day California newspapermen; and it will provide an opportunity for California citizens, now and in the years to come, to observe in perfect detail and realism a typical pioneer printshop of the Gold Rush period; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That this House approves and commends the project of the California Newspaper Publishers Association to restore the "Columbia Gazette" building and extends to that public-spirited group its best wishes for the early and successful completion of the project; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to Mr. Bert J. Abraham, President of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, and to Mr. Donald I. Segerstrom, chairman of the restoration committee.

Senate Resolution No. 54

Relative to the restoration of "Columbia Gazette" printshop

WHEREAS, In the year 1945, the Legislature passed and the Governor signed into law a bill creating a state park in Columbia, California, which was named and designated as the Columbia Historic State Park; and

WHEREAS, The ultimate purpose of the creation of the state park in Columbia was to restore all of the buildings in the community so that future generations would be able to visit and see a California Gold Rush town as it was when the Argonauts were working the creeks and diggings; and

WHEREAS, There is within Columbia Historic State Park a small frame structure that once housed the "Columbia Gazette," one of the earliest of California's newspapers; and

WHEREAS, The "Columbia Gazette" building stands as a symbol of early journalistic enterprise, of the development of the free press in California and of a newspaper which was edited and published for a rough-and-tumble community of miners, who, while seeking gold, likewise sought truth, knowledge and news of contemporary events; and

WHEREAS, The California Newspaper Publishers Association now proposes to reconstruct that historic small frame structure to create a pioneer print shop, complete with early presses and other printing equipment; and

WHEREAS, The Governor of this great State has indicated his enthusiastic support of this worthwhile project; and

WHEREAS, The proposed restoration of the "Columbia Gazette" building will provide a permanent monument and shrine to journalism, to the development of a free press in the State of California and to the memory and accomplishments of those intrepid early-day California newspapermen; and it will provide an opportunity for California citizens, now and in the years to come, to observe in perfect detail and realism a typical pioneer print shop of the Gold Rush period; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That this House approves and commends the project of the California Newspaper Publishers Association to restore the "Columbia Gazette" building and extends to that public-spirited group its best wishes for the early and successful completion of the project; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to Mr. Bert J. Abraham, President of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, and to Mr. Donald I. Segerstrom, chairman of the restoration committee.

"13480. It is hereby declared to be the finding of the Legislature that the maintenance of the economic well-being of the State of California requires affirmative action to ensure the orderly growth of the State's industry, commerce and agriculture. This finding is based on the demonstrated need to (a) maintain the balance between job opportunities and the labor force; (b) expand through economic development the tax base necessary to support essential governmental services; (c) maintain high standards of personal and business income; and (d) reduce the burden of unemployment relief on state and local governments. It is the intent of the Legislature that the Economic Development Agency created by this act shall provide the leadership and co-ordination of public and private effort necessary to the full realization of the economic potential of the State. The Economic Development Agency shall ordinarily supplement the work of existing agencies, but it may initiate action on its own behalf when the problems posed are not, in the agency's judgment, being adequately solved elsewhere.

13481. Whenever used in this chapter:

(a) "Department" means the Department of Finance.

(b) "Agency" means the Economic Development Agency in the Department of Finance.

(c) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of the Economic Development Agency.

Article 2. Administration

13490. There is in the Department of Finance an Economic Development Agency. The head of the agency shall be the Commissioner of the Economic Development Agency, who shall be appointed by the Governor and hold office at the pleasure of the Governor. The annual salary of the commissioner is provided for by Chapter 6 (commencing at Section 11550) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of this code.

13491. The operations of the commissioner are subject to the same fiscal controls and audits by the Director of Finance as other subdivisions of the Department of Finance. The Director of Finance shall furnish the personnel, equipment, supplies, housing and housekeeping services necessary to the operations of the commissioner.

13492. The commissioner shall serve as the Governor's principal staff adviser on economic development. The commissioner shall be an ex officio member of the Governor's Business Advisory Council.

13493. One or more technical advisory committees may be created by the Governor to advise the commissioner in carrying out his functions under this chapter. The members of such committees shall be appointed by the Governor upon the nomination of the commissioner. In no event shall the total membership of all of such committees exceed 20 members. The members of such committees, to the extent possible, shall be selected on the basis of their knowledge, ability, and interest in the field of industrial and economic development. Such committees shall act in an advisory capacity only and shall have no administrative authority or responsibility. The committee members shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary travel expenses in attending committee meetings.

13494. The commissioner may contract with other state or private agencies, firms, or individuals for the performance of technical or specialized work.

Article 3. General Powers of Agency

13498. The Economic Development Agency is authorized to perform the following functions and activities:

(a) Gather, analyze, and correlate pertinent information as developed by other governmental and private agencies, and publish and disseminate statistics useful to industry, commerce, and agriculture.

(b) Sponsor or conduct studies of factors affecting the development, growth or decline of economic activity in California. Special attention shall be given to those businesses which are suitable for expansion, to those factors which hinder expansion, and to the causes of business failures.

(c) Promote and encourage the location and development of new business in the State as well as the maintenance and expansion of existing businesses, and for those purposes co-operate with public and private entities and others both within and outside the State.

(d) Develop and conduct a positive program of promotion and solicitation designed to supplement and improve local efforts to bring industry, commerce and agriculture to California and to aid in the expansion of existing businesses, through such steps as

(i) Sponsoring or conducting studies of the economic potentials of specific areas, and developing standard techniques and formats for such studies by local organizations.

(ii) Advising local communities in identifying and overcoming their handicaps to economic development, and in realizing full advantage of local resources through various self-help measures.

(e) Aid business concerns in their relationships with appropriate federal agencies such as procurement and lending agencies and the Small Business Administration.

(f) Compile periodically a census of business and industry in the State in co-operation with other agencies.

(g) Prepare and submit to the Governor and the Legislature reports of the activities of the agency and recommendations for such executive or legislative action as may be necessary to improve the business climate of the State."

Amendment read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Governmental Efficiency.

OFFICE OF CITY CLERK
LOS ANGELES, March 9, 1959

*J. A. Beek,
Secretary of the Senate,
Senate Chamber, State Capitol,
Sacramento 14, California*

GRITINGS: At the meeting of the council held March 9, 1959, upon recommendation of the State, County and Federal Affairs Committee, the following motion was adopted:

"I move that the State Legislature be memorialized by the Los Angeles City Council to take adequate steps to insure state legislation to aid and assist in smog control in this city; and

I further move that the proposed legislation include the regulation or prohibition of the sale of automobiles in California after January 1, 1961, unless said automobiles are properly equipped with smog prevention equipment or unless the development of smog control devices permit an earlier date for the enforcement of smog control on all automobiles sold.

I further move that the proposed legislation provide for the control of automobiles from out of State using Los Angeles streets, allowing a visitor's automobile a reasonable time for use here before being required to install smog control equipment; and

I further move that the proposed legislation provide for the equipment of privately owned automobiles already in use on the streets of Los Angeles and that a period of grace of one or two years be allowed before requiring the equipment of older cars with the acceptable smog control equipment; and
